SEVEN U. S. TROOPERS SHOT

SPEED PLANS IN CONGRESS FOR DEFENSE

Program Is to Put Through Army Bill Within the Next Week.

U. S. WEAKNESS SEEN.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—Impressed by increasing evidence of the serious necessity of providing the nation with an adequate army as soon as possible, congress abruptly turned its attention to the pending military legislation today.

The plan of the Democratic and Republican leaders in both houses is to put through the army bill within the next week if possible.

ARMY WEAKNESS SHOWN.

The principal considerations spurring the leaders to immediate action were:

The fact that it required a week to mobilize a force of United States troops, numbering only 5,000 men, on the Mexican border for a bandit chase which involves only elementary military problems.

The fact that the "punitive expedition" against Villa may precipitate a clash with Carranza and force the United States to undertake general armed intervention in Mexico for the establishment of a stable government and the restoration of order throughout the revolution stricken republic.

THE NEED OF DEFENSE.

The difficulty of inaugurating the punitive expedition has convinced most skeptics of the need of national defense that the United States will only court catastrophe unless it speedily organizes and maintains an adequate and efficient military establishment.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S editorial criticizing the senate for ignoring the urgent problem of national defense amid such perils as the republic faces, was read by an overwhelming majority of the members of that body today and proved an important factor in awakening the upper house of congress from its lethargy.

TWO ARMY BILLS READY.

There were two important developments in the situation today.

The senate military committee completed its work on the Chamberlain bill and served notice on the senate that it would report it tomorrow with a motion for immediate consideration.

The house leaders decided to shove all other legislation aside, so as to give the Hay bill the right of way there tomorrow.

The house rules committee voted out a rule making the army bill privileged business. This rule was adopted just before the house adjourned. It limits general debate to ten hours.

Until it learned that the senate committee wanted the senate to pass the Chamberlain measure before the house finished consideration of the Hay bill, the rules committee intended to allow twenty-four hours' debate on the army bill before it was to be taken up for consideration under the five-minute rule.

SENATE HOLDS WHIP HAND.

As the situation now stands, the senate leaders have an excellent opportunity to accomplish their purpose and get their measure over to the house, where it can

Schools to Make "Punitive" Foray on Bandit Novels

LAW BACKS BOARD

Nick Carter and the James boys are due for another skirmish with the so-called long arm of the law. It seems that they are at large again, telling their hair-raising yarns to the youth of Chicago, who should be getting their arithmetic. John W. Eckhart, chairman of the morals survey of the public schools, is out after these adventurous persons.

He made public yesterday a preliminary report on the investigation into the sale of "bandit literature" in the stores surrounding schoolhouses. Albert E. Icely, attorney for the survey committee, has discovered enough city, state, and federal law to give out an opinion to the effect that he believes those who sell "dime novels" and obscene literature may be successfully prosecuted by the board of education.

Buy Bandit Literature.

Mr. Eckhart's committee has purchased a number of volumes of bandit reading sold close to school buildings. The proprietors of the stores have been given a warning. If they continue to sell the literature, according to Mr. Eckhart and W. L. Bodine, who is in charge of the investigation, they will be prosecuted.

The particular volumes on which Mr. Icely made his legal report are "From Clew to Clew," by Nicholas Carter; "Pluck and Luck," which was sold at a number of school stores; and "The Black Traffic in White Girls." The school board's investigators procured also obscene pictures, advertising cards with suggestive reading, toy pistols, pistols that will shoot ammonia, and other articles which, it was contended, exploited vice.

"The greatest of all evils is the bandit literature," said Mr. Bodine. "The stories make heroes of criminals. They indicate that it is easy to escape the police after committing crime.

Many Pictures Bad.

"Many of the pictures we were able to buy at school stores were extremely bold. Some were bad. We had one case where boys had been hired to distribute cards with suggestive literature on one side and an advertisement on the other. We took the cards away from the boys."

"Another source of evil is the bandit moving picture show," said Mr. Eckhart. "For many boys seeking thrills it has taken the place of the 'dime novel.'"

The board hopes to get the assistance of Mayor Thompson in cleaning up the school stores and closing the places which exploit vice. It will go to the mayor and to Chief of Police Healey, with affidavits regarding conditions found.

"BEER FOR WORKINGMAN," SLOGAN OF ONE SUFFRAGIST

Evidence that the suffragists are sadly divided in the Twenty-second ward appeared last night when the Harrison-Sullivan feud was indicated in two meetings.

In one of these, Ald. John H. Bauler served ice cream and declared his following to be the élite of the ward, and in the other meetings Mrs. Augusta Kelly spoke for Victor J. Schaeffer, and proposed that the slogan should be "beer instead of water for the workingman." In support of this idea she quaffed from a large glass.

Ald. Bauler rallied to his platform of "tried and true" and urged his hearers to get him "something on Schaeffer" and he would herald it broadcast.

CHICAGO AERO FIELD DONATED TO U. S. FLIERS

CONGRESS ACT ASKED.

The Aero Club of Illinois last night offered the government a square mile of cleared field within the city limits of Chicago for the location of one of the two western aviation training camps to be established at once. Indications are that Chicago will be selected at once as the central training camp for the aviation branch of the army.

The 640 acres, without a fence, tree, or building, is offered free to the government. It is located in the southwesternmost corner of the city, adjacent to the Ashburn station of the Wabash railroad.

A telegram conveying the offer to the government was sent to Senators Sherman and Lewis and Congressmen Madden and Mann by Charles Dickinson, president, and James S. Stephens, vice president of the Aero club.

DONATE USE OF SITE.

The greater part of the new site was recently acquired by leases, options, and purchases. Because of the new complications with Mexico, the Chicago aero enthusiasts, who have anticipated the needs of the army in this branch of the defense service, in coöperation with THE TRIBUNE, Charles G. Dawes, and others, now invite the government to make free use of the flying fields.

The fields can be utilized as a point of mobilization for civilian fliers of the United States and instructors in wireless telegraphy and other branches of the service attached to the aviation work.

A. B. Lambert, the millionaire aviator of St. Louis, who is vice president of the Aero Club of America and the Navy league, joined hands with the Chicago leaders to get the mobilization camp located in Chicago. Mr. Lambert wired Senator Stone of Missouri.

HERE IS THE OFFER.

The telegram sent to Washington last night by Mr. Dickinson and Mr. Stephens follows:

"The most important thing lacking in the regular army, and especially applied to the militia, is an adequate equipment of aeroplanes and aviators. If we have trouble on large scale in Mexico this branch of military service will prove the most valuable, and without which our troops will be seriously handicapped. Can you not introduce a bill in congress at once authorizing an appropriation of $100,000 for the purpose of mobilizing the civilian flyers at one given point, not only for the mobilization of the aviators, but for the assembling of material and supplies? This will permit a more efficient organization which the signal corps can absorb and distribute to the militia troops.

STATES POWERLESS NOW.

"At present only two states have an aviation detachment. The legislative bodies of most states are not in session and nothing can be done along these lines by the individual states to equip their respective troops. That is our predicament here. There should be an aeroplane for every 200 men sent to Mexico.

"The Aero Club of Illinois now offers to the government the free use of land recently purchased for buildings, located in the center of a 640 acre tract without a fence, building, or tree thereon, within the city limits of Chicago. This 640 acres is available under the ownership, leases, and privileges held by the Aero Club of Illinois. This square mile of land is near the tract used in 1912 for the international Gordon Bennett races and was considered by foreign aviators who used it the finest flying field in the world."

SITE IDEAL, EXPERTS SAY.

Chicago's facilities for such a camp, it was pointed out by Mr. Lambert and the St. Louis enthusiasts, are the best in the inland section of the country, as it has the lake near at hand for instruction in the hydro-aeroplane service.

The central location and the availability of supplies right at hand have been set forth to the Washington authorities. It is understood that the government plans to locate at least two of these training camps west of the Allegheny mountains. The Chicago aviation enthusiasts, who have coupled the sport with its great service to the government in time of military needs, are ready to make it easy for the government to establish the first of these camps immediately.

SEA POLICY STIRS UP THE REICHSTAG

Von Jagow to State Case in Public Speech as Result; Debate Invited.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, via Amsterdam, March 16.—For the first time since the outbreak of the war all is not harmony among the various representations in the reichstag. When the German parliamentary body reconvened yesterday it became evident that there is a strong undercurrent of opposition to the government even among its most loyal supporters hitherto.

As a result of this unprecedented situation the government has deemed it best to lift at last the lid off the discussion of the government's foreign policy, and through the medium of a speech by Foreign Minister Jagow, reviewing and explaining this policy, to invite an open debate.

The speech and debate are scheduled for next Friday.

Two Causes Assigned.

Two interdependent causes are assigned to the sudden discontent. The resignation of Grand Admiral von Tirpitz as minister of marine and the impression caused thereby that the government has completely "surrendered" to the American protests on submarine warfare, which, in turn, is interpreted as meaning that Germany is to be practically deprived of its most effective weapon against the allies.

The correspondent is in a position to state that in setting this date the government counts not solely upon a gradual recession of the present tide of criticism and smouldering opposition but figures that the intervening eight days will see certain developments which will be apt to mollify the critics. The government hopes that by that time the tide of battle at Verdun will have turned favorably.

Links Tirpitz Resignation.

Closely connected with this question is the resignation of Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, officially confirmed yesterday.

The government in confirming Von Tirpitz's resignation hastened yesterday to assure the public that under his successor, Admiral von Capelle, the U boat warfare will be carried on without abatement or modification.

Today the Overseas News Agency, a semi-official establishment, points out that

Nevertheless, the agency points out that "the belief prevails in some quarters that the resignation of Admiral von Tirpitz was connected with Emperor William's decision not to extend submarine warfare beyond the limits announced to neutrals in the German government's memorandum, and not to direct it against neutral ships."

WOMAN TRIES TO DIE AS POLICE AWAIT HER.

Quick Work of Detectives Saves Life of Unwilling Prisoner at Her Own Home.

Mrs. Margaret Denney didn't invite Detective Sergeants O'Malley and Noonan in, although they wiped their feet on the porch mat with ostentation at 6230 Dakin street.

"Just wait until I get my hat and I'll go with you," said Mrs. Denney, and she ran up to the second floor.

"Now, do you think I'll go with you?" she shouted. She waved a bottle at the officers and then put it to her lips. Noonan and O'Malley bracketed four steps at each stride. O'Malley knocked the bottle from the woman's hand. Physicians later succeeded in overcoming the effect of the small quantity of lysol Mrs. Denney had swallowed.

The warrant which the officers held was a disorderly complaint sworn out by George H. Lang of 5242 Dakin street.

SNIPERS RAID COLUMN NEARING VILLA BASE

LATEST NEWS OF MEXICAN WAR.

Columbus, N. M., March 16.—[Special.]—Col. Slocum of the Thirteenth cavalry is reported to have offered $50,000 reward for Gen. Villa's head. The offer is open to any one, Mexican or American. It is declared here that for $50,000, or a less sum, Villa's own comrades would risk their heads to get his. Col. Slocum could afford to pay the $50,000, being a nephew of Mrs. Russell Sage.

El Paso, Tex., March 16.—Sam Hess, an American employed on Corralito's ranch in Chihuahua, reached here today with a story of a hairbreadth escape from Villa bandits after he had watched them murder five Mexicans and carry off a young girl as their prisoner.

San Antonio, Tex., March 16.—[Special.]—"As I am unfamiliar with Mexican territory I hesitate to give an opinion on the Villa campaign," Gen. Funston said. "I imagine, though, it will be an easy matter to catch the bandit chief. The country in Chihuahua and Sonora, where we have reason to believe Villa is hiding, is not nearly so difficult as that of northern Luzon, where Aguinaldo was trapped."

Topeka, Kas., March 16.—Companies G and F of the Twelfth cavalry from Fort Robinson, Neb., passed through here today on their way to the Mexican border.

Denver, Colo., March 16.—[Special.]—Some of the difficulties that face the United States army in its pursuit of Villa were told here today by James H. Cook, who in 1885 was chief scout for the Eighth United States cavalry that crossed into Mexico and captured Geronimo.

"A veritable zone of death will have to be traversed by the American troopers," he said. "They will have to go over some of the worst country in the world. If Villa chooses he can fight as Geronimo and his followers did—go back into the mountains, kill their horses, scatter on foot, and pick our soldiers off one by one from behind rocks. It may take years to get Villa."

"Let me off at the border," he said. "I'm going down to get Villa."

At the Englewood station Stanley was turned over to the police and his seven cents returned.

"I was going to buy a couple of guns with that money," he said, after his father had been notified.

NIGHT CHURCH FOR CHICAGO

The Rev. Myron E. Adams Seeks Loop Location for Venture Backed by Several Pastors.

Chicago is to have a night church.

The Rev. Myron E. Adams, resigned pastor of the First Baptist church, is the chief moving spirit behind the venture. He is looking for a loop location and aims to reach particularly night workers. Social service will be mixed with religion. The church may absorb the midnight mission at 11 East Congress street.

The movement is said to have the support of the Rev. John Timothy Stone, the Rev. M. P. Boynton, the Rev. Charles F. Wishart, and others.

First Fight in the Casas Grandes District Expected Soon.

BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—It was reported tonight that Mexican snipers had fired on Gen. Pershing's forces in Mexico, and that seven American troopers had been wounded. The war department would not confirm the rumors.

[The announcement of the wounding of seven United States troopers also comes through press channels from Columbus via El Paso.]

El Paso, Tex., March 16.—The Seventh and Tenth cavalry, said to be advancing into Mexico by forced marches from Culberson's ranch near Hachita, N. M., were nearing the Villa territory in the Casas Grandes region tonight, according to the most reliable information which could be obtained here.

These troops are reported to be marching with the minimum of equipment and to be led by Mormon scouts from the Mormon colonies at Colonia Dublan and Colonia Morales. From their point of departure the distance is eighty-five miles to Casas Grandes, and the start was made early yesterday morning.

The main column under Gen. John J. Pershing is reported as having penetrated forty miles below the border into Mexico.

FIRST CLASH NEAR?

If Villa intends to offer any organized resistance to his pursuers it might be possible for United States soldiers to come in contact with his outlying posts soon.

The American expedition is penetrating Mexico under ideal weather conditions. The hot season will not be reached for a month or six weeks and if the windmill wells which dot part of the country through which the expedition is passing are not dried up the water supply situation should be relieved. Clear moonlight nights make it possible to see after dark for some distance.

MORMONS ARE SAFE.

Definite information that the Mormon settlements, with their 500 American men, women, and children, were safe and unmolested was brought here today by Daniel Hurst, son of P. H. Hurst, the Mormon bishop resident here. Mr. Hurst brought news understood to be of much military importance, which was forwarded to Gen. Pershing.

Mr. Hurst refused to make public its nature or details.

According to Mr. Hurst, Villa has at most 400 men, some of whom are wounded. He said also that it was not believed in the Mormon colonies that the bandit chief had more than 500 men with him when he raided Columbus.

VILLA DISBANDS MEN?

What the intentions of Villa are remains a profound mystery today. Andres Garcia, the Carranza consul here, asserted today that from information in his possession he was satisfied that Villa had disbanded most of his men and intended to take refuge in the heart of the Sierra Madres with only three or four trusted companions.

"Thousands of men are not wanted to pursue Villa," said Consul Garcia. "He has no intention of fighting any one, but will take refuge in the mountains, which he knows so well. He will be captured, I believe, when a price is put on his head."

AERO HUNTS VILLISTAS.

From censor-ridden Columbus came the word that an aeroplane of the First aero squadron, carrying an observer, had been started to the Mormon settlements. It was for the purpose of learning the positions and disposition of both the Villa bandits and the Carranza soldiers.

Gen. Pershing is concerned over the movements of Carranza's men and desired to have definite information of their exact whereabouts. The planes were expected to bring this and furthermore to reassure the Americans. The flight is possible in three hours or less.

From the same source came indications that Villa's ammunition had run very low at the time of the Columbus raid. Every Mexican who had been shot and died outside of the town was stripped of his cartridge belt by his retreating comrades.

Obregon Backs Carranza?

One subject of much speculation on both sides of the border is the exact meaning of the appointment of Gen. Obregon as Mexican minister of war. Opinion among Americans familiar with Mexico and its politics are sharply divided. One camp insists that Obregon's appointment means that the two Mexican leaders have reconciled their differences and that Obregon intends to give his full support to the first chief.

The other camp, which includes most of those who have a personal acquaintance with Obregon, are equally confident that his appointment indicates that he is gaining the upper hand in governmental affairs, and that a turn distinctly unfavorable to the United States may be looked for shortly in the policy of the de facto government.

In the meantime El Paso and all the rest of the northern and western border continues to see the wild and fantastic rumors which can never be so fantastic as not to gain believers. How most of these rumors start is a mystery, but they are generally credited to Villa sympathizers who wish to provoke trouble for the Carranza government and stir up hostility toward it among Americans.

Add to Border Patrol.

New and powerful army units were rapidly forming today along the Mexican border to fill the gaps left yesterday when the first expeditionary army entered Mexico from two points on the New Mexican line.

In El Paso, Brig. Gen. George Bell Jr., moving in here on the heels of Brig. Gen. J. J. Pershing, who led the first force into Mexico, was busy gathering a new organization and attending to the supply problem, the food, water, and communications for more than 4,000 men, who today were out on a virtual desert rapidly getting farther from their bases.

The Twenty-third infantry from Galveston was pitching its tents at Fort Bliss here. At Columbus, N. M., the Eleventh cavalry from Fort Oglethorpe, arriving during the night, was ready to move into Mexico after the first army, but it was not known here when the Eleventh would go or in which direction. Columbus was today the immediate base for Brig. Gen. Pershing's army.

Identify Dead Mexican.

The body of a Mexican found near the border at Columbus, N. M., yesterday was identified as J. Pereyra, personal representative of the Mexican consulate in El Paso. Pereyra had gone to Columbus prior to Villas' raid with instructions to watch Villa's movements. At the consulate here belief was expressed that Villa's men had captured and killed Pereyra.

Funston Hears from Army.

San Antonio, Tex., March 16.—Somewhere south of New Mexico, perhaps twenty miles, and possibly a greater distance, Gen. Pershing and the divided force he is commanding are encamped tonight. They have had no encounter with Mexicans and their progress into Mexico in search of Francisco Villa and his little army has been uninterrupted, according to the laconic messages received by Gen. Funston.

"Merely plowing their way through the desert sand," were the words of Gen. Funston in summarizing the day's developments.

Gen. Calles, commanding the Mexican troops in Sonora, is reported to have placed at strategic points in the eastern part of that state some 5,000 men to prevent the entry of Villa, and Gen. Luis Gutierrez is supposed to be directing five columns in Chihuahua to prevent the fugitive rebel from making his escape over the trails to the south or east.

Has Wire to Columbus

Gen. Funston today arranged a direct government wire to Columbus, N. M. At the same time it was announced that Gen. Pershing might make frequent trips between the field forces and Columbus. In this way the commander of the expeditionary forces can keep in close touch with the head of the southern department.

It was suggested at Fort Sam Houston that the machines of the First aero squadron be used to enable Gen. Pershing to make swift trips back and forth.

Strict guard is being kept over the government arsenal here. Troops surround it night and day and searchlights play upon the immediate vicinity. It was feared some Villa sympathizer might attempt to blow up the arsenal, which is located in the heart of the city.

Washington in Dark.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—An impenetrable wall of secrecy surrounded tonight the movements of American troops beyond the Mexican border. So far as official Washington was advised, the columns virtually might have vanished into thin air when they crossed the international boundary yesterday in pursuit of Villa. Even the commander-in-chief, President Wilson, did not know where Gen. Pershing's men were.

Officials displayed some concern over the situation in the Tampico district, however, where there are signs of unrest. The battleship Kentucky was ordered back to Vera Cruz from New Orleans, Secretary Daniels explaining that navy vessels now on the Mexican coast did not have radio equipment powerful enough to insure uninterrupted communication with Washington. With the Kentucky at Vera Cruz reports from smaller vessels along the coast can be relayed quickly to Key West and Arlington.

Carranza to Get Credit?

One report is that the Carranza forces in Mexico are to have the credit of capturing Villa "dead or alive," if Villa is captured at all.

Instructions to this effect are believed to have been sent already to Maj. Gen. Funston. In this way, it is stated, it is hoped to bridge over the delicate situation existing between the administration in Washington and Carranza growing out of the decision to send troops into Mexico.

High officials of the government here are authority for the statement that the president would much prefer to have the actual arrest made by the Carranza troops accompanying the Pershing expedition.

Strengthen Border Guard.

Douglas, Ariz., March 16.—With Mexicans here and in Agua Prieta greatly excited over the American entry into Chihuahua, eight troops of the First cavalry were placed near the border line today facing Agua Prieta.

Carranza soldiers mobilized at Cabullona, eighteen miles south of Douglas, were reported to have informed Gov. E. P. Calles of Sonora that he has sold out to the Americans. Messengers from Cabullona stated that the 3,000 troops there had ordered Calles not to visit their camps and were actively entrenching and placing batteries facing northward.

Cabullona is on the line the United States forces would take if an entry into Sonora was ordered.

Calles denied that his soldiers were not loyal to him, but said that if Sonora was "invaded" he would protest.

American arrivals at Nogales late today from Cananea, Mexico, said that while tension in that city has been noticeable recently, no popular resentment against Americans had manifested itself up to this morning. They said they believed that the Carranza garrison there had not been apprised of the dispatch of the American expedition.

Reports yesterday that two American miners had been stoned to death at Puerta Citas, near Cananea, were denied by today's arrivals. It was said, however, that two Mexicans recently were put to death at that place by Carranza troops, presumably as spies.

The mines and smelters were reported working at full force.

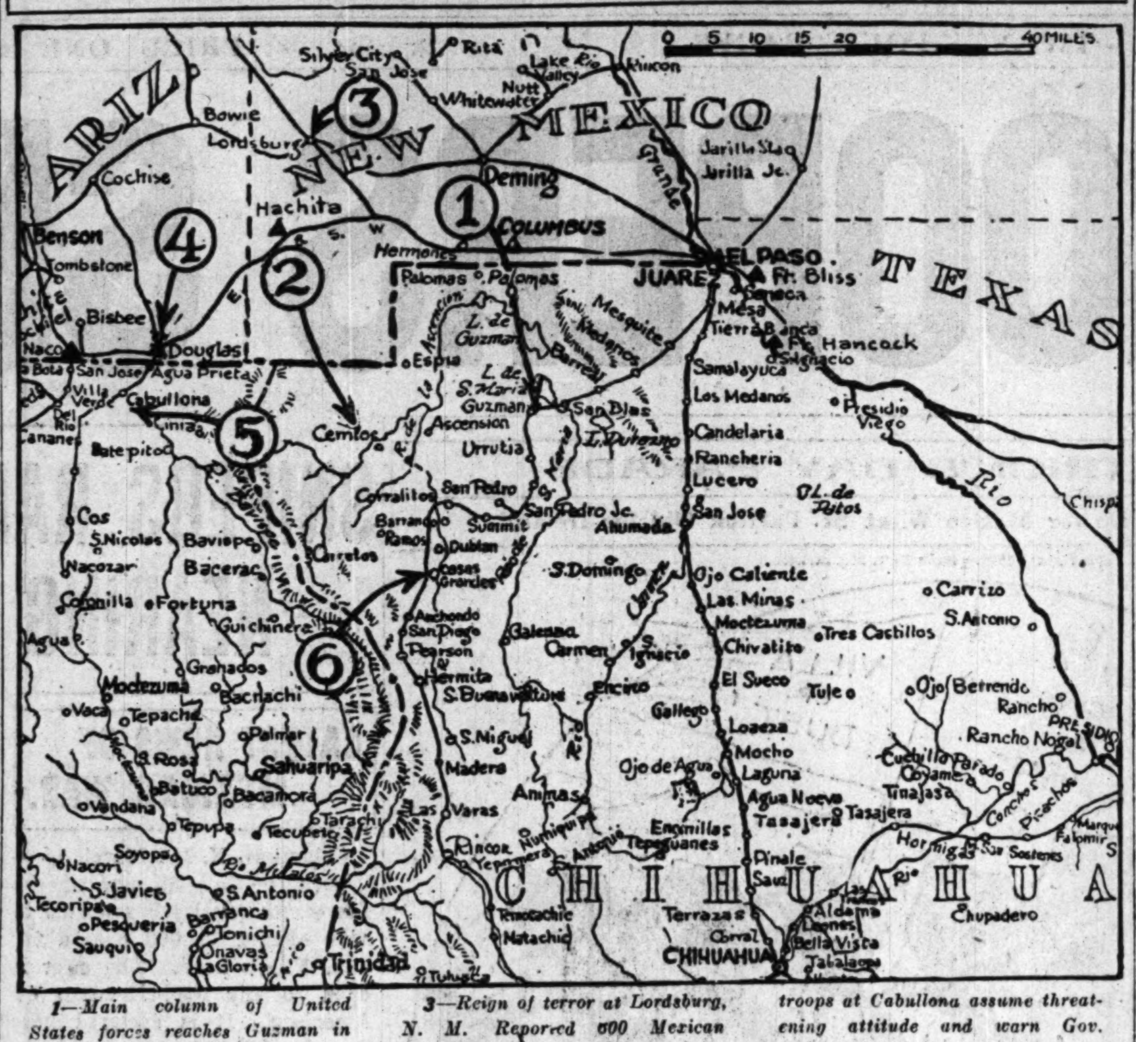
Deny Rojas Is Slain.

Marfa, Tex., March 16.—Reports from Ojinaga Tuesday night that the Carranza garrison there had revolted and killed their commander, Col. Rojas, today were denied in telephone messages from Presidio, Tex., opposite Ojinaga.

Mexicans Unite Near Texas Town.

Del Rio, Tex., March 16.—A detachment of United States cavalry today was sent to Pinto, twenty miles east of here, in response to a telephone call from there telling of the organization of a force of Mexicans across the border from the border town. The Mexican force is reported to be 150 strong, but the purpose of the organization has not been made known.

War Moves on Border and in Mexico.



1—Main column of United States forces reaches Guzman in advance into Chihuahua.

2—Right flanking column of United States troops, under Col. Dodd, making forced march through northwestern Chihuahua to reach Casas Grandes to save 500 Mormons from slaughter by Villa.

3—Reign of terror at Lordsburg, N. M. Reported 600 Mexican miners threaten to loot town and kill Americans. Appeals sent to Silver City for militia.

5—Three thousand Carranza troops at Cabullona assume threatening attitude and warn Gov. Calles of Sonora not to visit camp, as he had sold out to the United States. Reported intrenching and placing batteries facing northward.

Officials Take Exception to Col. Buckingham's Criticism of Illinois Mobilization.

Springfield, Ill., March 16.—[Special.]—Officers of the national guard concerned with the mobilization of the Illinois guard for service in the Spanish-American war were indignant today because of statements attributed to Col. George Buckingham concerning the delay attending the work.

"He says it took two months for the equipment to reach us," said Col. George N. Kreider, "whereas the records show that the last guardsman was out of camp in thirty-eight days after the first troops arrived. His reference to dirty drinking water, too, is ridiculous. While there was much sickness, due to the cold, rainy weather, the hospital reports disclosed onl yone case of typhoid fever among the 10,000 men."

BORDER MILITIA MAY BE CALLED

Troops of Three States Expected to Be Utilized for Patrol Duty.

San Antonio, Tex., March 16.—That the national guard of Texas, Arizona, and New Mexico soon will be ordered to the border by the war department was reliably stated at Fort Sam Houston today. The troops will be used to protect border communities.

Municipal officials of Arizona and New Mexico towns have appealed to Gen. Funston for additional protection, fearing possible local uprisings on the part of the resident Mexicans.

Gen. Funston regards the situation along the border as extremely acute. The situation opposite Douglas is regarded as particularly serious, Gen. Calles and men there being aggressively anti-American, it is reported. Presidio, Tex., opposite which point a Carranza garrison mutinied and assassinated Col. Rojas, the Carranza commander, is another danger spot.

Rush to Join U. S. Army.

Denver, Colo., March 16.—The army recruiting station here announced today that more than 100 applications for enlistment have been received since yesterday. Branch offices have been ordered opened at Pueblo, Trinidad, Colo., and Cheyenne, Wyo.

Texans Eager to Enlist.

Austin, Tex., March 16.—The adjutant general's department is being deluged with applications for the organization of cavalry troops to join in the pursuit of Villa and his band or for border duty, according to Adjt. Gen. Hutchings.

Open Stations in Illinois.

Peoria, Ill., March 16.—Orders to reopen recruiting stations in Bloomington, Decatur, Galesburg, Springfield, and other central Illinois cities were received here today. Recruiting at the Peoria station was unusually heavy yesterday and today.

Collegians Organize Company.

Champaign, Ill., March 16.—[Special.]—Many University of Illinois students met tonight and took steps to organize a company for service in Mexico, if needed.

The board of trustees voted to allow leave of absence and full pay to all faculty members who are connected with Battery F of the Illinois national guard.

Iowa Batteries Recruiting.

Clinton, Ia., March 16.—Maj. Whitley, commander of the First battalion of artillery of the Iowa national guard, today put into execution orders to recruit the artillery to war strength. Recruiting orders were issued to Battery A at Clinton, Battery B, at Davenport, and Battery C at Muscatine.

Adjt. Gen. Logan has offered the field artillery and cavalry to the war department.

Kansas Equipping Militia.

Topeka, Kas., March 16.—Preparations were being made today by officials in the adjutant general's office here for the purchase of 1,500 horses for the use of the Kansas National guard in case a call for mobilization comes from Washington.

State Sanitary Troops Fit.

Appleton, Wis., March 16.—"The sanitary troops connected with the Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Michigan, and Iowa guards are in a far better condition for the field than they were a year ago," said James Phelan, medical corps, U. S. A., who has just completed a tour of inspection of the above states.

VILLISTAS RETURN BABY TO MRS. MAUDE H. WRIGHT.

El Paso, Tex., March 16.—The baby of Mrs. Maude Hawk Wright, which the Villa bandits kept when they captured Mrs. Wright, was returned to her today.

After her husband had been slain at Pachuca, Mexico, before the Columbus raid, Mrs. Wright's baby was literally forced from her arms. But the bandits treated it tenderly and gave it to a Mexican family, which in turn delivered the child into the keeping of some of the Mormon colonists about Casas Grandes.

Gen. Gavira, Carranza general at Jaurez, ordered his official photographer to take a picture of both mother and child, and congratulated Mrs. Wright on the baby's safe arrival.

New U. S. Submarine Launched.

Quincy, Mass., March 16.—The submarine L-10, the fourth submersible to be built for the United States navy by the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation, was launched today. The vessel was 80 per cent completed. Miss Catherine Rush, daughter of Capt. William R. Rush, commandant of the Charlestown navy yard was sponsor.

SHY FIELD GUNS WITH WHICH TO INVADE MEXICO

BY CAPT. HENRY J. REILLY.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—Like everything else connected with our insignificant forces, examination shows us to be lacking in even the small amount of field artillery needed for such forces as we have available for the invasion of Mexico.

In general, infantry cannot stand artillery fire unless supported by artillery of its own. If its own artillery is sufficiently powerful to suppress the enemy's infantry the task of the infantry is not only more certain of accomplishment, but will cost less life.

The poorer the quality of troops the less able they are to stand artillery fire. This means against such troops as the Mexicans that artillery enables its infantry to succeed with little loss.

Like to Fight in Towns.

Mexicans are very fond of fighting in towns because the mud houses of them are generally close together and afford protection from rifle fire. Infantry unsupported by artillery fire would suffer considerable loss in taking these towns. As these houses are easily knocked down by artillery projectiles a proper number of guns is essential if our attacking infantry and cavalry are not to suffer unnecessary loss.

At the present time we have available in the hands of regulars forty-eight 3 inch guns, sixteen 2.95 inch mountain guns, eight 4.7 inch guns, eight 4 inch howitzers, and eight 6 inch howitzers. With the militia divisions we have eighty-six batteries, or 344 3 inch guns.

The Mexicans have fifty 80 milimeter (3.2 inch) guns, 348 75 milimeter (3 inch) guns, thirty 70 milimeter mortars, and sixty 70 milimeter mountain guns. Therefore, should all Mexico join Villa our regulars would have but seventy-two 3 inch and bigger guns to oppose 398 Mexican ones, and sixteen mountain guns to ninety Mexican mounted guns and mortars.

Not Enough for Regulars.

Calling out our national guard batteries would give us a total of 432 guns of all calibers to theirs of 488. We even have not enough artillery for our regulars to give them the 3.11 guns per 1,000 prescribed by regulations. There are eleven and one-third regiments of cavalry available for service on the border, or approximately two cavalry divisions. For them we should have two regiments of horse artillery. We have one regiment of horse and one battalion of mountain artillery. This is a shortage of twelve guns.

The 1913 regiments of infantry available make something over two infantry divisions. For two divisions we should have four regiments of field artillery. We have one. This is a shortage of seventy-two guns. The twelve national guard divisions in the country are short fifty-eight batteries, or 232 guns.

Short 316 Guns.

Thus we are short 316 guns of the number necessary to give, not the whole regular army, but those available for service in Mexico and the national guard, the proportion of guns determined upon prior to the European war.

The Twelfth division, to which the national guard of Illinois and Indiana belong, is short three batteries, or twelve guns; the Eleventh division, to which Michigan and Ohio belong, twelve batteries, or thirty-six guns; the Thirteenth division, to which North and South Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin belong, two batteries, or eight guns, and the Fourteenth division, to which Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri belong, six batteries, or thirty-six guns.

Every battery of artillery is supposed to have twelve caissons for ammunition, and every regiment a caisson battery of twenty-four caissons. Many of the national guard batteries have only eight caissons, and no regiment of artillery, either regular or national guard, has the caissons for an ammunition battery. Furthermore, the majority of the extra caissons are not in existence. Including the national guard artillery, we have on hand about 700 rounds per gun. Provided the private concerns now making ammunition for the allies changed to making our shells, we would have an ample output in a short time.

The proportion of 3.11 guns per thousand rifles was determined upon prior to the present European war, when Germany had a proportion of 6.1, Austro-Hungary 3.4, France 4.66, Russia 3.3, Italy 4.0, and Great Britain 4.2. Since the war the proportion has probably gone well above six in all the countries engaged. Of course, our troops, should they really have to invade Mexico, are not going to meet European troops.

Would Avert Loss of Troops.

However, the greater the fire power of our artillery the sooner the Mexican artillery will be overcome, the sooner their infantry will be driven out of their positions, and the less the loss of life among our own troops.

In the last Mexican war the artillery, which was muzzle loading, and of course nothing like as effective as modern artillery, exercised a decisive effect in more than one engagement. Our infantry suffered heavily during the street fighting when Monterey was taken, and probably would not have succeeded had it not been for the artillery. The regular batteries at Buena Vista, by their splendid conduct and effective fire, turned what threatened to be a defeat into a decisive victory in which 4,600 Americans defeated 23,000 Mexicans.

BY JOHN F. BARRY.

I stood in the foyer of the Teatro Principal in Mexico City one night. It was the intermission. The place was packed with men—no self-respecting Mexican woman ventured to theaters in those times. The famous Spanish dancer, La Conesa, was at her best that night. Every one about me was talking and laughing light heartedly; there was plenty of light everywhere; music filtered through from all sides, the crowd good naturedly jostled one another; all was life and color. Could it be true, I asked myself, that only a few days before there had been fighting in the streets a few blocks from the theater, between the outgoing Zapatistas and the incoming Obregonistas—or, as they called themselves, "Carranzistas"? Could it be true that there really was such a thing as a revolution in full swing!

My attention was attracted by a group of five men who stood near me. Four were officers of the Obregonista forces, the fifth was a swarthy civilian, undeniably handsome. I immediately "placed" the civilian as a licenciado; it is strange how soon one learns to pick out a Mexican lawyer.

Open Plotting.

The military men were obviously trying to persuade the civilian to do something, but he only shook his head. The leading officer, a tall chap in a well fitting khaki uniform, exactly on the same pattern as the U. S. A., was talking eagerly, with lightning rapidity, his eyebrows, shoulders, and expressive hands were raised and lowered alternately.

They spoke in entirely unguarded accents. There was no attempt at concealment or secrecy of any kind, so I couldn't help overhearing what they were arguing about as I drew near the group.

The tall, boyish looking officer was—I learned later—chief of staff to Gen. Obregon, who had occupied the capital in the name of the first chief of the Constitutionalist army, Gen. Venustiano Carranza, only a few days previous.

Experts in Profanity.

I strained my ears to catch what they were discussing. I could tell that it was something out of the common that made the chief of staff so anxious to hook the lawyer. Yes, I frankly confess it, I eavesdropped.

"Ay, ay! But, to tell the truth, I don't care much for that viejo with the beard, Carranza," the civilian was saying, his whole expression and attitude eloquent of the most profound dislike.

"Carranza!" replied the chief of staff, with a string of profane language—and cielǃ the Spanish language can be profane in the hands of an expert—"Carranza! What do we care about that old whiskered fool? Be off with you! We are not Carranzistas! We are Obregonistas, señor, partidarios of the biggest man in Mexico today." He finished with a short laugh.

The other soldiers joined in the laugh, which sounded like a jeer; all shrugged their shoulders and smiled at the name of Carranza, deprecatingly. "You join Obregon," they insisted, "and your fortune will be made."

Chief on Sufferance Only.

The incident happened at a time when Villa was a bigger man than he is today, at a time when there was more cohesion in the Carranzista ranks than there is today in view of the fact that they were kept together by a common danger—Pancho Villa.

"If it was like that in the green wood. . . .!"

I give this as an illustration of the esteem in which the first chief (sic) is held by his men. Every man who knows aught of Mexico or Mexican affairs knows that Carranza's power over his subordinates is nil. He is first chief on sufferance only The moment that Obregon decides that he (Obregon) should be first chief, Carranza will be dead and buried politically—if not de facto.

And that day is not far distant.

Carranza and Villa.

Carranza lacks the fundamental qualities for leadership of the Mexican revolutionaries—he is incapable of inspiring them with fear. Villa has this necessary attribute—and he will always be able to win men to his side. It matters nothing to the average Mexican revolutionist that Villa is a cold blooded murderer, an eminently undesirable citizen—in fact, they like him all the more for it; it requires "sand" to be a murderer on the Villa scale.

The attack of the Villistas on the sleeping town of Columbus will be viewed by the rank and file of the revolutionists as a magnificent thing—epic, in fact. They are already, in their secret hearts, regretting that they are not under such a man instead of an "old, bewhiskered fool" (I quote) like Carranza.

Want Whack at Americans.

It is the height of folly to shut our eyes to the facts. The Obregonistas, or the Gutierristas, or the Blanquistas, or Zapatistas, or the Gonzalistas do not want American troops to mix up in an affair that is primarily a Mexican one and so much to their liking. The American will say they are after Villa only. The fact that American troops—gringos—are after Pancho will win every man to his side.

The farther south that Villa retreats the more adherents will he gather to him; the very smallness of the American force will bring him recruits in thousands. The job will look so easy that every man of the revolutionary army will want to have a whack at the invaders.

U. S DESTROYER OFF MEXICO

San Diego, Cal., March 16.—The United States destroyer Stewart arrived at Ensenada, Lower California, today. The entire peninsula was quiet, according to telegraphic advices received here from Ensenada. The Stewart was sent to Ensenada, it is understood, to investigate reports of danger to 100 Americans there from a possible revolt of the garrison under Estaban Cantus, Carranza governor of Lower California.

U. S. BULLETS FOR CARRANZA FORCE AIDING PERSHING

Douglas Customs House Releases 300,000 Rounds; Hope to Catch Villa First.

Douglas, Ariz., March 16.—Three hundred thousand rounds of rifle ammunition, first shipment of a consignment of 700,000 rounds, will be delivered tomorrow to Gen. P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, by the local customs officials.

The cartridges are to be used by the detachment of Carranza soldiers led by Col. Dato Campbell, former commander of the Mexican garrison at Agua Prieta, in aiding United States troops to capture Francisco Villa and his bandits.

The ammunition, which has been held up here by customs officials since Sunday, was released late today by orders from Washington. This action in aiding the de facto troops to obtain the cartridges, it was declared by Ives Lelevier, Mexican consul here, would be of material benefit in assuring many residents of Sonora that the United States intended no aggresive action against the Mexican government.

Confidence in Carranza Regime.

"It proves," he added, "that the American government has confidence in the intention of the Mexican government to coöperate with the United States soldiers in pursuing the bandits of Villa. Many Mexicans have believed that the ammunition would be held up indefinitely."

According to Mr. Lelevier, the remainder of the ammunition purchased by the de facto government should reach Douglas within a day or two by express.

It is to be sent immediately upon arrival to the Carranza troops operating in eastern Sonora to cut off Villa's retreat in that direction.

Villa Stirs Up Unrest.

Reports here of alleged resentment of Mexicans of the invasion of their territory by American soldiers apparently emanated from Villa and other sources antagonistic to Carranza on this side of the border. One report saying Gen. Alvaro Obregon had been assassinated was traced to this source.

Gen. P. E. Calles received a message from Col. Dato Campbell today saying he was making all possible haste to get to Ojitas Pass with his column of 500 cavalry, in order to prevent Villa entering Sonora. It was said here that Villa might try to use that pass in order to raid El Tigre and renew his supply of food.

Hopes to Catch Villa First.

El Paso, Tex., March 16.—Gen. Bertani, the Carranza leader, was today placed in command of the Galeana district, a move calculated to insure Carranza coöperation with the United States forces.

Gen. Bertani, whose troops evacuated Palomas prior to the entry of the Americans, was on cordial terms with Brig.-Gen. Pershing. The Mexican general said, however:

"I hope to eliminate Villa before the American expedition arrives at Casas Grandes. I believe my forces can capture Villa without outside assistance."

It was stated at the headquarters of Gen. Gavira, Carranza commander at Juarez, that no information has been received of any Carranza troops having joined the American expedition.

TWO MEN TELL OF SEEING VILLA AND HIS PLANS.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 15.—The stories of two men who have seen Villa recently were told here today.

Gen. P. E. Calles, military governor of Sonora, Mexico, reported officially to Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war, that he had captured a prisoner who revealed Villa's plans and whereabouts in detail.

The man was captured at Dos Cabezos and was in the attack on Columbus, Calles said, and added:

"He informed me that Villa, after the attack, went to the Corralitos ranch, where he murdered seven cowboys because they refused to give him horses. From Corralitos he went to Chocoate, where he stopped on the 13th. From there he went direct to Galeana."

C. E. Tracy, an employé of the El Tigre Mining company, arrived with the report that he saw Villa and 300 followers at Colonia Dublan on Tuesday. Tracy heard that Villa planned first to go to Casas Grandes, where the American Mormon colonists are located and later to Sonora state.

London Post Accuses "Sinn Fein" Organization—Says Jury Trials Don't Avail.

LONDON, March 16.—The Post publishes a long article in regard to what it characterizes as the serious situation in Ireland because of activity on the part of the Sinn Fein society. It says:

"From motives of patriotism English newspapers hitherto have refrained from commenting on the situation in Ireland, but it is developing with such rapidity and gravity that silence is no longer possible.

"Through the south and west a vigorous organized campaign against recruiting is being carried out without serious hindrance. Within a few weeks several persons have been indicted and tried in Dublin, but in every case they were acquitted by the jury amid tumultuous applause from those in the courtroom.

"All these trials took place before ordinary juries and we await with impatience the time when the authorities will utilize their powers to have such cases tried before special juries or military tribunals."

IRISH PLEDGE LOYALTY.

LIVERPOOL, March 16.—The Irish Nationalists, celebrating the eve of St. Patrick's day under the chairmanship of T. P. O'Connor, today passed a resolution saying the Irish will "give full support to the allies in defense of the cause of freedom, democracy, and the small nations and the civilization of the world." Mr. O'Connor announced that 250,000 Irishmen had joined the army.

EX-CHICAGOAN, RANCHMAN, FINDS DEATH SIGN ON DOOR.

Dr. C. C. Young, Who Moved to Texas, Discovers Symbol and Mexican Flag Painted on House.

El Paso, Tex., March 16.—Dr. Charles C. Young, formerly surgeon at the Cook county, Ill., hospital, reported here today that the Mexican flag above a sign of death had been painted on the door of his ranch house at Belen, Tex., seventeen miles southeast of here, last night.

Dr. Young said he had started an investigation to find out if similar signs had been painted on the doors of other Americans in his neighborhood, as he believed the work might have been done by a "junta" who were marking certain Americans for death at the hands of raiders from Mexico.

For the last two nights, he said, trains passing through Belen have been fired upon from the shelter of the underbrush along the border. He added that there were a number of Mexicans in the vicinity of Belen who were bitterly hostile to Americans. Two applications have been made by the residents to Washington for military protection.

U. S. OFFICER KILLS HIMSELF

San Antonio, Tex., March 16.—Word was received at southern department headquarters from Houston of the suicide of First Lieut. Edward M. Zell of the Eleventh cavalry at Columbus, N. M., early on Thursday. Lieut. Zell's regiment was a part of Gen. Pershing's command. Melancholia is given as the cause.

Lieut. Zell was famous at West Point as an athlete.

U. S. CONSUL FROM TORREON REACHES LINE IN BOXCAR.

Eighty-six Americans, Including Several Women, with Williams in Flight.

Laredo, Tex., March 16.—Traveling the entire distance in boxcars, Consul C. A. Williams and eighty-six other Americans arrived late today from Torreon, Mex. Eleven Americans joined the party at Monterey.

There were a number of American women in the party, including Mrs. Williams. Consul Williams said he would remain at Laredo or near the Mexican border pending instructions from the state department. He refused to discuss his leaving Mexico.

THOUSAND SEEK TO ENTER ARMY FOR VILLA HUNT

Lieut. Kenney Reminds Single Men of Duty to Country in Recruiting Campaign.

More than 1,000 would-be soldiers in the United States regular army applied to recruiting officers in the Chicago district during the two days just following the announcement from Washington that 30,000 would be added to the army. This information was given out last night by Lieut. Franklin R. Kenney, in charge of recruiting for the district.

Not only that, but many more are expected, and Lieut. Kenney has begun an energetic campaign to remind single men of the duties they owe their country to protect it against the ravages of border bandits. New posters, got out late Wednesday under the direction of Lieut. Kenney, were scattered broadcast throughout the city yesterday. The recruiting officer also announced he had been informed by Britton I. Budd, president of the elevated railroads, that posters might be placed on all L cars and also on the platforms.

Eighty Recruits Leave.

Forty recruits left Chicago Wednesday night for the army training camp at Jefferson Barracks, and a like number left last night for the same destination. This number, army men said, by no means represented the proportion of recruits accepted from applicants. A majority of the men passed during the rush of the last two days, officers declared, had certain business and personal affairs to attend to before they left and were allowed time to look after these matters.

At Fort Sheridan troopers of the Fifth cavalry went back to drill. This work was suspended several days ago when orders were received by Lieut. Col. D. L. Tate, commanding officer, to hold his men in readiness for immediate departure to the border. There was an air of dismay about the fort when the commanding officer issued his orders, for the men were hoping to leave for the border in short order.

Horses for Artillery.

Illinois field artillery has been assigned horses by the war department. Harness and wagons have been available for some time. The only shortage now apparent is in machine gun equipment, of which only the First regiment, I. N. G., has sufficient. Frank S. Dickson, adjutant general of the Illinois national guard, is in Washington conferring with Secretary of War Baker regarding machine guns and aerial equipment.

At Evanston the Ridgeville Rifle club offered to Northwestern university students use of the club range at Maple avenue and Clark street in case a gun club is organized within the institution. The students plan an indoor range in the Patten gymnasium.

Finds Second Regiment Fit.

The annual inspection of the Chicago regiments of the Illinois national guard was completed last night by Capt. Raymond Sheldon, U. S. A., who attended the drill of the Third battalion, Second regiment, I. N. G., at the new armory, Madison street and Washtenaw avenue. The regiment is in command of Col. John J. Garrity.

"If more troops are needed in Mexico or on the border, the Chicago regiments of the national guard are ready for service," Capt. Sheldon said at the close of the inspection. "The men of this regiment are in remarkably good shape, especially considering the fact that they were without an armory and unable to drill for two months. The men could be got off to the border in short order, and whatever supplies they lack for field service could be shipped from army storehouses in St. Louis to meet them at the line. Finishing touches could be put on the troops while they were on the line."

The present strength of the regiment, according to Capt. John P. Scheying, adjutant, is 772 enlisted men and 56 officers. Additional recruits are pouring in and the companies are being recruited up to war strength.

BORDER TRAFFIC GOES ON.

San Francisco, Cal., March 16.—Officials of the Southern Pacific railroad announced today that traffic over their lines through southern Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona had not been interfered with by the disturbing conditions along the border.

MADDEN 'KEYNOTE' SPEECH CITES TRIBUNE EDITORIAL.

Argument for Intervention Read in House—Address to Be Republican Campaign Document.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—During a speech in which he arraigned the Democratic administration Representative Madden of Chicago today read to the house of representatives the editorial which appeared in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE last Friday demanding intervention in Mexico.

The editorial recited the events which had led up to the Villa massacre at Columbus, N. M., and placed the blame for that massacre, as well as the killing of hundreds of other Americans in Mexico and in the United States by Mexicans, squarely on the shoulders of the administration.

Mr. Madden's speech is intended to be circulated over the country as one of the campaign documents of the Republican party. Mr. Madden did not elaborate on the editorial, as he stated that further comment was unnecessary.

LODGE BLAMES PRESIDENT FOR TROUBLES IN MEXICO.

Says United States Found Conditions Bad and Adopts Plan Making Them Worse.

Lynn, Mass., March 16—The administration at Washington was severely criticized tonight by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge in an address during which he announced himself a candidate for reëlection. He spoke before the Lynn Republican club.

"In my opinion," he said, "with the exception of the administration of Buchanan, there has been no administration in power which has been so injurious to the United States, both at home and abroad, as that now in control at Washington."

Senator Lodge said the plans for national defense suggested by President Wilson "proved on analysis to be partly shams and wholly inadequate."

"The responsibility for the conditions in Mexico rests largely on the government of the United States," he continued. "The present administration found Mexico and Mexican relations in bad condition. They have made these bad conditions infinitely worse."

ARMORED MOTOR BATTERY FOR N. Y. NATIONAL GUARD.

Equipment for Train Will Cost More than $100,000—Construction Along European Lines.

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—The first armored motor battery to be organized in the United States will be mustered into the New York National guard Saturday night at the armory of the Twenty-second engineers.

The equipment for the battery, built like those on European battlefields, will cost more than $100,000. The funds were given for the purpose by Elbert H. Gary, Henry C. Frick, James M. Wallace, Dudley Olcott II., Col. William F. Thompson, and Lieut. Harry G. Montgomery, who will command the outfit.

There will be eight or ten cars in the battery, with chasses built of thick armor plate steel, armed with revolving machine guns and propelled by high powered motors capable of driving the heavy trucks at great speed.

Chicago Trooper Recovering.

El Paso, Tex., March 16.—[Special.]—Corp. Michael Barmazel of Chicago, the trooper of the Thirteenth cavalry who was wounded in the battle of Columbus last Thursday, is recovering and was able to walk around the post hospital this morning.

SUITS TO TEST PRIMARY LAWS PUT UNDER WAY

Three Attacks Prepared by Various Political Camps of State and City.

Theodore Roosevelt, United States senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, and Ald. John N. Kimball of the Seventh ward—all more or less as accessories before the fact—are threatening the constitutionality of the Illinois primary laws.

Legal preparations are in the making in at least three distinct political camps and possibly a fourth, to make a drive on the Illinois Supreme court at its April term, the object being to knock out the presidential and general primary acts, on the ground of unconstitutionality.

Roosevelt Course Questioned

Theodore Roosevelt's right, as a nonresident of the state, to cause Secretary of State Lewis G. Stevenson to kill nominating petitions of candidates for Republican and Progressive national convention delegates, simply because these candidates were pledged to the nomination of the colonel, will be on leine of attack.

Senator Sherman's right to disavow candidates for Republican convention delegates, thereby eliminating such candidates from the April 11 ballot, will be another.

Kimball's Complaint.

Ald. Kimball's legal batteries will be unlimbered in an assault on that provision of the primary laws that compels voters to state openly their party allegiance as a preliminary to participation in a direct primary. This is a result of the charge by Frederick W. Krengel that Progressives voted for Ald. Kimball in the Seventh ward aldermanic primaries. Their contest comes up in County court today.

Information is obscure as to the source of attack from the fourth quarter. The rumor, however, is that the "big" primary law is to be assaulted on the general proposition that it was improperly passed at Springfield, under the constitution.

Former City Clerk John R. McCabe, who filed a petition as a Roosevelt candidate in the Sixth district, and former Judge Willard McEwen, who was "disavowed" by Senator Sherman, are reported to be preparing suits.

SCHMIDT OPENS HIS FIGHT AS 'HOME RULE' CANDIDATE.

Flays Deneen and City Hall Entries for Committeeman in the Twenty-Fifth Ward.

The three cornered fight for committeeman in the Twenty-fifth ward produced real fireworks last night when the followers of George K. Schmidt, the "home rule" candidate, got going at Broadway and Wilson avenue. The Deneen candidate is Isaac J. Bryan. The Thompson-Lundin candidate is Samuel H. Hamilton, defeated candidate for alderman. Mr. Schmidt was the principal speaker. He said he was for home rule in the ward and he didn't think the people of that ward needed any advice from "Englewood or the Thirty-third ward." The 500 boosters present yelled themselves hoarse in approval of the "home rule" stuff.

FIVE POLLS OFFICIALS HELD.

Judges and Clerks Placed Under Bonds on Ballot Fraud Charges.

Inability of judges and clerks in the Ninth precinct of the Fourteenth ward to explain discrepancies in Feb. 24 primary tally sheets caused them to be held to the County court in bonds of $1,000 by the election board last night. The action was on complaint of J. E. Clancy, a candidate for the aldermanic nomination.

William J. Barry, 747 North Robey street, and Fred W. Diercks, 1955 West Chicago avenue, clerks, and Stanley J. Dubel, 1914 West Huron street; Mrs. Blanche W. Western, 1935 West Superior street, and Sophia Pokuta, 1951 West Superior street, judges, were ordered held.

GALLIENI QUITS FRENCH WAR JOB

Man Who Saved Paris in 1914 Resigns Because of Ill Health.

PARIS, March 16.—Gen. Joseph Simeon Gallieni, minister of war, has resigned because of ill health, and Gen. Charles Roque has been appointed to succeed him.

Man Who Saved Paris.

Gen. Gallieni, whose name will be forever associated with the deliverance of Paris in September, 1914, was born at St. Beat, in the Haute Garronne, on April 24, 1849. He was educated at the military school of St. Cyr, and during the war of 1870 served as a lieutenant. On the completion of his military studies Gallieni had a long spell of colonial experience, and later held many important commands abroad.

Served in French Colonies.

He served in the Soudan and Tonkin and Madagascar. From 1896 to 1905 he was governor general of Madagascar. On his return home he held the command of the Fourteenth army corps and was military governor of Lyons. He was minister of war, and during the war was appointed general of division, military governor of Paris, and commander in chief of the Army of Paris.

Gen. Gallieni is not only a scientific soldier, but a man of science in a wider sense. As a traveler he is particularly distinguished and is a member of many geographical and scientific societies.

GRAFT A LITTLE, END RED TAPE, SAVE $1,000,000

Faherty Declares Use of 'Business Principles' in Running City Would Cut the Cost.

Let a man run the city according to "business principles," let him forget about the law, let him do a little grafting if you please—and the city would be ahead a cold $1,000,000.

This theory of municipal government was advanced yesterday by Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, at the annual meeting of the Chicago Plan commission. Mr. Faherty, who has immediate charge of the Michigan avenue and Twelfth street improvements offered to give a demonstration that he is correct.

"I saw an editorial in THE TRIBUNE," he said, "urging the application of business principles to municipal affairs. There isn't a single thing you can do in the city hall on business principles. Everything must be done according to law.

Law Means Red Tape.

"It is much more expensive to do city business under the law than to let a man run the city on business principles, even if he did steal a little on the side. The law means red tape and delay.

"If I could run the city as a business without attention to the law I could save $1,000,000 for the taxpayers. That's the price you pay for the efforts of reformers to keep city officials straight. Is it worth the money"

In his report for the railway terminal commission, Walter L. Fisher said officials of Chicago railroads, with the exception of the Northwestern and the Union station roads, are holding conferences regarding a new passenger terminal.

It is proposed to have all these roads use either one or two stations, according to Mr. Fisher. Several of the railroads, it is expected, will join with the Illinois Central.

Wacker Urges Action.

Charles H. Wacker, chairman of the plan commission, urged that during the year the local improvement board start the legal machinery for the extension of Ogden avenue, from Union park to Lincoln park. He set five years as the limit for completing such improvements as the straightening of the river, the opening of streets through the railroad property south, the convention hall, the Grant park development, the connection of North Ashland avenue and Robey street, and the removal of South Water street market.

Other speakers were Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson, representing Mayor Thompson; Eugene H. Dupee, representing Corporation Counsel Ettelson; Chairman H. E. Littler of the council harbors committee; President Peter Reinberg of the county board; Jacob Lebosky, representing the west park board, and Homer A. Stillwell of the special postoffice site committee.

MILK PRODUCERS ADAMANT ON HIGHER PRICE DEMAND.

Association Declares There Is to Be 'No Quarter' in Fight Against Big Distributers for Advance.

After an all day meeting at their headquarters at 29 South La Salle street, directors of the Milk Producers' association declared last night that there is to be "no quarter" in their fight on the big dairy products concerns for higher milk prices during the summer months.

"Our reports show that Bowman and the smaller bottling plants are not signing new contracts," said W. J. Kittle, secretary of the association. "Bordens have signed up about 30 per cent of the number they have started out to get. Our people are holding out and they're going to keep it up."

The association demands $1.55 per hundred pounds and declares it will not deliver milk at $1.33 1-3, the price scheduled by the bottling plants and condenseries.

LOOK FOR IT HERE!

Cutouts from the Political Reel That Fail to Find Place in Headline Stories.

Some political flurry was started in the Thirty-first ward—former Gov. Deneen's home ward—by the news that ten suspect notices had been filed against men supposed to have registered from the Hotel Le Roy, 6225 South Halsted street. Thirteen notices were sent to persons registered as living at 5728 South State street. Ten suspect notices went to 5612 South State street and three to 5508 South State street. Englewood is "all het up" over the scandal, and talk about packed registration is exciting.

Official figures of Tuesday's registration were issued last night by Chief Clerk Dennis J. Egan of the board of election commissioners. The total registration Tuesday was 60,956—41,512 men and 19,444 women. The grand total now on the books, subject to reduction by revision tomorrow night, is 73,445. Prior to Tuesday there were registered 451,241 men and 2[illegible]1,248 women.

Heavy registration in the south end of the Twenty-first ward and activity of the Democratic organization behind Dorsey Crowe has alarmed the backers of Earl J. Walker, Republican candidate for alderman. Republicans of the ward announce belligerent tactics beginning today.

The advance guard of the membership of the subcommittee of arrangements of the Republican national committee, having in charge the preliminaries for the Coliseum convention, is expected to arrive tomorrow for Monday's meeting. The most important feature anticipated is the selection of a temporary chairman for the convention.

CITY FATHERS RIDICULE IDEA OF DOLLING UP.

Officials of the National Association of Merchant Tailors would have been pained had they attended a meeting of the council health committee yesterday. Undoubtedly they would have felt Chicago aldermen—the people's representatives—were disposed to treat a serious question in a frivolous manner unworthy of the traditions of an important legislative assembly.

The committee had before it the petition of the tailors' association urging members of legislative bodies to wear evening clothes at evening sessions. By wearing business clothes, the tailors solemnly aver, the aldermen place themselves "out of harmony with the culture of the people they represent."

"Let's recommend it," shouted several aldermen after the clerk had finished reading the resolutions adopted by the tailors.

"It's a much needed reform," said Ald E. F. Cullerton.

At this juncture the committee clerk who was recording the resolution carried discovered a legal obstacle.

"You can't recommend this resolution to the council," he said. "It's not in the right form."

WOULD-BE POLICEMAN TRIES TO ESCAPE ARREST.

Former Funkhouser Sleuth, Taken with Woman for Quarreling, Is on Police Eligible List.

Another police eligible fell last night. He is W. J. Burkhardt, formerly an investigator on the staff of Second Deputy Funkhouser. He had quarreled with Nora Bender, 6723 Michigan avenue, and had been arrested when he dashed up an alley. Policeman Casey fired and saw Burkhardt drop. Policeman Bernacchi, who was holding the Bender woman, went with Casey and found Burkhardt in a hole that had been dug by workmen. He was locked up. Burkhardt is on the police eligible list. He is said to have been paroled about two years ago after being accused of stealing eighteen watches from a downtown store.

CHARGE COAT CHECK FRAUD.

John Gallagher, Fred J. Dahleinden, and Anthony Shaltenia, all employed in the check room of the Dearborn station, were arrested last night charged with maintaining a duplicate check system, whereby they were cheating their employers out of $1,500 yearly.

SPEED PLANS IN CONGRESS FOR DEFENSE

In the house the anti-preparedness group of Democrats has served notice that it will contest every provision of the Hay bill, thereby prolonging the fight on it materially.

Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, today blocked a move to adjourn until Monday. He said he would be prepared to report the bill to the senate tomorrow with a request for immediate consideration. He said he believed it was essential to the success of the preparedness program to have the senate pass his measure before the house acts on the Hay bill.

FEDERALIZES NATIONAL GUARD

The Chamberlain bill provides for an army of 178,000 men during peace times, a national guard of practically 250,000 men, and a third force, to be known as a volunteer army, to be made up of civilians who desire to take military training in summer camps, but who have not sufficient time during the year to join national guard regiments.

The national guard, under the terms of the Chamberlain bill, is strongly federal. The Chamberlain measure makes no provision for the raising of troops in case the states fail in the effort. It is regarded as the alternative of compulsory service, and if it fails, when enacted into law, compulsory service is regarded as certain to ensue, according to members of the committee.

Inasmuch as the Hay bill will surely be taken up by the house tomorrow, interest tonight largely centered about it.

Republicans have not determined yet whether to offer amendments materially improving it or allow it to go through and leave it to the senate to amend.

In order to get the measure before the house at the earliest possible moment the leaders will attempt to keep tomorrow's session at work until the limit for general debate is exhausted. That will enable them to consider the bill under the five minute rule on Saturday.

Hamilton for Defense.

There was some preparedness discussion in the house today. Representative Hamilton of Michigan declared the time had come for congress to quit dilly-dallying and give the country an adequate national defense.

"I am for preparedness to fight, if necessary—preparedness to use our strength to promote peace, if possible," Mr. Hamilton said.

"I am for preparedness to maintain the Monroe doctrine, to protect the Panama canal, to defend the Philippine islands, to protect Hawaii, to maintain peace along our borders, to protect American citizens always and everywhere, to maintain our national self-respect, and to command the respect of other nations in a force respecting world."

TURNERS SHOW PATRIOTISM.

Fifteen Hundred Members to Give "Preparedness" Program at Stockyards.

More than 1,500 members of the various turner societies of Chicago will symbolize their patriotism for the United States by a "preparedness" program at the International amphitheater at the Union stock yards Sunday afternoon.

Gov. Dunne and officials of the state, city, and county will be present. The affair will be a tribute to Frederick II. of Germany, who was the first to recognize American independence.

Miss Melba Du Brock will appear as "Columbia."

CITY HALL SHUT FOR ST. PATRICK

BIG AFFAIRS PLANNED.

But for an eleventh hour action on the part of Mayor Thompson the doors of the city hall would have been open for the first time on St. Patrick's day within the memory of the oldest employés. The council forgot all about it and thirty-nine aldermen who petitioned the mayor to do the best he could in an emergency were so ashamed of the oversight they requested Corporation Counsel Ettelson to keep their names secret.

Aldermen Forget It.

Usually the council passes an order authorizing the mayor to designate St. Patrick's day as a holiday for city workers. The aldermen forgot it. The employés didn't forget, however. They besieged the mayor and Corporation Counsel Ettelson. Mr. Ettelson informed the mayor he was not empowered to proclaim a holiday without the authorization of the council.

Ellison Finds Way Out.

Ald. William I. Ellison then drafted a petition asking the mayor to order the city hall closed and informing him the order would be ratified at the next meeting. Thirty-nine aldermen signed it.

Mayor Thompson then wrote an order to Commissioner of Public Works William R. Moorhouse instructing him to close the hall today.

Among the aldermen who refused to sign the petition were Wallace, Kjellander, Merriam, Sitts, Capitain, Dempsey, Kearns, and Link.

Big Celebrations Planned.

The two biggest celebrations will be the annual dinner of the Irish Fellowship club at the Hotel La Salle, at which ex-President Taft will speak, and the banquet of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at the Hotel Sherman. Archbishop W. Mundelein will speak at both functions.

SUFFRAGE PRIZES OFFERED.

New York, March 16.—The National Woman Suffrage association today offered prizes aggregating $500 to artists for the best ten posters for suffrage window display and billboards in a competition to end Oct. 1. A prize of $25 was awarded for a slogan of not more than five words.

FRENCH WIN AT DEAD MAN HILL; TURN BACK FOE

Galling Fire Cuts Up Germans, Paris Says—Berlin Cites Success.

LONDON, March 17.—Repulse at the hands of the French again has been the net result of a German infantry attack launched with huge effectives after a heavy bombardment against French positions at Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's hill), northwest of Verdun.

The Germans, who attacked in masses, were driven eastward toward the Bois des Corbeaux, where the French guns inflicted heavy casualties on them.

The attack at Le Mort Homme constituted the only infantry maneuver along the entire French front, but from Belgium to the Vosges artillery on both sides has been active at numerous points.

Big Guns in Action.

Around Douaumont and the village of Vaux the big guns are operating with redoubled violence, while southward, in the Woevre, the artillery duels in the Meuse hills continue.

In the Argonne forest the French guns are still shelling the German positions northwest of the road from Varennes and German batteries near Mont Faucon.

The latest German official communication, making references to French attempts "to dispute our possession of the height of Le Mort Homme," has brought forth a French statement that the Germans never have gained a footing on the hill, which the French still hold.

French War Report.

To the north of the Aisne there has been artillery activity on both sides in the region of Bois des Buttes, south of Ville aux Bois.

In the Argonne we carried out a concentrated fire on the German organizations to the northwest of the road from Varennes and on batteries in action on the outskirts of Montfaucon.

To the west of the Meuse, after a violent bombardment of our Bethincourt-Cumieres front, the Germans launched during the course of the afternoon a powerful attack against our positions at Le Mort Homme.

Germans Forced Back.

The assaulting masses, which came on like waves, were not able to gain footing at any point and were forced back in the direction of the Bois des Corbeaux, where our concentrated fire, let loose immediately, inflicted heavy losses on them.

On the right bank of the Meuse the activity of the artillery redoubled to the east and west of Douaumont, as well as around the village of Vaux. No infantry attack was carried out, however. Our batteries took under their fire on several occasions troops engaged in evolutions in that region.

In the Woevre a rather spirited bombardment on both sides occurred in the sectors at the foot of the hills.

There have been reciprocal artillery actions in the regions to the west of Dixmude, Roninghe, and the "Ferryman's house."

German War Report.

In Flanders, especially in proximity to the coast, artillery duels have appreciably increased in violence. They have become more violent in the region of Roxe and Ville-Aux-Bois.

In the Champagne the French, after persistent artillery preparation, made a number of attacks, all without success, on our position south of St. Souplet and west of the Somme-Py-Souain road. This caused us few losses, whereas theirs were numerous. We took there two officers and 150 unwounded prisoners and captured two machine guns.

On the left bank of the Meuse further attempts made by the enemy to dispute our possession of the height of Le Homme Mort (Dead Man) and our positions in the wood to the north of it were frustrated at the outset.

Between the Meuse and the Moselle the position is unchanged.

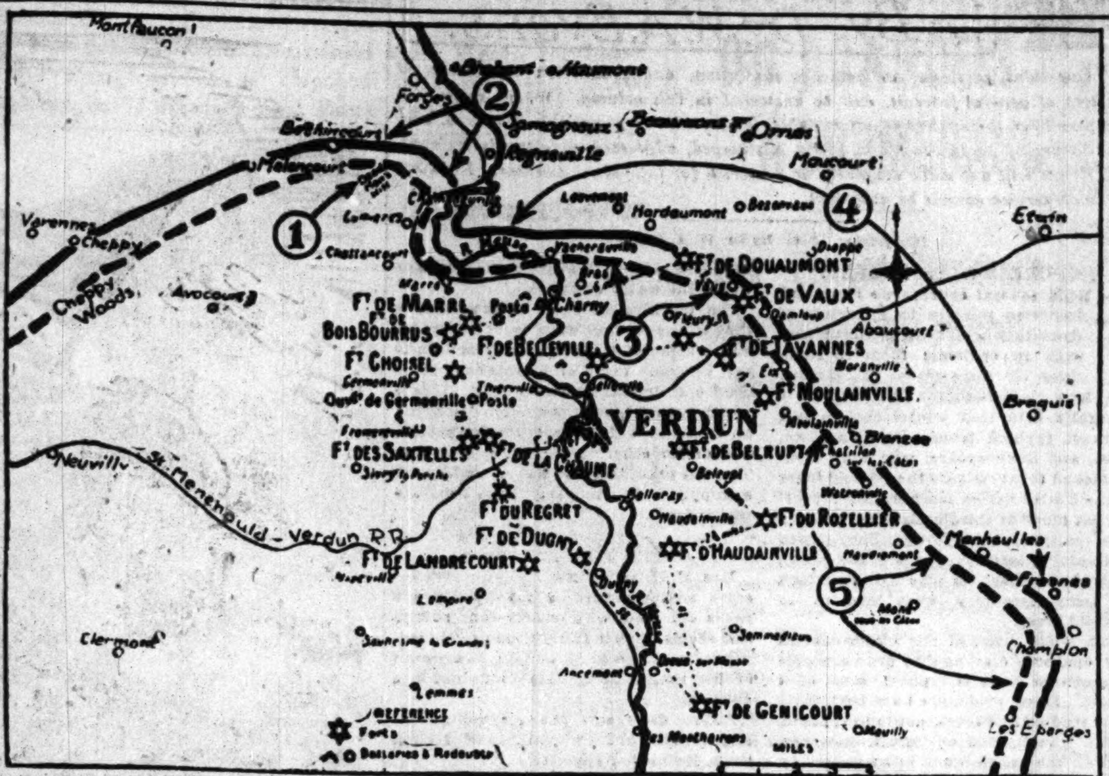
South of Niederaspach (Upper Alsace) our patrols, after an effective bombardment of enemy trenches, penetrated the latter, destroyed the defensive positions, and returned with a few prisoners and some booty.

DENIES BERLIN CLAIMS.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—The French embassy tonight made public the following cablegram from the French general headquarters:

"The German statement of March 15 claims that German troops have advanced their line west of the Corbeaux wood on the height of Le Mort Homme (Dead Man's hill). The truth is that in the great attack, which was repulsed on a front of more than fifty kilometers, the Germans have succeeded in penetrating an element of our front line trenches at hill No. 265, of which we hold the trenches on the counter slope. They have never taken any footing on Dead Man's hill (hill No. 295), which we still hold."

Battle Lines Around Verdun.



1—Paris reports fire of French artillery from Dead Man's hill cuts to pieces two German regiments which attempted to encircle Bethincourt. French embassy at Washington gives out official denial of capture of Dead Man's hill by Germans.

2—Germans launch heavy artillery attack on Bethincourt-Cumieres front, followed up by infantry charges. Paris reports all assaults thrown back with heavy loss toward Corbeaux wood. Berlin reports on left bank of Meuse further attempts by French to dispute possession of heights of Dead Man's hill and Corbeaux wood were frustrated.

3—On right bank of Meuse and to the west of Douaumont and around Vaux action is confined to heavy artillery engagements.

4—Berlin reports positions unchanged between Meuse and Moselle to the east.

FRENCH AIRSHIP SHOT DOWN; OCCUPANTS BURN TO DEATH.

Germany Reports Success in Encounter in Champagne—Enemy in New Hospital Raid.

BERLIN, March 16.—The war office tonight gave out the following report on aerial operations:

In an aerial encounter a French aeroplane was shot down southeast of Beine, in the Champagne. The occupants were incinerated.

Enemy airmen last night again attacked the German hospital at Labry, east of Conflans. The first attack was made during the night of the 13th. No military damage was done. Of civilians, one woman was seriously injured and one woman and two children slightly injured.

BRITISH SHELL TURK TOWN.

Many Greeks Killed Near Smyrna by Fleet Bombardment, Berlin Dispatches Report.

BERLIN, March 16.—British warships bombarded the town of Vurla, near Smyrna, killing a large number of Greek civilians, mostly women and children, according to Athens dispatches today. The town was almost totally destroyed, it was stated. The refugees are reported to have arrived at the Island of Mytilene in pitiable condition.

Athens newspapers state that the British pretended a Turkish camp was located in Vurla, whereas the camp really lay outside the city. The Greek minister to London is reported to have made a vigorous protest.

AUSTRIANS BEAT ITALIANS BACK

Hand to Hand Clashes After Heavy Artillery Fire on Isonzo Front.

BERLIN, March 16.—[By Wireless to Sayville.]—Desperate attacks on the Austrian lines along the Isonzo are being continued by the Italians in their determined offensive in that region, according to the Austrian headquarters statement of March 15, received here today from Vienna.

Austrian War Report.

The official statement says:

Italian attacks are proceeding on the Isonzo front. Bitter combats occurred on the Podgora heights, where the enemy, having partly succeeded in entering our lines, was repulsed in hand to hand fighting.

The nightly Italian attack, made after several hours' artillery preparation, in the sector southwest of San Martino was a failure. Before this position more than 1,000 enemy dead from the battles of previous days are lying.

At several other points on the Isonzo front there have been lively artillery and mine throwing engagements.

Italian artillery has shelled the Fella sector on the Carinthian front and also the Col di Lana sector in the Tyrol.

Italian War Report.

ROME, via London, March 16.—The official statement from general headquarters, covering operations against the Austrians, says:

Artillery duels and minor infantry actions have resulted successfully for us in Lagarina valley, on Astico Heights, and in the Sugana valley. A thick fog yesterday impeded artillery activity on the Isonzo Heights, but the firing was more intense on the hills to the west of Goritz.

There has been fierce fighting on the Carso for the possession of the positions we captured Tuesday in the San Martino zone. After severe artillery and musketry preparation, the enemy launched two strong attacks and succeeded in reaching the brink of our new trenches, but was on each occasion repulsed, leaving the ground covered with dead.

Austrian Attacks Fail.

In the morning the enemy artillery renewed the attack, maintaining it with increasing violence until night, but the firmness of our infantry and the constant and effective support of our batteries enabled us to hold our positions.

Along the rest of the front our detachment continued their attacks, wrecking the enemy's trenches with grenades in various places, inflicting losses, and causing explosions.

BRITISH HUSBANDS ROUSED.

Assail Asquith and Derby for Not Bringing Out Single Men First.

LONDON, England, March 16.—Premier Asquith and the Earl of Derby were criticised severely at a large meeting here today of married men who have attested for service in the army. Speakers declared there were still 2,000,000 men available and urged that married men refuse to serve until the premier redeemd his pledge to bring out the single men before the others were called to the colors.

ENGLAND PLANS U. S. REPLY.

Will Answer American Inquiry as to Seizure of Germans from Steamer China.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—England is preparing a reply to the American inquiry as to the seizure of Germans from the American steamer China, plying between San Francisco and the orient, the state department was advised today.

Open Station for War Bandages.

Members of the Friendly League Society of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Hinman avenue and Lee street, Evanston, opened a receiving station at the parish house of the church yesterday for the collection of linen goods to make bandages to be sent to the front in Europe.

DUTCH LINER SUNK BY MINE OR A TORPEDO

Disaster Off Noordhinder; Americans Aboard?—Attack French Ship.

LONDON, March 16.—The Holland-Lloyd passenger steamer Tubantia sank early today off the Noordhinder lightship as the result of striking a mine or an attack by a submarine.

All the passengers, among whom are said to have been several Americans, and the members of the crew are believed to have been rescued. The steamer carried between eighty and ninety passengers and a crew of 300. It was a vessel of 15,000 tons.

Sends Out S. O. S. Call.

The Tubantia left Amsterdam Wednesday for the River Plate, and was to have stopped at Falmouth for additional passengers and freight.

Early this morning wireless distress calls from the steamer were received at the Hook of Holland, and torpedo boats and other craft went to its assistance. Some of these boats reached the steamer before it sank and took off passengers and members of the crew, while others picked up survivors from the ship's boats, in which they had taken refuge after the explosion.

The first flashes from the liner said it had been torpedoed and was in a sinking condition near the Noordhinder lightship.

Disaster Credited to Mine.

Later messages credited the disaster to the vessel coming in contact with a mine. Until full details of the sinking of the steamer are at hand it will be impossible to say definitely what was the cause of the sinking.

Among the American passengers said to have been on board the Tubantia were Richard Schilling, described as an American consul, and his wife and daughter.

Seventy survivors were taken into Flushing, Holland, by two torpedo boats. Others took refuge on board the lightship, while still others were picked up by Dutch and Swedish steamers.

[The Tubantia was built at Glasgow in 1913 and is 540 feet long and 65 feet beam.]

Take Part of Cargo.

The Danish steamship Arkansas, from New York to Copenhagen with a general cargo, which recently was taken into Kirkwall, has been ordered to proceed to Grimsby to discharge part of its cargo.

The Danish liner Frederik VIII., from New York March 4 for Copenhagen, has been taken into Kirkwall for examination by the British authorities.

HIT MINE, BERLIN SAYS.

BERLIN, March 16, by wireless to Sayville.—It is semi-officially stated here, says the Overseas News agency, that the Dutch steamship Tubantia, which is reported to have sunk near the Noordhinder lightship, most probably struck a mine.

ATTACK WITHOUT WARNING.

New York, March 16.—The French steamer Patria of the Fabre line, carrying among its passengers twenty-nine Americans, including an American consul, was attacked without warning by a submarine off the Algerian coast on March 1, Capt. Pierre Deschelles announced today upon the arrival of the ship from Mediterranean ports. A torpedo directed at the Patria missed the ship by about thirty feet.

The night before the submarine appeared Capt. Deschelles received the warning: "Be careful; submarine sighted about 100 miles from Cape de Guarde," by wireless from Algiers. He remained on the bridge all night and posted fifteen lookouts around the ship.

The captain said he did not personally see the submarine or the torpedo, but both were seen by his first officer and a number of passengers.

Capt. Deschelles said he had sent a full report of the incident to the French government.

At the time of the attack there were 723 passengers aboard, of whom 332 were women, eight babies, and 383 men. The steamer took on a large number of passengers at Lisbon and the Azores, and when it arrived here it had a passenger list of 1,961 persons.

U. S. TO INVESTIGATE.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—Only unofficial advices concerning the reported submarine attack on the liner Patria had reached the state department tonight, but officials indicated that an investigation of the incident probably would be ordered tomorrow.

Official information regarding the sinking of the Dutch steamer Tubantia off the coast of Holland also is lacking here. Judging from press dispatches, however, officials think it more than probable that the ship struck a mine.

An American consul named Richard Schilling was reported aboard the Tubantia, but there is no man of that name or any similar name in the consular service.

CAPTIVE TRADE UNDER WAY.

France and Germany Agree to Make Exchange of Wounded and Ill Through Switzerland.

BERLIN, March 16, by wireless to Sayville.—A definite agreement in regard to the transfer to Switzerland of wounded and sick French and German prisoners of war has been reached between Germany and France.

The negotiations were initiated at the suggestion of Pope Benedict. A German proposal to extend the agreement so as to cover civil prisoners has been accepted in principle by the French.

Transference of war prisoners has been under way on a limited scale for several weeks, and more than 700 incapacitated French and German prisoners are now lodged in Switzerland.

$75,000,000 CANADIAN LOAN?

Group of American Bankers, Headed by Morgan, Said to Be Negotiating Deal.

New York, March 16.—A group of American bankers, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., are negotiating with the Canadian government for the flotation of a new Canadian loan, according to a statement issued by the Morgan firm today. The amount has not been finally determined, but it was intimated that it would be in the neighborhood of $75,000,000.

—Stephen Decatur.

DO IT RIGHT OR NOT AT ALL.

Our nakedness exposed by a guerrilla chief and a handful of outlaws, the government—both congress and the executive—is now in a scramble to meet the mighty occasion.

It is the old story. Happily for us in this case, we have to deal with an outlaw band of half starved peons, or, at worst, a minor people weakened by five years of strife and still distracted by revolt. Happily for us, the government has not waked out of its pacifism, its ignorant jingoism, its penny wisdom, to confront a nation of our own rank.

But the exposure is all the more complete and conclusive for that fact. The American people have had a dramatic demonstration of the extremity of our unpreparedness, and their mood is not one for the government to tamper with. This is apparent even in Washington. We have, therefore, the passage of the long neglected army recruiting resolution in a few minutes. There will now be a rush to "do something." That is the way our defense legislation usually has been accomplished, and it is one of the reasons why it has been so badly done.

In the present case we do not want ignorant inaction to be replaced by ignorant action. We do not want half baked legislation, and, fortunately, congress has before it standards of sound judgment, if it will accept them. The recommendations of competent judgment are before congress in the report of the general staff. There is a measure before the senate based on this report, the Chamberlain bill, which easily may be made to conform fully to the report. To pass that bill will not be hasty legislation, since it follows the lines of considered expert judgment.

On the other hand, serious danger to the nation is contained in the measure made up in the house committee on military affairs under the presiding genius of Chairman Hay, for years the leading obstructionist of army reorganization and efficiency.

The present Hay bill, H. R. 12766, is characteristic of its chief author in that it ignores the principal recommendations of the general staff. That is Mr. Hay's long suit—overruling experts and substituting his own notions for their judgment. The question now is whether he can rally enough pacifists and penny wise statesmen in congress to enact another piece of half baked army legislation in the face of a demand for real defense which is going to be obeyed now or at another congress with different men occupying the seats of most of Mr. Hay's allies.

This will depend upon the vigor with which the advocates of thorough defense fight at this session. It also in some degree depends upon the promptness and emphasis with which press and public let themselves be heard against halfway measures and perpetual delay. Peace organizations and opponents of army and navy increase have been bombarding congressmen for weeks. Men and women who want our nation adequately defended should make their will apparent in the same manner.

The legislation for the army now before congress has been analyzed fully in Capt. Reilly's department and discussed editorially. It may be summarized, however, again as follows:

The principal measures are the Hay bill, H. R. 12766, reported to the house and ready for discussion by that chamber, and the Chamberlain bill, S. 4840, reported to the senate and awaiting consideration there.

Compared with the recommendations of the general staff, these two bills are as follows: The staff recommended nine divisions in the active army and eighteen divisions in reserve. The Chamberlain bill provides for nine divisions in the active army and nine in reserve. The Hay bill provides five divisions in the active army and about five divisions in the reserve.

The Chamberlain bill provides for nine fewer divisions or 180,000 men less than the general staff declared is necessary for national defense, and the Hay bill provides for seventeen fewer divisions or 341,000 men less than the staff determined is necessary for our first line.

The Chamberlain bill follows the lines of the staff report, though it is defective in providing for maintaining the units at only two-thirds of full strength, an error from the point of view of economy and efficiency. It is greatly to be preferred to the hodgepodge Hay measure, which should not be patched up but defeated. A vote for the Hay bill cannot be justified and every man and woman in America who wants this country to have a proper defense should let their representatives in house and senate know that the Hay bill is not wanted.

The Hay bill does not provide defense. Its purpose is not to give us defense, but to sidetrack and prevent an army commensurate with the responsibilities of the United States.

The Chamberlain bill is less than our proper minimum. A suggestive parallel on this point is drawn by the Army and Navy Journal, which remarks:

"The assertion of the daily press that the senate army reorganization bill, S. 4840, in its present form creates a large army will provoke a smile among the military authorities of the larger powers. For instance, what will Japan think of the program of the senate committee which gives this country at the end of five years seven divisions, with a total strength of about 178,000? Japan, according to the latest reports, has now an active or regular army of twenty-five divisions, with a strength of about 350,000. This is composed of 100 regiments of infantry at war strength, compared with sixty-five regiments at peace strength as provided in the senate bill at the end of five years. Japan has thirty-three regiments of cavalry, as compared with twenty-five in the senate bill; 186 batteries of field artillery, as compared with 126, and a correspondingly greater strength of other auxiliary troops in its active or regular army.

"But this is the smallest part of Japan's war strength. Back of her regular or active army she has a reserve of about 2,000,000 men with regular army training of not less than two years. Congress and the senate committee are discussing plans for about 750,000 national guardsmen and volunteers with a few months' training. In shaping her diplomatic policy Japan will not take into consideration what this country thinks it has in the way of an army, but what it really has. Japan will compare her forces with the trained troops of the United States in making demands upon this country. The same process of reasoning will be employed by other countries in shaping any demands they may decide to make upon the United States at the close of the European war."

The Chamberlain bill, however, follows expert lines, and if it is the best we can hope for from congress until congress has heard direct from the country it should be accepted with the determination to improve it later.

The Hay bill is a fraud. It would be worse than nothing if it were accepted as a real defense measure. It should not be tampered with. It should be defeated.

MOBILIZE THE NATIONAL GUARD.

The best informed opinion is that the task before us in Mexico is not going to be performed easily, cheaply, or promptly. The situation is now and for some time will remain highly explosive, and war may be precipitated at any moment. Mexican popular sentiment has been allowed to become so inflamed with contempt and hatred for Americans that the leaders cannot keep it in hand, even if they are disposed to.

Meanwhile two neutral ships have just been sunk in the Atlantic and active subsea warfare seems again under way. Our negotiations with Germany are at the breaking point. Another day, another hour, may end them. That will bring us to the brink of the world war.

In such a situation it is criminal to rest upon a petty increase of our regular army and the passage of legislation upon which it will take years to realise. Our immediate resources are small enough, but we should place them in readiness without delay. It will take weeks to get the national guard as a whole in service form. No time should be lost in beginning.

If this is done, many lives will be saved and our task even in Mexico will be made much safer and lighter. We have had enough of the murder of hasty action. We have no right to gamble on a repetition of 1898. Yet Washington should know that events may force its hands at any time and necessity will then compel our wasteful strategy.

If, as we all devoutly pray, we are saved by fate from the ordeal of war, the mobilization of the guard in itself will justify what it costs. Equipment now lacking will be provided, as it should be in any case. Valuable experience will be gained and training given. The guard will be energized and inspired. Both as a military force and as individuals the guard and the guardsmen will be far worthier of the heavy responsibilities our system of defense places upon them than they now are or can be.

The national guard should be mobilized without delay.

THIS IS A CITY ELECTION.

If the women who are planning the massmeeting at the Auditorium next Saturday succeed in defining the issues in the coming municipal election, they will be doing an enormous service to the city. The definite needs of Chicago have a way of slipping out of sight at election time and the interest centers more on which national or state group shall control the city than on what program for city management shall be adopted.

Such activity as that of the Woman's City club and its allied organization is particularly needed this year. It has been hard to think much of municipal affairs in the face of dangerous international and national complications. Chicago has been slipping back into partisanship and our own affairs are becoming less and less clear.

What the women are planning to do is to outline a definite platform upon which Chicagoans may express themselves concerning city problems instead of national problems. Chicago, like most of the other cities, thinks parochially on national affairs, and nationally in municipal affairs. The highly organized groups of men who are struggling for control are not especially interested in city issues. Positions on the national committees of the national parties are among the rewards. It is not remarkable that the welfare of Chicago is easily overlooked.

The women represent, at present, about the only force opposing this sacrifice of Chicago's affairs to political interests of the state and the nation. They were never needed more than they are needed now. Their duty is to remind us that this is a municipal election, not a state election or a national election.

TRADITIONS OF HONESTY.

It is Mr. Hoyne's tragedy that many people do not believe in the entire disinterestedness of his efforts to preserve the police department from taint. His most recent activity has been met with the same sort of skepticism. Perhaps it is absurd, but people will believe that his chief interest is "getting" political opponents. Further, it has been suggested that he is not especially eager to "get" Capts. Gallery, Westbrook, et al. except as a step in an intention to nail Chief Healey's scalp to the door of the Criminal Court building.

Of course, grafters should not be permitted to remain in the police department, but if these charges are chiefly political they will do more harm to the force than any small number of grafters. The Chicago police have been allowed to build up traditions of courage, but they have never been allowed to build up traditions of integrity. A policeman will follow a dangerous criminal under a barn, risking his life, partly because of the tradition of bravery. But policemen are not encouraged to be honest. Their idols are shattered as fast as they are erected, sometimes justifiably and sometimes not.

Unsupported charges against the police breed grafters, for it is a current notion that honest policemen are "jobbed" quite as easily as dishonest ones. If Mr. Hoyne's charges fail he will have helped to corrupt the police.

A NEEDED DEMONSTRATION.

[From the Cleveland Plaindealer.]

There is no occasion for alarm, but plenty of occasion for getting busy. The country is in earnest. The voice of the ultrapacifist has been stilled and in its place is heard the counsel of common sense, urging the nation to prepare.

Enough time has been wasted in congress. Enough politics has been shown and enough partisan clamor indulged in. Enough speeches for home consumption have been delivered. The country now wants action.

Down on the Mexican border has been staged for the last several days a demonstration of what national unpreparedness means. Americans look to their lawmakers at Washington for an immediate counter demonstration—a demonstration of what a patriotic congress, alive to the urgent requirement for more adequate naval and military defenses, can accomplish to remedy defects now no longer to be concealed or denied.

BEWARE OF CORRECTIONS!
[From the Musical Leader.]

My Dear A. Nes: It is rare that I attempt to correct a thing in print; as a habit it were foolish and on even occasion it may provoke distress, but once in extended whiles I strike thin ice and break through. Instead of having been born in 1850, I was born originally in 1852 and continue to have been born in that uneventful year. And as for my middle name of "Percival"! Wait a moment—— Fading ink in an old book shows that the name of Pope was bestowed as a middle brand upon me, and during many years I wore it, until the financial panic of ninety-three, when I dropped it to save expense. A set of enterprising gazaboos—classic for fellows—compile a book. Purposely they print misinformation concerning you and send to you the page for "correction." If you correct it, you subscribe for the "beautifully-bound volume." OPIE READ.

The Judicial Temperament and the Irreverence of Youth.

Sir: The Gentleman of Judicial Temperament laid down the paper, shook his head, and sighed.

"It will prove a difficult undertaking, a most difficult and disagreeable undertaking," said he, gloomily. "The Mexicans may be expected to wage, for months, a costly and harassing guerrilla warfare."

"Bah!" exclaimed the Irreverent Youth. "A few U. S. troopers will soon put an end to that sort of monkey-business."

"You err," replied the G. J. T., "both in assuming toward the matter an attitude of unwarranted levity and in underrating, as the young are apt to do, the prowess of the enemy. There are strong men among the Mexicans."

"Doubtless," rejoined the I. Y. "Like the Turks, they are not to be sniffed at."

"And as to the United States troopers," went on the G. J. T., with increasing warmth and diminishing judicialness, "I tell you our regulars are a poor lot. When it comes to real fighting, half of them will lie down on the job."

"Very likely," said the I. Y., dreamily. "They will be prone to shoot."

Whereupon the G. J. T. went back to his paper and the I. Y. to his cigarette, while I stepped out for a short walk in the open air.

Speaking of the open air, had it occurred to you that it was a good thing we are getting this cold weather now? We won't have it later on, you see, when things are all out.

THE FLAGSHIP OF THE RACE.
(Joseph Conrad, "The Nigger of the Narcissus.")

AT night the headlands retreated, the bays advanced into one unbroken line of gloom. The lights of the earth mingled with the lights of heaven; and above the tossing lanterns of a trawling fleet a great lighthouse shone steadily, such as an enormous riding light burning above a vessel of fabulous dimensions. Below its steady glow, the coast, stretching away straight and black, resembled the high side of an indestructible craft riding motionless upon the immortal and unresting sea. The dark land lay alone in the midst of waters, like a mighty ship bestarred with vigilant lights—a ship carrying the burden of millions of lives—a ship freighted with dross and with jewels, with gold and with steel. She towered up immense and strong, guarding priceless traditions and untold sufferings, sheltering glorious memories and base forgetfulness, ignoble virtues and splendid transgressions. A great ship! For ages had the ocean battered in vain her enduring sides; she was there when the world was vaster and darker, when the sea was great and mysterious, and ready to surrender the prize of fame to audacious men. A ship mother of fleets and nations! The great flagship of the race; stronger than the storms! and anchored in the open sea.

How to Be Happy Though Intelligent.

Sir: Isn't it strange how little real intelligence is used in tailoring men's clothes? For instance, the little bands sewed on coats and overcoats by which to hang them up invariably are so fragile that they break in a few weeks. Well, the purpose of this is to suggest that a portion of a silk shoestring used for the purpose, firmly sewed on after removal of the tailor's offering, will outlast the clothes themselves.

IMPURE WATER SUPPLY.

FROM several sources we have had inquiries relative to a variety of dysentery which occasionally prevails in epidemic form in some cities. In some places this disease has been called winter cholera. It is generally held that winter cholera is a form of typhoid fever. Drs. Vaughan, Reed, and Shakespeare, who were commissioned to investigate the typhoid fever in the United States army in 1898, reported that much of the diarrhœa in the army was really typhoid fever. They based this opinion largely upon a study which showed that soldiers who had an attack of army dysentery were immune to typhoid fever.

But, while much of the winter cholera and epidemic diarrhœa in grown people in northern cities is typhoid, some of it is not. Many epidemics have been carefully studied and found not to be typhoid. These investigated epidemics, however, had all the earmarks of being caused by drinking water. Sometimes the analysis of the water has shown it to be all right, whereupon the health authorities were at sea.

Here is an account of the way Dr. Whittaker of the Minnesota board of health ran down an epidemic of dysentery affecting eighty employés of the Live Stock Exchange company of South St. Paul.

The exchange company got its water from three deep wells. The water from these wells was found good. Two days out of each week the demand in the yards for water was so great that some water was drawn from the supply of a large manufacturing concern located in the yards. The water supply of this concern, also obtained from a deep well, was found to be pure.

But there was an auxiliary water supply for fire protection which was drawn from the Mississippi river. This was polluted water. Theoretically, this polluted water was not to reach the drinking supplies. But practically it was found that when river water was allowed in the mains some of it would sidetrack into certain pipes. Under certain conditions the river water in these dead ends was drawn into the pipes from which drinking water was drawn. Such a condition was present on Oct. 19 and 20. The people got sick on Oct. 21 to 24, most of them on the night of the 21st.

The companies agreed to dig up and remove a section of each pipe which carried or could carry river water into the mains from which drinking water was taken.

A number of years ago Winnipeg had much the same experience. In their case, however, typhoid as well as dysentery resulted. They had depended on check valves to prevent the river water from reaching the drinking water. They found that the river water would rust and stick the valves and thus permit the river water to pollute the general supply.

Dr. Cobb found that in the case of ships foul water which stood in the seacocks while in harbor was drawn into the tanks when the ships took water out in the lakes where the water was pure.

The teaching of these observations is that whenever foul water is let into water mains some of it is reasonably certain to get, by some valve or by means of some dead end, into the water supply. This is worth noting, since the custom of having an auxiliary water supply for fire protection or for other purposes is widespread. There is practically no way to make such a supply safe except to have separate mains for it.

CHILD HAS PELIOSIS.

Mrs. E. H. W. writes: "Kindly give me some advice regarding my little girl, 7 years old. She weighs fifty-four pounds and seems to be in fairly good health, outside of a little cold off and on, on account of her tonsils being easily inflamed and swollen.

"Five days ago she started having slight chills and complained of feeling tired, losing her appetite.

"The second day in bed blotches appeared on her back and on her legs, the sizes varying from one inch to three inches in diameter, looking like slight swelling after a mosquito bite, changing to a redder hue after a few hours. She has had these blotches now for four days, with pains in her joints and light fever at nights. When I told the doctor about these blotches he did not seem to consider them important, but treated her for rheumatism and the heart. During summer she is always feeling fine and healthy. Another thing, when asleep her hands go to sleep, too, judging by the way she describes the feeling in her hands. Having kept her from school so far on the advice of the doctor and following his rules for diet for her, I don't know what else I should do and ask you to please advise me."

REPLY.

Your physician was right. The probability is that she has peliosis, a form of eruption which sometimes comes in rheumatism. Get her over this attack with rheumatism medicine. Then see about having her tonsils cut.

She will do better if she eats no sweets of any sort and not much fat. She will thrive on meat, vegetables, fruits (not very sweet), bread, cereal without sugar, skimmed milk, buttermilk, cheese, cottage cheese, but no cream, whole milk or butter. Do not give her desserts.

BOOK ON CALORIES.

Reader writes: "1. Where could I get a book telling about calories? 2. Wouldn't it be all right if a person left vinegar and spices out of their food? 3. Is pepper a spice? 4. My baby boy will be a year old in April. The doctor told me to give him mostly milk for a diet all next summer on account of summer complaint. Do you think this is right?"

REPLY.

1. One good one is Lusk's "Fundamental Basis of Nutrition"; another is Conley's "Nutrition and Diet."
2. Yes.
3. In a certain sense, yes.
4. Mostly milk is all right. In addition to milk he should have fruit juice, potato, butter, gravy, some meat, some vegetables, bread, and cereals.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1916: By the Brentwood Company.]

NEITHER age, nor yet the war, which has reduced so many of his countrymen to ruin and which has spread destitution and misery throughout his native land, seem to interfere with the growth of the wealth of Prince Donnersmarck, now in his eighty-eighth year. Whereas well nigh everybody else has been impoverished by the great international conflict now in progress, the prince's colossal fortune continues to grow, by leaps and bounds.

A transaction, which he has just completed, conveys some idea of his riches and of his unimpaired shrewdness and enterprise. Learning that the metropolis of Hungary was sorely in need of money and appealing in vain to the various banks and credit establishments in Germany for a loan, he has advanced to it a sum of thirty millions of marks, receiving in return Budapest city bonds.

But there was a strong attachment to the loan. For the prince stipulated that five millions of marks of the loan should be employed by Budapest to purchase building lots belonging to him in the suburbs of Berlin, especially in the Pankow and Mariendorf regions.

The Budapest municipality has been obliged to buy this land at the prince's own price, and the money for the purpose has been retained in Berlin out of the loan. Of course, the land is undeveloped and has been a long time lying useless on the prince's hands; a source of expense, indeed, to him, since he was obliged to pay taxes thereon.

Even under the most favorable circumstances there is but little prospect of the land being required for building purposes for many, many years to come, and it is difficult to see what possible use the city of Budapest will be able to make of this Berlin real estate in question, save possibly to grow vegetables thereon and to convert it into nursery gardens.

So the prince has got rid of a lot of land in Berlin which is absolutely worthless now and destined to remain so perhaps for a couple of generations to come, while he has received in exchange five million marks worth of perfectly sound municipal bonds of the Hungarian metropolis, which pay 6 per cent and which are guaranteed by actual values, in addition to the 25,000,000 marks worth of the same kind of bonds which he received for his cash advance.

Budapest is a very rich city, possessed of an immense amount of property, and which, owing to its unrivaled position on the banks of that great artery of trade, the Danube, is bound, no matter what happens, to always develop and to prosper, so there is no likelihood of its defaulting.

Prince Donnersmarck's taxable fortune in Germany, exclusive of his great possessions in Austria, Italy, France, and Scandinavia, and his extensive American investments, was estimated by the fiscal authorities at Berlin, in 1913, at the time of the imperial war tax on capital, at $65,000,000. Much of his wealth consists of mines, particularly those of coal and zinc, situated in all parts of the empire, from Silesia in the east, to the Rhine and Westphalian provinces in the west.

Besides these, he is the phosphate king of central Europe, owns immense small arms and ammunition factories, is a very large stockholder in Krupps, and possesses real estate in almost every important city in the dominions of the kaiser, from Berlin and Frankfort, downwards.

There are some who seek to compare the prince to the late J. Pierpont Morgan. He resembles him, in the fact that he is a man of the most prodigious activities and of extensive business grasp. But there the likeness ceases. For the time that J. Pierpont Morgan gave to the cultivation of art, and of philanthropy, Prince Donnersmarck has devoted to politics, in connection with which he has played a notable though infinitely less useful and beneficent role.

The result is that whereas J. Pierpont Morgan at his death was mourned on both sides of the Atlantic as a man of many charities, Prince Donnersmarck, when the time, surely not far distant, comes for him to be gathered to his fathers, will pass down to his grave unmourned, save by a few.

Some are disposed to ascribe the gifts of Prince Donnersmarck as a financier to the Semitic strain in his blood. For he is descended from Lazarus Henckel, who began by being the valet of Emperor Rudolph II., then his most trusted confidant, later on his purchasing and financial agent, and ultimately his banker.

Lazarus Henckel was a Christian, of Jewish parentage, and towards the closing years of his life, had amassed so much wealth as to enable him to loan very large sums of money to his imperial master.

He did not do this without insisting on good security, and when Emperor Rudolf lay dying, Lazarus Henckel in a rather ungrateful fashion, foreclosed his mortgage on the kaiser's magnificent chateau and huge estate of Neudeck, near Tarnowitz, and assumed possession thereof, Neudeck remaining the principal country seat of the Henckel family to this day, and the favorite of all the many homes of the present Prince of Donnersmarck.

Some years before his death, namely, in 1608, Emperor Rudolf ennobled his ex-valet and banker, bestowing upon him the additional nobiliary name of Von Donnersmarck, and thirty-six years later, Lazarus' son and successor was made a baron of the Holy Roman empire under the same name.

A grandson of old Lazarus became Count Henckel von Donnersmarck in 1651, and in 1901 his lineal descendent and heir, Count Guido Henckel von Donnersmarck, was created a Prussian prince of Donnersmarck and a serene highness by the present emperor.

Another financial genius to whom the prince has sometimes been compared, is the late King Leopold of Belgium. Like that monarch, he has the same broad grasp of financial, commercial, and industrial enterprise, the same faculty for turning into gold almost everything that he touches, and the same liking for the society of men who have made their mark in the business world.

Indeed, it is through him that Emperor William has become so intimate with Germany's great captains of industry and finance; an intimacy which has been one of the most remarkable features of the present reign, and which up to the beginning of the present war contributed so much to the prosperity and economic development of the Teuton empire.

FUNDS NOT AVAILABLE FOR LIGHTS.

Chicago, March 9.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please find out whether there are any chances of putting in more lights on East Seventy-sixth street, between South Chicago and Stony Island avenues. Are they contemplating putting in electric wires on this street in the near future? JACOB JACOBSON, 1426 Blue Island avenue.

A careful inspection of the location has been made, and while conditions would ordinarily warrant the placing of additional street lights, funds are not available for their installation at the present time. The matter will be kept at hand, however, and when funds are provided these lamps will be installed.
WM. J. KEITH, Commissioner of Electricity.

CINDERS WILL BE PUT IN CROSSINGS.

Chicago, March 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Can you advise what steps may be taken to relieve the terrible condition existing in South Kedzie avenue, between Fifty-first and Sixty-seventh streets. During rainy or thawing weather passengers waiting for or alighting from street cars are compelled to wade through mud several inches deep. Perhaps the reply might be that the paving of this street will continue in the spring; however, in the meantime could not cinders or gravel be put in at the crossing?
ARTHUR JACKSON,
5633 South Sawyer avenue.

Cinders will be put in at once on the crossings complained of. W. J. GALLAGAN, TREE WILL BE REMOVED.

Chicago, March 11.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Can you advise whether it is the duty of the city forester to remove a dead tree standing between sidewalk and curbstone—the tree having been struck by lightning two years ago and ever since then proving a menace to the public safety, as the children use the main trunk of the tree for their meeting place? We have written the forester, also telephoned to the alderman of the ward on different occasions, and no action has been taken other than to send a man out to investigate.
M. HOLMBURGER,
2237 South Keeler avenue.

The matter will receive immediate attention and the tree will be removed at once.

MR. DIXON'S SERIAL.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I sincerely hope that you will not consider me impertinent if I confess that it always tickles my sense of humor when I read your modest self-appraisal: "The world's greatest newspaper." However, if I am not ready to acknowledge your right to that title, I am certainly willing to admit that you publish a splendid newspaper. Even your editorial page has recently become a source of great satisfaction to me and to many of my friends, in spite of the puerile teutophobic outbreaks that we sometimes find in your "A Line o' Type or Two" column. It is a melancholy fact that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is one of the few metropolitan newspapers that enjoy even a speaking acquaintance with that spirit of fair play which I have always considered one of the finest traits of the national American character.

THE TRIBUNE has periods where it actually shows a desire to do justice to the great cause for which Germany has been compelled to go into war. I am astonished, however, that a great and intelligent newspaper like THE TRIBUNE should stultify itself by printing "The Fall of a Nation," by Thomas Dixon, a story which, aside from its vile and slanderous character, is a literary atrocity that ought to be repugnant even to the most primitive taste. I would strongly suggest that you explain the peculiar conditions under which these so-called Sunday supplements appear, because otherwise you cannot blame your German readers for believing that THE TRIBUNE shares the opinion expressed by this silly ass Dixon in regard to the character of the German army and the future relations between the two countries, that are dearest to their hearts.

Chicago, March 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I desire to express to you my deep appreciation of the strong ground taken on your editorial page, in all directions touching on proper preparedness for the United States. It is refreshing to one's Americanism to see such reasoning set forth by one of the larger and more influential dailies. If the real American papers would follow your lead on their editorial pages, long haired and long eared pacifists, state's rights Hays, and political Danielses, even with the coöperation of such un-American and "before the war" incompetents as Vardaman, would soon be relegated to oblivion politically.

Your editorial of today, "The Most Shameful Deliberative Body in the World," ought to be distributed broadcast throughout all America.
C. S. LOWE.

Chicago, March 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In these important days I have read nothing so true and so timely as your editorial in today's issue touching the congress of the United States. May it circulate widely in Porkopolis, D. C.
FRANK MADDEN, 1059 Ainslie street.

Chicago, March 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial on congress today is great stuff. What a pity that more of the great papers do not handle this subject with equal force.
J. W. WOODMAN.

SURGICAL OPERATION NECESSARY.

Chicago, March 16.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—THE TRIBUNE has undoubtedly done a great deal of good in the cause of preparedness by its editorials and special articles, but disabusing the public mind of the fallacies that have been bred into it for generations as to our prowess in arms and of the general ignorance that prevails as to the condition of our army and navy "is no small job."

In spite of all that has been written, the ignorance that prevails regarding our army and navy is shameful. What we need is to have the unpalatable truths regarding our past exploits in arms and the facts as to the condition of our army, navy, and coast defenses pounded into us day after day, until every man, woman, and child who reads the newspapers knows the truth.
C. W.

UNALLOYED PATRIOTISM.

Chicago, March 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I consider Mr. Wheeler's "Preparedness" a literary gem both from composition and from the thorough Americanism of its sentences, and coming from the pen of one who must be thoroughly inoculated with unalloyed patriotism. The article should be read and re-read by every one who has the interests of our nation at heart. Unfortunately in this rapid commercial era we do not give sufficient thought or time to the welfare of the nation.

THLETE'S BABY, ODY AND MIND, LEADS THEM ALL

w Judges Say Girl Has Mental and Physical Rank Far Above Her Age.

A most remarkable baby of 16 months, that leads the 3,500 that were entered the contest conducted as a feature of y week, has been found in Mary Hor- nse Omer, the daughter of Lewis Omer, tor of Northwestern university gym- ium. She is classed as supra-normal. ortense, though only a year and four the old, has the mental development years and the physical measurements a 3¾ year old.

Opinions by the Experts.

A. Lindsay Wynekoop, who directed show, and Miss Mary Campbell, the chologist who had charge of the men- tests, have this to say about Miss er:

"aby Omer weighs 25 pounds and 4 . She is 19¼ inches tall. Her phys- development is surprising. She has an excess ounce of fat. Her body, the and hands and feet are fashioned a beauty that would make an artist to work with his brush. While her is remarkable, she doesn't appear ecocious.

"She shows good stock. The eugenists ld be enthusiastic about her. In tak- the psychological tests she passed one test for 7 year olds."

Partial List of Winners.

FOREST PRESERVE PROGRAM FORMALLY PUT UNDER WAY.

Legal Organization Perfected to Permit Acquiring of Timber Belts Adjacent to Chicago.

Final steps in the consummation of the legal organization necessary to proceed at once with the creation of the forest preserve district were taken yesterday at a meeting of the commissioners in the office of President Peter Reinberg of the county board.

Oscar F. Mayer, 5727 Sheridan road, was elected permanent treasurer and Peter Ellert permanent secretary.

"It was necessary," said President Reinberg, "to have permanent officers for the commission so they could sign the $1,000,000 bond issue. With this done we are now ready to proceed with the work of preserving some of the more desirable natural forests around Chicago."

CABARET LAW DRAFT MADE.

Ordinance Would License Performers and Prevent Them Mingling with Guests.

At the request of Ald. Joseph C. Blaha, Corporation Counsel Ettelson yesterday prepared the draft of an ordinance providing for the licensing of cabaret performances. The fee is fixed at $50 a year and the license is revokable by the mayor. One provision compels the café owner to limit the performers to a raised platform and the same section forbids entertainers from mingling with guests. The ordinance will be considered by the judiciary committee, which now has before it an ordinance abolishing cabarets altogether.

WALSH, CONTRACTOR, DEAD.

Davenport, Ia., March 16.—Patrick T. Walsh of Davenport, one of the prominent railroad contractors of the country, who suffered a stroke of apoplexy last night at his home here, died today. He was brought home several days ago from Chicago, where he had been undergoing treatment, and was thought to be improved until last night.

TAFT ATTACK ON BRANDEIS A BOOMERANG

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—The administration today served notice on the opponents of Louis D. Brandeis, nominated several weeks ago by President Wilson for associate justice of the Supreme court, that it is prepared to expose the motive underlying former President Taft's protest against Mr. Brandeis' confirmation.

According to administration leaders, Mr. Taft wrote his letter of protest to the senate udiciary committee not because of his regard for the sanctity of the courts but because of the feeling he still entertains for Mr. Brandeis on account of the latter's participation in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

Assert Brandeis Exposed Taft.

The administration has prepared a summary of the Ballinger-Pinchot proceedings, with relation to Mr. Brandeis' exposure of Mr. Taft's attempt to protect Secretary Ballinger.

Administration leaders insist that Mr. Brandeis proved that Mr. Taft attempted to deceive the senate when it requested information concerning the charges against Secretary Ballinger. The deception, say the administration senators, was worked through the antedating of an opinion given Mr. Taft by Attorney General Wickersham, and the suppression of other papers which the senate called for.

Compare Ethics of Two Men.

There is a general opinion here that the Taft letter, instead of injuring Brandeis, has served to increase his strength in the senate.

In his letter to the senate subcommittee Mr. Taft asserted that Mr. Brandeis' conception of the ethics of the profession, as well as his general reputation for trustworthiness, was not such as to entitle him to a place on the bench.

Democratic senators, as well as a number of progressive Republican senators, insist that with respect to Mr. Brandeis' conception of ethics and Mr. Taft's conception, as illustrated by the course of the two in the one great case where they were arrayed against each other, the Brandeis conception was upheld by the people and the Taft conception overwhelmingly repudiated.

Adjourned at 5:30 p. m. to 11 a. m. Friday.

ATTACKS RIGHT OF BRYAN TO CALL SELF A DEMOCRAT.

Omaha Man Questions Propriety of Nebraskan's Petition to Be Candidate for Convention Delegate.

Lincoln, Neb., March 16.—[Special.]—R. W. Whited of Omaha has filed a protest against W. J. Bryan and Charles W. Bryan using the word "Democrat" in connection with their nomination petitions filed with the secretary of state, one as a candidate for delegate at large to the Democratic national convention and the other as a candidate for governor.

Mr. Whited says in his protest that he desires to be heard in person in his effort to convince the secretary of state that W. J. Bryan is not entitled to use the word Democrat is connection with his filing for delegate.

Secretary of State Pool says he believes under the law he is required to hear the protest in so far as it concerns W. J. Bryan, so he has set next Saturday as the day for hearing.

No hearing will be held in regard to C. W. Bryan's petition because the protest was not received within five days after the filings.

Mr. Whited does not state specifically the basis for his charge that the Bryans are not Democrats.

Resolutions Oppose Operation of Garage Near Nettelhorst Public School.

Resolutions opposing the operation of a garage at 3220 Broadway were adopted last night at a massmeeting in the Nettelhorst public school. The mayor and city collector were requested to refuse to issue a license to the garage on the ground that it is within 200 feet of the school, in violation of the ordinance. The speakers included Superintendent T. W. Sprowls of Butler house, Nathan William MacChesney, F. H. Atwood, and Ald. Kjellander and Wallace.

HOUSE VOTES TO REPEAL CLAUSE ON FREE SUGAR

Only Fourteen Members Vote Against Tariff Reform; Now Up to the Senate.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—[Special.]—The house this afternoon voted 346 to 14 to repeal the free sugar clause of the Underwood tariff law.

Four Illinois Democrats voted against the repeal. They were Sabath, McAndrews and Buchanan of Chicago, and Tavenner of the Rock Island district. The other Democrats opposing it were London of New York, Socialist; Bailey of Pennsylvania, Callaway of Texas, Crosser and Gordon of Ohio, Hilliard of Colorado, Howard of Georgia, Johnson of Kentucky, Thompson of Oklahoma, and Van Dyke of Minnesota, Democrats. Every Republican in the house supported the repeal.

America Needs Revenue.

The placing of sugar on the free list was one of the cardinal principles of the Democratic tariff program when the Underwood law was framed. Under the terms of the law the duty was gradually reduced and it was to have gone off entirely on May 1.

The need for revenue created by the European war, however, convinced the administration that sugar would be one of the simplest commodities to tax.

The senate, which has yet to pass upon the repeal bill, must complete its task before May 1, the date upon which the free sugar clause is to go into effect.

Administration officials will bend their energies to securing prompt action in the upper house to prevent the flooding of the market with free sugar and the consequent loss of revenue which the administration is badly in need of. By retaining the duty of approximately 1 cent per pound it is hoped to save $45,000,000 a year in revenue.

G. O. P. Opens Broadside.

The debate on the repeal bill revived the tariff controversy as a campaign issue and gave the Republicans an opportunity to deliver oratorical broadsides against the Democratic party. Representative Kitchin as leader of the majority defended his party. In his counter attack he charged Uncle Joe Cannon with never having repudiated the Payne law.

"Would to God," replied the former speaker promptly, "that the law were on the statute books today."

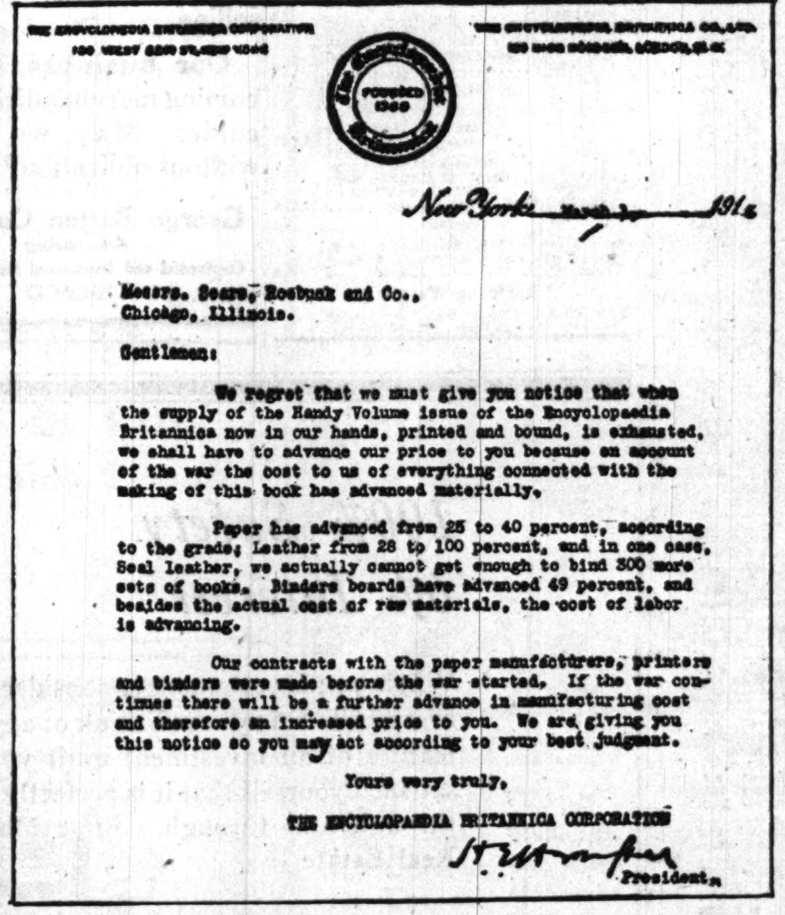
THE END OF A BIG OPPORTUNITY IS IN SIGHT

We shall soon have to stop the sale at present prices of the very successful "HANDY VOLUME" issue of The Encyclopaedia Britannica



New York 1916

Chicago, Illinois.

Gentlemen:

We regret that we must give you notice that when the supply of the Handy Volume issue of the Encyclopaedia Britannica now in our hands, printed and bound, is exhausted, we shall have to advance our price to you because on account of the war the cost to us of everything connected with the making of this book has advanced materially.

Paper has advanced from 25 to 40 percent, according to the grade; Leather from 28 to 100 percent, and in one case, Seal leather, we actually cannot get enough to bind 300 more sets of books. Binders boards have advanced 49 percent, and besides the actual cost of raw materials, the cost of labor is advancing.

Our contracts with the paper manufacturers, printers and binders were made before the war started. If the war continues there will be a further advance in manufacturing cost and therefore an increased price to you. We are giving you this notice so you may act according to your best judgment.

Yours very truly,

THE ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA CORPORATION

H. E. Hooper
President.

A LETTER from the Publishers of The Encyclopaedia Britannica reproduced on this page tells the reason. We are the sole distributors of these popular-priced sets. We can sell them at the present wonderfully low prices only because the Publishers were able to get the raw material for the first printing at phenomenally low prices.

Now raw materials are up and manufacturing costs are high. Now the manufacturers are charging the publishers these greatly increased costs. (See the publisher's letter.) Now the publishers can supply us with no sets, beyond the present stock on hand, at the prices of their present contract. Now we cannot continue the sale to the public at the present prices beyond the time that the present stock will last.

There are many people all over the country who have decided to buy the new Encyclopaedia Britannica in the Handy Volume form, but haven't got around to it yet. They know it's a bargain. Many of them have seen the books and know they are all right. They have read our guarantees and see that there is no possible risk in ordering this splendid library of reference, at a bargain price, on a first payment of only $1.00, and small monthly payments.

Now is the time for people like these to act. If you belong to this class, let us urge you to order now and be sure of getting your set quickly and at the cheapest price.

Write to Us Today for a free copy of a Book of 100 Wonders

IF you have not read our previous advertisements; if you are not familiar with the details of this bargain; if you have not seen the actual "Handy Volume" sets of The Encyclopaedia Britannica; if you have not heard the enthusiastic praise of those who have bought and have used them; if you have not made up your mind to buy a set; if you have any doubts about your needing the Britannica—there is still time for you to find out, for you to make up your mind, and for you to order your set before the prices advance. But you must act quickly. The publishers have made a beautiful new book telling all about the Britannica and especially all about the "Handy Volume" sets. This "Book of 100 Wonders," of 132 pages, with 200 illustrations, is full of interesting information. It tells you the difference between the two issues of the Britannica—large volumes and "Handy Volumes." It contains an illustrated history of the Britannica, going back seven years before the beginning of the American War of Independence, and giving pictures of many famous contributors, especially to the latest edition. This free book that we send you—shows you what the pictures, maps, and reading matter in the "Handy Volume" are like. It tells of the usefulness of the Britannica in the home, for women, for children—the varied interest and charm and value of this great library. It shows you how the Britannica will answer all sorts of hard and useful questions, such as—

"Why is the moon cold?"
"Where does the Gulf Stream stop?"
"Why does dynamite explode?"
"Why does a razor edge get dull?"

And it gives you proof that the Britannica is an attractive work as well as informing; that it is full of practical matter, helpful and necessary to every one; that it is useful to the college graduate, to the man or woman who has had little schooling and to the boy or girl in the grammar grade.

PAPER COMPANY BUYS PROPERTY IN ASHLAND AVE.

Branch of Imperial Secures Building North of Thirty-ninth Street.

An interesting deal in the central manufacturing district, as well as a series of transactions in connection with a new west side subdivision, and a sale of East Forty-seventh street business property, were the most important features in a real estate market way.

Outside of these there was little of importance, with the possible exception of the filing for record of the resale of one of the south side twenty-four apartment buildings which the Elise Schoenhofen estate took in connection with the sale by it to the Garrett Biblical institute of the property at South Water street and Fifth avenue, which was reported earlier in the week.

Central District Transfer.

The central manufacturing district deal was the transfer by John A. Spoor et al., trustees of the district, to the Imperial Campbell branch, a subsidiary of the Imperial Wall Paper company of Glenn Falls, N. Y., of the property in South Ashland avenue, 482 feet north of West Thirty-ninth street, for an expressed consideration of $96,279. The land is improved with a two story and basement brick and concrete building erected some time ago.

The property was leased to the Goulds' Manufacturing company, the lease having an option of purchase. This was exercised by the Goulds company, although the transfer to the Imperial company was made direct by the trustees of the district. The land is said to have sold on the basis of about $1 a square foot.

West Side Deal

The west side subdivision is known as St. Paul Park addition and contains 244 lots of thirty feet frontage and is bounded by Hirsch street on the north, North Lavergne avenue on the east, Laramie avenue on the west, and Potomac avenue and Division street on the south. The title is in the Chicago Title and Trust company, trustee for a syndicate of eastern capitalists.

The plat of the subdivision was filed for record yesterday, and in that connection there also was recorded a transfer by the trust company to Melvin R. Wadsworth of the 601x124 feet at the southeast corner of Crystal street and Leclaire avenue, and other property, for an indicated consideration of $18,000. Mr. Wadsworth then conveyed to Knut Etsel the 601x124 feet at the southeast corner of Crystal street and Leclaire avenue for an indicated consideration of $10,000, and to Franklin Pray the 601x124 feet at the northeast corner of the streets named for an indicated consideration of $10,000 also.

Mr. Etsel plans to improve the twenty lots on the frontage acquired by him with twenty two apartment buildings to cost between $6,000 and $7,000, and in that connection has given twenty trust deeds for $3,500 each, and the same number for $1,000 each. It is expected Mr. Pray also will improve his property. Cremin & O'Connor were the brokers in connection with the sales mentioned and will have charge of the subdivision, which has been placed on the market.

Kenwood Business Sale.

In the Forty-seventh street transaction Edward I. Bloom, the builder, sold to David Rosenheim, the grocer, the property at 1232-38 East Forty-seventh street, on the north side of the street, opposite Kimbark avenue. The lot fronts 95.5 feet with a depth of 160 feet and it is improved with a new two story building containing five stores on the ground floor and bachelor apartments above, with a large garage in the rear. The property sold for a reported consideration of $60,000, subject to an incumbrance of $35,000.

Mr. Rosenheim gave in part payment his residence at 4714 Kimbark avenue with a lot 50x200 feet improved with a brick dwelling containing fifteen rooms, which was conveyed for a reported consideration of $17,500, clear. The transaction was negotiated by Hugo Ash and David Harris, who represented both parties.

Flats Change Hands.

The Lake Park avenue property was conveyed by John O. Hayes, who took title at the time of the transfer by the Garrett Biblical institute, to Arthur Weinreb, a south side operator, for an indicated consideration of $82,080, subject to an incumbrance of $54,080. The building contains twenty-four apartments and is 149 feet northwest of Forty-seventh street. It occupies a lot with a northeast frontage of 150 feet by 56.9 feet on the southeast and 126 feet on the southwest.

Andrew F. Rosencrans has sold to Mrs. James W. Hillcoat the six apartment building at 5645-47 Wayne avenue for a reported consideration of $16,500. V. C. Wilms to McCollam & Kruggel represented both parties to the transaction.

Buys Apartment Building.

The six apartment building at 6815 to 6807 East End avenue has been sold by Andrew Gustafson to Theodore Schultz for a reported consideration of $24,500, subject to an incumbrance of $14,000. The seller taking in part payment the three flat building at 7731 Peoria street at a valuation of $12,500, subject to $6,000 incumbrance. C. D. Eulette represented both parties.

The Chicago Title and Trust company is trustee in a loan of $100,000, five years, at 5 per cent, to Sampson Schuenbrun, secured by the property at the northeast corner of Peoria and Adams street, 145x125 feet, with brick business improvements.

Transfers Filed.

There also was filed for record several transfers in connection with the partition of the William Borden estate. Record also was made of the transfer by the trustees in bankruptcy of the estate of the Consolidated Naphtha Rug and Carpet cleaners to Max L. Wolff of the property in West Madison street, 155 feet west of St. Louis avenue, lot 75x191 feet, north front, with brick improvements, for an expressed consideration of $45,000.

Mr. Wolff then quitclaimed to Abraham S. Shapiro the property at the northwest corner of California and Lee avenues, lot 48x120 feet, with store and flat improvements, for an indicated consideration of $17,500, subject to an incumbrance of $6,500.

Bull's-eye!

Every now and then—not often—a band plays something that sends funny, creepy little shivers up and down your spine—your blood seems to tingle—and there's a catch in your throat. It's a great sensation when it comes—and you can't fool yourself about it.

A good deal the same sort of feeling came to you as a boy when you read of the wonderful doings of your pet hero of the plains.

Maybe you and your best pal talked it all over (especially the day you had both been in trouble at school) and decided very definitely about going West and "showing 'em". Pistols in those talks of yours were always "guns" and rifles "Winchesters" or "repeaters." Very serious talks they were—very exciting and very excited.

And then, the thing got too big for you, and you fell silent as you and your pal stared with set faces off into the setting sun before parting with a word and a grip of two dirty, straining little fists.

Well—it has all come true.

In "Let Katy Do It" a tiny, tow-headed youngster does all the things you wanted to do.

All by himself he sets off the mines and works the levers of the Winchesters that hold back a Mexican horde while our troopers are tearing over the plains to the rescue.

And you get those same wonderful creeps in the spine that you get from the rattle of drums; unless all the "boy" has died in your heart, which God forbid.

"Katy"—mother of none, foster mother of seven—is one of the girls that is a "brick" to boys always.

Yes—it's a bull's-eye, this picture. Nothing flashy or pretentious in any of it,—all as simple and direct as the title. The runaway horses and wreck at the railway crossing; the mine in Mexico with its battery of repeaters; the Mexican bandits and United States Regulars are all matter-of-fact and real and necessary.

"Let Katy Do It" is a Triangle picture that has been "released" for several weeks. Several hundred thousand people have already seen it and most of them remember it.

We are advertising it now, after you know it, so that you may measure other Triangle productions by what you know of this one.

One reason people like them is that the men producing them—Griffith—Ince—Sennett—are so human,—have so much of the healthy American boy in them that their work is that way, too.

Another reason is the charm of the women who play in Triangle productions—

GERMANY LOOKS TO CHINA FOR FUTURE TRADE

Already Planning to Make Most of Opportunities After the War.

BY CAROLYN WILSON.

[Copyright: 1916: By The Chicago Tribune.]

For months the allies have methodically planned a campaign against German import and export trade after the war. At first this amused the Germans who reassured themselves with glimpses of year books full of encouraging statistics on German trade.

"What," they said, "will England cut off her nose to spite her face? She has larger trade with Germany than with any other country in the world—she handled in 1913 over $300,000,000 of imports into Germany and brought out goods to the amount of $400,000,000, and this exclusive of trade for Belgium and Holland handled largely through Germany.

"Will she deliberately try to ruin this commerce after the war, though she, as well as we, will be suffering from financial depression and quiet markets?"

Such reassuring arguments were all right for a time, but as trade became more and more stagnant, the war longer, and less prophesiable as to its finish, their anxiety increased. It increased, too, in proportion to America's growing trade and Japan's widespread activities.

Trade Prospect Is Serious.

Germany has begun to consider seriously the question of trade after the war and various societies have been formed to forward commercial possibilities. The one which seems to be most flourishing and of which you hear the Germans most often speak is that which concerns China. March 16, 1914, Baron Mumm von Schwarzenstein, for a long time minister to China, founded a German-Chinese society which should have as its purpose the founding of German schools in China, hospitals, ambulances, the sending out of German scholars, teachers, journalists, the publishing and support of German-Chinese papers, and the increasing of consular activity to watch over and encourage trade.

"We Germans must understand," Dr. Paul Rohrbach writes in his "Germany and the Chinese Mentality," "that no one is so definitely fitted to help China as we. We, unlike England, France, Russia, or Japan, have no boundaries contingent to China, and we are so far away that there could be no attempt or possibility to gain anything for ourselves from it."

Hope China Is Friendly.

All Germans feel, whether with reason or not, that China has become friendly to Germany during the war and that, therefore, the time is ripe for action. To the natural resources of China they wish to bring their organizing power, and the only two nations of which they are afraid are Japan and America.

Japan, however, is not rich enough or so completely developed industrially that she can establish a monopoly over China. She cannot fill China's needs and all she can get from China is coal and iron. In the rice and immigration question the Japanese must look elsewhere.

Undoubtedly, however, the Japanese as well as the Americans intend to profit largely from the Panama canal. Already in Japan forty-three ships are being built—thirteen of over 7,000 tons, three of 5,000 tons, and seventeen of 3,500 tons. In addition to these six new steamers, each of 13,000 tons, are to be built by the Nippon line for the Japan-Panama canal-New York service.

Through this increased tonnage—planned at 300,000 tons—the Germans clearly see the danger to their freight business and this danger is only increased by the American plans for a Chinese-American shipping line. Further American trade is also clearly prophesied by the opening of a new Chinese-American bank.

Plan Railroad Across China.

The Germans' most daring proposition is nothing less than a railroad straight across China connecting Bagdad with Tsing-tau.

Before the war there was the Belgian-Russian-French group with railroad concessions for north and west China, the English in south China and the valley of the Yangste, and the Japanese for south Manchuria. The Germans, on the contrary, had only two small side lines running from the coast.

But with the end of the war the Germans believe everything will be different. Belgium's financial and industrial strength is broken—and also that of France, so they state. The Belgians, however, had the concession to what will be not only the most important line in a political, commercial, and strategical sense, but also will have a world wide importance, joining the Atlantic to the Pacific.

As planned the railroad would run from the coast, presumably Tsing-tau, over Shensi, Shansi, and to Lanchau, the capital of the province of Kansuh, then through Chinese Turkestan.

Its joining with the Bagdad railway would be distant and problematical, but the idea is to build across Persia, using the already active Russian-Transcaspian railroad, and through this gigantic prospect opening up the trafficless centers of Asia, the hidden, undeveloped sources of inner China, rich wealth of Persia and central Asia.

River and Harbor Rights.

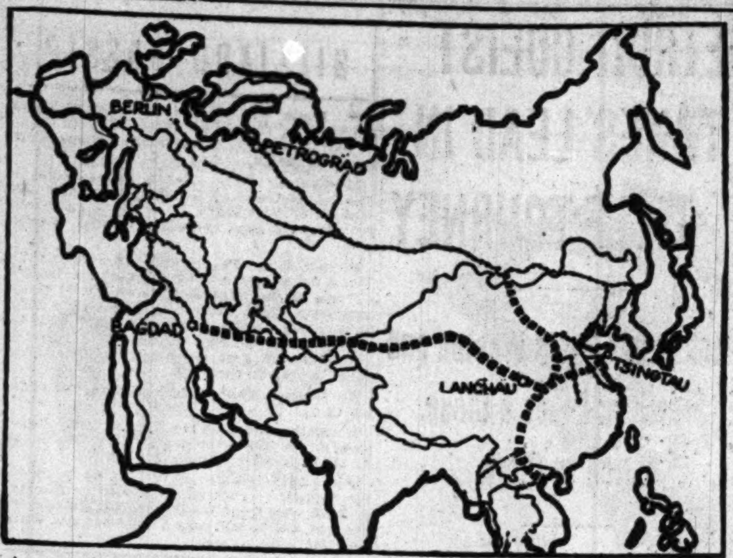
Nor are railroads all. The Germans want river and harbor rights. They speak sarcastically but admiringly of the way America obtained rights in China on the Huai-he river by the exploitation of the American Red Cross, which was to protect the inhabitants of this river district from floods. Mining rights are difficult to get, but must be attempted and bridge building offers enormous opportunities.

Germany sees the chance of getting all of Belgium's trade to China—manufactured iron and steel products, window glass, paper wares, and leatherwares. These things were all sold cheaper than Germany could do it before the war, but now "according to the political relations, in which we stand after the war, Belgium will be either manufacturing for us as an ally or weak commercially as an independent competitor."

Germany names as China's distinct needs from her, aniline and indigo dyes, valued at the present time at twenty-eight million marks a year; finished woven goods, both cotton and wool; machines of all sorts, turbine engines and electrical appliances.

The seventh article by Carolyn Wilson on the internal conditions in Germany and its aspirations will appear in tomorrow's "Tribune."

Germany's Plan for a Trans-China Railway.



As one of the first steps after the war toward recovering its former world trade Germany plans for a railroad across Asia from Bagdad to Tsing-tau. This, if accomplished, would give the Germans a through line from Berlin to the Pacific and would tap the rich provinces of inland China.

SUSPECT DOESN'T CONFESS.

Victor Dobricky, held at the Maxwell street police station, still denies, according to Capt. Baer, knowledge of the murder of William Bindrim and his son, George Bindrim, whose bodies were found in their butcher shop at 1106 Blue Island avenue Monday morning.

Capt. Baer explained that Frank Cunningham, 3136 Flournoy street, was at no time held as a suspect.

"I want to correct the impression that Mr. Cunningham was a suspect," Capt. Baer stated. "At no time was he suspected of having anything to do with the crime. On the contrary, he was kind enough to try to help the police bring the guilty persons to justice."

REAL GODMOTHER SEEKS ROSEMARY AMID WAR RUINS

Chicago Women Start "Long Distance" Adoption System for French Babies.

"Somewhere in France" there is a fatherless little girl named Rosemary. Smoking ruins, bursting shells, and a long terror stricken flight from home probably are her most vivid memories, but if the right person finds her she will be told about the most wonderful tale you—or she—could imagine.

It will be about a fairy godmother, and, best of all, it will come true.

Mrs. Jacob Baur of 115 Bellevue place is looking for Rosemary. That must be the name, for it is the name of Mrs. Baur's own small daughter, who is to be the lady bountiful of the story.

Support Her for a Year.

When Rosemary is found money will be provided by Mrs. Baur in her daughter's name to provide for the little French girl for a year. The child will be reared by her own mother, brought up in her own religion and sent to a school of her own selection. Mrs. Baur will be in direct communication with the family in France and will watch the little girl's progress continuously.

And some day, perhaps, Rosemary will come from France to see Rosemary in Chicago. By that time, Mrs. Baur hopes, the war will be over.

Mrs. Baur's plan—and $36.50 for the child's maintenance for a year—were communicated yesterday to Mrs. George S. Isham, treasurer in Chicago for the fund for the fatherless children of France.

Orphan "Gift" to Father.

At the same time Mrs. J. Gordon Wilson of 5755 Kenwood avenue announced that she had just sent her father, P. J. Aines, in Dublin, "his most valued birthday gift." The gift is a French orphan, to be selected from the family of some physician who has given his life in the war and to be cared for by Mrs. Wilson.

Nearly 100 Chicagoans have already signified their willingness to care for fatherless children or orphans in a similar way.

These Aid Adoption Plan.

Among those who have arranged for the "long distance adoption" of French children are:

Pauline and Brewster Perry, children of Mrs. I. Newton Perry of Lake Forest, who have asked for a boy and girl; Mrs. Edward S. Moore, two girls; Mrs. Shailer Mathews, a girl; Mrs. Bryan Lathrop, who has taken three children for a year; Chauncey Keep Hutchins, a boy; Mrs. H. H. Porter, a girl.

Miss Mary Porter, H. H. Porter III., S. Prentiss Porter, and John Pierrepont Porter have asked for a boy old enough to answer letters whose name if possible is Pierrepont, and who comes from Pierrepont, France. Mary Louise Root has asked for a girl; Master Harold Byron Smith, a boy; Mrs. Addison Stillwell, a girl; Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, a girl; Mrs. Henry Dibblee, a boy; H. O. Edmonds, a boy; Keith Carpenter, a boy; Alice Carpenter, a girl; Ermina and Margaret Carry, children of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Carry, two children; Miss Margaret Watson, a girl; John P. Wilson, a boy.

JOHN J. CROTTY CLEARED OF BLAME FOR MAN'S DEATH.

Coroner's Jury Says Great Injustice Was Done When He Was Arrested at Great Northern.

A coroner's jury yesterday cleared John J. Crotty of Mexico, Mo., of all blame in connection with the death of James Winters, who died in the Great Northern hotel on the night of March 9.

It was discovered that Mr. Crotty, who is a civil engineer, had come to Chicago on business in connection with the employment of laborers. He had taken Winters to his room in the hotel to discuss his employment. Winters had been drinking, grew noisy, and the house detective took him downstairs, where he died of acute alcoholism. Crotty was arrested. The coroner's verdict says:

"In view of the suspicion cast upon John J. Crotty arising from the circumstances surrounding the death of said James Winters, we desire to say that he was an innocent victim of circumstances, and we firmly believe that Mr. Crotty's character is above reproach and that a great injustice has been done him by reason of his incarceration and, further, by the nature of the charge placed against him."

A physician's examination proved that Winters died of acute alcoholism.

State Permits Charge in Crones Poison Plot Case to Be Dismissed.

John Allegrini of 2408 Calumet avenue, who was arrested as a suspect in connection with the poisoning of 200 persons at the banquet tendered Archbishop Mundelein at the University club recently, was discharged by Municipal Judge La Buy yesterday for lack of evidence. Counsel for defense asked that the charge be dismissed and the state concurred. Allegrini said he had lived for three or four months with Jean Crones, but that he knew nothing regarding the plan to poison those at the banquet.

I. A. C. TO MEET UTAH FIVE FOR BASKET TITLE

Beats Oakland in National Tourney, While Rivals Down Champions.

BY OTTO A. ENGEL.

Illinois Athletic club and University of Utah basket shooters will battle for the National A. A. U. championship tonight as the result of victories in the semi-finals at First Regiment armory last night. The I. A. C. defeated Oakland Y. M. C. A. Golds, 41 to 21, and Utah eliminated the champion San Francisco Olympics, 36 to 35.

Both finalists for national honors at the Panama-Pacific exposition last summer fell by the wayside. The opening game between the western rivals was a battle over three-quarters of the distance. It was won in the last two minutes of play, shortly before the Frisco team was reduced to four players by penalties and injuries.

I. A. C. Wins Rough Game.

The I. A. C.-Oakland game was marked by bitter feeling, and the rough play entertained 1,000 spectators. For five minutes it was a tight contest, but once in the lead the Central A. A. U. champions never were headed. A stampede of Chicago baskets came near the close of the first half and more of the same stuff followed in the second.

For about five minutes the visitors worried the local men, leading, 6 to 2. Then A. Pressler, being fed the ball by wonderful passing, got the gauge on the basket and shot four ringers in a row. For a time the Oakland defense tightened, while the offense moved the count up to 10 to 9. The first half closed 20 to 15.

Victors Run Up Score.

In the second half an avalanche of ringers put the Central title holders far in the lead before Oakland had scored a basket. The I. A. C. raised its total to 33 points. Then M. Hjelte tossed a basket. Two Oakland free throws and one more ringer followed. That was all for the Native Sons. Lineup:

Short Passes Win for Utah.

In a great exhibition of the short pass game, but weak in basket shooting, Utah nosed out the Olympic club, title holders, by a single point.

Olympics finished the game with four men, playing the last two minutes in this crippled condition. Just five seconds before the final whistle Kemp of the far westerners had a chance to tie the count with a free throw, but the ball hit the outer edge of the ring and bounded back into the field of play.

C. Gilbert and Berndt of San Francisco were ruled out for violation of the personal foul rule. R. Gilbert was hurt in a collision during the first half and was forced to quit. As only eight men were permitted to enter, the penalties and injury reduced the team to four men.

Champions Lead at Start.

The champions rushed the Utahans to the limit at the start, scoring seven points before Norgren's team had a chance to make a free throw. For fifteen minutes the coast quintet kept in front, increasing its lead to nine points, but in the last five minutes of the initial period Utah, playing a rushing game, scored four baskets while San Francisco was held to a free throw. The half ended, 20 to 18, in the Olympics' favor.

The second half produced one of the finest exhibitions of the hoop game seen in Chicago this season. At no time was either team more than four points in the lead. The count was tied at 27 all, then Clark shot a free throw and Utah went to the front for the first time. Kemp came back with a basket and the champions led, 29 to 28. Clark did likewise and Utah set the pace once more at 30 to 29.

Kemp Misses Chance to Tie.

With the count 34 to 33, Berndt of the Pacific coast five was ruled out, and only four men were left. Vanpelt then made the winning basket, and Kemp followed with a ringer, putting the champions only one in arrears. Kemp's missed free throw was the last play. Lineup:

Muscatine Sends Challenge.

Manager George H. Volger of the Muscatine, Ia., basketball team will challenge the winner of the A. A. U. championships. The Hawkeye five got in a tangle in an effort to enter the tourney at a belated date, the objection of two quintets in the title race ruling it out after citizens of the town had raised $300 to pay expenses. Muscatine will play the Oakland, Cal., Y. M. C. A. at Muscatine Monday night.

BANK FIVE NIPS ELMHURST.

HYDE PARK TOSSERS TOP SOUTH DIVISION BY DEFEATING W. P.

BY PREP.

Rushing Wendell Phillips off its feet in three quarters, Hyde Park heavyweights won the southern sectional championship, 24 to 8, by taking the last semi-final contest in the Chicago High School Basketball league yesterday. Hyde Park led throughout, the scores at the close of each quarter being 8 to 1, 13 to 3, 15 to 8, and 24 to 8.

Over 1,500 clamored for admission, but only 900 were admitted, while the remainder of the crowd received the returns second handed. Among the interested spectators were members of the Marshall heavyweights, who loom up as prospective title holders in the northern division. They were scheduled to tackle Senn yesterday, but it looked as if they purposely postponed the contest to get a look at the Hyde Park whirlwinds. Lineup:

LASKER IS CHESS CHAMPION.

Edward Lasker won the chess championship of Chicago in the tournament just concluded at the Kenwood Chess club. The tourney has been in progress since last November. E. M. Mow finished second and George Gessner third. S. Isaacs and Warnsley tied for fourth place. In the play for the Kenwood club title K. T. Lundeberg annexed the honor, with Gessner runnerup. Rogers was third and Johnston fourth.

PULLMAN GAME ON SUNDAY.

The match between the Pullmans and Thistles of Cleveland in the fourth round of the national amateur soccer championship has been set for Sunday at Cleveland. The car builders will leave Saturday afternoon. If they win they will enter the semi-final round.

MORE ABOUT FLY CASTING FOR BEGINNERS.

WE realize that this how-to-go-about-it stuff is not of great interest to the man who knows fly casting, but we are now writing for the bait caster (every other fisherman in the middle west is a bait caster) who, to complete his education, piscatorially speaking, should also learn to cast a fly. Last week we laid down the very first principles of fly casting and left our imaginary beginner casting fairly well at twenty-five feet.

As ordinary fishing distance is somewhere between thirty and forty-five feet we now have the problem of getting out more line. This is done the same way you got out the twenty-five feet—only more so. That is, you pull more line from the reel, between the reel and the first guide, hold it until the forward cast is almost completed, then allow it to shoot forward. Keep on doing this until you reach the desired spot. In other words, there is this difference between bait and fly casting: in bait casting you fish the distant point first; in fly casting you gradually extend the cast, fishing the near water first.

The main difficulty experienced by the bait caster in fly rod work is the desire to bring the rod too far back on the back cast. Stop the cast when your thumb, which is pointing along the rod, is straight up and down. The spring of the rod will bring the tip a little farther back, which will be about right. Another tendency is to use strong arm methods. Don't do it. Remember, a ten foot rod is more resilient than your short bait caster—let the rod tip do the work. Use your forearm and wrist only.

Train your left hand to strip the line from the reel and to retrieve the line with the left hand. The reel is seldom used for reeling. After the overhead cast is learned try the side cast, made the same as the overhead, except that the rod is brought back to one side instead of over the shoulder. It bears the same relation to the overhead in fly casting that the "side swipe" does to the overhead in bait work. It is useful where there is foliage overhead. Making the back cast over the left shoulder and the forward cast over the right is another way.

The roll cast is made by stripping some line from the reel, raising the rod to take up the slack, and then whipping forward and downward, making the line roll and the fly jump forward when you release the slack held in the left hand. This movement is the same you used to make your lariat loop or "hoop" when you played cowboy not so very many years ago.

The roll cast is a good one to know when you want to get your fly under some overhanging trees or when there is much wind to contend with.

There are other casts that will be picked up or you can improvise some to meet conditions. The main idea is to make the fly fall lightly and where you want it to. Thus it is unnecessary to warn the old bait caster to practice accuracy and form and let distance take care of itself, because he learned that when he learned to use the short rod.

ANGLERS' EXCHANGE.

[Contributed by W. C. J., Loon Lake, Ill.]

Loon lake is about forty miles from Chicago on the Soo line. The station is Loon Lake. The hotel is about a quarter of a mile north of the station. Rates are $1.50 per day, including boat. This lake is noted as being always clear in early spring, when most Illinois lakes are muddy. Good bass and pickerel fishing is had. The writer has taken the latter up to sixteen pounds here. There are two lakes connecting. The west one is very deep, but casting grounds are along the shores. The east lake is shallower. The latter is best early in the season; the west lake best for midsummer. The east lake has lots of good weed beds, rushes and lilies. Good casting early in the season, especially in the north bay back of the icehouse. Loon lake is one of the best lakes near Chicago and, being spring fed, the fish are excellent for the table and hard fighters.

We have maps of the following Illinois lakes for distribution: Loon, Diamond, Sand, Slough, Crooked, Cedar, Miltimore, Druce, Chittenden, Deep, Sun, Taylor's, Round, Long, Fox, and Grass. Also the following Indiana lakes: Bass, Long, and Flint. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed envelope. Incidentally, you might send us a map of some lake or stream you are familiar with.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Beardstown, Ill.—[To the Editor.]—You state that spring shooting is a mistake. Do you realize that hunters in some parts of the country are deprived of shooting some species altogether by prohibiting shooting in the spring? L. V.

Answer—Of course, we are deprived of shooting some species thereby. But isn't it better to be deprived of this than to have no shooting at all for our old age and our descendants? It is easy to say, "T'ell with our descendants," but that is what our grandads said, evidently, and as a consequence we have to pay $10 railroad fare and take three days from work to [perhaps] get a shot at a duck. We wish "fishermen's luck" to every one who shoots this spring.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—I am a bait caster, and will take up fly casting for bass this summer. 1. I have a ten foot six and one-half ounce rod and a size D line. Will these do? 2. What size hooks should I use? 3. What weight and length leaders? 4. How many flies are used? 5. Are bass flies fished wet or dry? A. M. W.

Answers—1. Very well. 2 and 4. Where the bass run small it might be well to use two or three flies on Nos. 4 or 6 hooks. We prefer one fly, No. 2. 3. Regular bass, or, better still, a tapered one made by looping a heavy bass and a heavy or standard trout leader together. 5. Wet.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—In your column last week you stated that fishing is started after we have had a few warm days, after Easter. Do you mean Easter this year or an average Easter? A. H.

Answer—Average. We expect to start the first week in April if weather permits.

PURPLE OFFICIALS PASS RULE LIMITING MEN TO TWO SPORTS

Northwestern university yesterday adopted the two-sport rule, which restricts athletes to partition in only two sports. The new rule, which will go into effect next fall, was recommended for conference adoption.

Northwestern is the first college in the western conference to adopt the ruling, although Princeton and Chicago High schools have tried it without success.

More Time for Study.

The main argument presented by the university authorities was that the men would be benefited by restriction, since it would give them more time for study and prevent overtraining.

Coach Fred Murphy, in differing with his colleagues on the university board in regard to the rule, said: "There is no danger of overtraining under present conditions, and studies must always come first or the athlete cannot compete. Under the two-sport rule if a man takes part in one sport, but does not win his letter, that sport is counted. Thus a man may try for two teams, fail to make either, and be barred from further competition."

Affects Two Athletes.

The only athletes at Evanston who will be affected by the new ruling are Underhill and Driscoll, sophomores, both of whom participate in football, basketball, and baseball.

Swimming Meet Called Off.

The dual swimming meet scheduled last night between Evanston academy and New Trier High school at Patten gymnasium was called off. Evanston won the interscholastic meet in the same pool last week, the Kenilworth school finishing second.

DETROIT CUEIST TAKES LEAD IN TITLE TOURNEY

Maturo	5	7	28

BY J. G. DAVIS.

Emmett Blankenship of Detroit became a stronger favorite for the world's pocket billiard title when he romped away from Cowboy Weston, 100 to 42, in the final game of the night at the Inter Ocean building. As Ralph Greenleaf lost the preceding game to George Clark, 72 to 100, Blankenship took undisputed possession of first place. He has yet to meet Clark and Greenleaf.

In the afternoon games Joe Concannon of New Jersey defeated Jim Maturo, 100 to 96, and Petrie won a protracted struggle from Morris Fink of Philadelphia, 100 to 92.

Greenleaf Puts Up Battle.

The Clark-Greenleaf duel was splendidly contested, the young Illinois player fighting a grand uphill battle and showing nerve equal to that of a veteran campaigner. He missed only two shots in the twenty-one innings, but had the misfortune to miscue in the ninth.

Clark also gave a great display of shot making and generalship and had the better of the breaks. He started a run of twelve in the fourth inning by a combination from the bunch, and in the next inning opened with a combination from the bunch and ran forty-one before scratching into a bottom pocket. In the twentieth inning Greenleaf pocketed the lone ball out and it had to be placed back of the bunch, leaving a dead combination for the right top corner, which Clark quickly spotted and made by means of a two cushion bank.

Great Shot Ends Contest.

Clark led, 59 to 24, at the fifth inning, but the boy kept right after him and at the eighteenth inning was only twelve behind. Two innings later Clark made his combination bank and ran fourteen, and after a scratch by Greenleaf went out with a great shot, cutting the five ball into a top pocket from long range. Score:

GREENLEAF—S, 6-S, 0, 18-S, S, 11, 12-S, S, 1-Sc, 3-Sc, 1-S, 17-Sc, S, 1-S, Sc, Sc, S, 9-Sc, S, S, Sc—79. Scratches, 7; net total, 72; innings, 21.

Big Runs by Detroiter.

Runs of 39, 23, and 22, made in his best style, enabled Blankenship to defeat Weston easily, although the Chicago player missed only two shots that could be classed as easy. The Detroit man was in his best fettle, showing great position and ability to split the bunches. He made his three big runs in the first eight innings, and at that point led, 84 to 30. Score:

WESTON—S, 14-S, 5, Sc, S, S, 4, 2-S, 0, 6-S, Sc, Sc, S, Sc, 15-S, S, Sc, 1—47. Scratches, 5; net total, 42; innings, 18.

Fortune Favors Concannon.

Fortune favored Concannon when nearing the wire in his game with Jim Maturo. The easterner needed ten balls in the twenty-ninth inning, and began by essaying a three ball combination for the left lower corner. He called the nine ball, which missed, but the four ball, coming down the table, kicked the recalcitrant sphere into the pocket. Concannon ran nine more and won, 100 to 96. It was Maturo's last appearance and he was forced into the second division.

Petrie Takes Uphill Game.

Mike Petrie took an uphill Marathon from Morris Fink in the second game of the afternoon, winning, 100 to 82, in fifty-five innings. It was 6:30 o'clock before they finished. There was an inordinate amount of safety play and the cue ball seemed to have a penchant for freezing to an object ball when it went into the bunch.

BILLIARD GOSSIP.

St. Louis, Mo., March 16.—[Special.]—Bob Cannefax of St. Louis defeated William Cullen of Buffalo, 50 to 45 in eighty-six innings. High runs: Cannefax, 3; Cullen, 4.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 16.—[Special.]—Charles McCourt of Pittsburgh defeated Tod Hascall of Milwaukee, 50 to 31, in thirty-one innings. McCourt had high run of 7, Hascall of 4.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 16.—[Special.]—Frank Jones representing Philadelphia, handed out one of the worst defeats on record in the Interstate Three Cushion Billiard league when he defeated George Felton of Boston, 50 to 15, in sixty-two innings. Jones scored twenty points in the first seventeen innings. High runs: Jones, 6; Felton, 2.

At Sutton's room Chapman defeated Jaffe, 140 to 81.

In the three cushion tournament at the Dearborn rooms Quitmeier defeated Engle [28], 28 to 17, in thirty-five innings.

Perry [41] defeated Berg [41], 41 to 26, in the class B tournament at Mussey's. In class A Falk won from Wadsworth [42], 47 to 16. Tonight Andrin will play Voightman and Ward meet Holliday.

CUE MATCH TO KIECKHEFER.

August Kieckhefer defeated John Scanlon of Cleveland, 50 to 43, in their Interstate league match at Bensinger's room last night, going out in sixty-six innings. The local player had high run of 5, Scanlon's best mark being 4. One of the biggest games of the season is billed for tonight, Charley Morin meeting Charles McCourt of Pittsburgh at Fienner's at 8 o'clock.

REVISE 'PRO' RULE ON NET MEN WITH SALESMAN JOBS.

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—William M. Johnston, national singles and doubles tennis champion; Maurice E. McLoughlin, former holder of both titles; Thomas C. Bundy, doubles champion with McLoughlin, and Fred Alexander, famous international player, will not be professionalized at the annual meeting of the executive committee of the United States National Lawn Tennis association here Saturday.

When the executive committee meets it will offer an amendment to the amateur rule, proposing that those engaged in the sale of sporting goods be barred from competition in tourneys held under the auspices of the U. S. N. L. T. A., one year after the date of the adoption of the amendment.

As the amendment will be voted on at the next meeting of the National association, February, 1917, the men will not be affected until the date set in the amendment, which is along about April 1, 1918.

J. Crowdus Leads Golfers.

Julian Crowdus of Hyde Park High school led the qualifiers in the western junior indoor golf tourney at the Rothmoor course yesterday with a card of 20-22-42. The qualifying round will be continued today. The tournament is open to golfers under 20 years old.

BILLY CHANDLER HAS THREE CARS FOR 1916 RACES

BY J. C. BURTON.

Billy Chandler, mechanician for Mulford in the days when Smiling Ralph was winning fame and road races with the Lozier and premier comedian of the gasoline circuit, is ready to fling a challenge at time and make of distance his thrall on the speedways during the impending season.

The three Crawford Specials which Chandler will campaign in 1916 have been completed after a strenuous winter of designing and assembly in the shops of the Crawford company at Hagerstown, Md. According to eastern critics who have given them the double O, the cars are classy jobs and have a bark that would make a 42 centimeter gun ashamed of itself. Billy was under the spell of the Bakst influence when he selected a color scheme for his thoroughbreds of steel which have been painted orange with black stripes, the state colors of Maryland.

Car Averages 105 Miles.

All three cars have been given a road test on the highways in the vicinity of historic Hagerstown and one of them which was put on exhibition at the Brooklyn automobile show last week received a prep on the New York speedway and burned up the boards at a speed of 105 miles per hour.

The cars represent an investment of about $12,000 and are equipped with sixteen valve Duesenberg motors. Their body design might be termed hybrid, as the front is high and narrow, like the Duesenberg, and the rear end is of the tapering tail variety common to Peugeot.

Selects Two Teammates.

Chandler is a disciple of preparedness. Not only has he completed his three cars almost two months before the opening of the season, but in addition he has selected his two teammates. Dave Lewis, the Californian who has been campaigning a Stutz on the Pacific coast for the last three years and who switched to the Mercer for the inaugural race on the Ascot Park speedway, will be at the wheel of one of the Crawford Specials, and Ray Johnson, a mechanician with the Duesenberg forces in 1915, will handle the other.

The driver-comedian, who has risen from taxicab chauffeur to racing car builder in the last seven years, will introduce his orange and black creations to an expectant public at New York on May 13 when the season opens on this side of the Rocky mountains, and plans to campaign them in all the blue ribbon events on the 1916 schedule.

Henderson to Drive Maxwell.

Eddie Rickenbacher, who will campaign the four Maxwell cars for the Prest-O-Lite company this year, came to Chicago yesterday, and while in the city signed up a driver. His 1916 teammate will be Pete Henderson, who drove for Fred Duesenberg the latter part of last season. Henderson's switch of allegiance from the Duesenberg to the Maxwell came as a surprise, as he was named day before yesterday as one of the drivers selected.

YALE NINE LEADER RESIGNS.

New Haven, Conn., March 16.—Arthur M. Milburn today resigned the captaincy of the Yale baseball team and Roland V. Vaughn of Haverhill, Mass., was elected to succeed him. Milburn was chosen captain last June, but with four other players recently was declared ineligible for violating the summer baseball rule. Vaughn is an outfielder and former Andover star.

STETSON HATS

Why War-Shortage Cannot Affect the Quality of Stetson Hats

SOX ATHLETES FIGHT TO DRAW IN FIRST GAME

Regulars—Murphy, rf.; McMullen, 3b.; E. Collins, 2b.; Fournier, 1b.; Jackson, lf.; Felsch, cf.; Weaver or Terry, ss.; Schalk and Lynn, c.; Benz, Danforth, Williams, Eller, Galvin, and Stellers, p.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Mineral Wells, Tex., March 16.—[Special.]—Manager Rowland split his roster into first and second squads today after staging a seven inning drawn battle which included most of the thirty athletes who are here under his command. The split was decided on because of the nearness of the exhibition work, which begins on Saturday, when the first squad will be assigned to Dallas and the second to Fort Worth.

The boss had not quite made up his mind tonight whether to station Terry or Weaver at short for the regulars, but will decide after the scrap which is billed for tomorrow between the two squads.

The bully weather of yesterday and today enabled the White Sox to limber up so well that the manager decided to give them a four or five inning joust to wind up the third day's practice. It proved so alright that seven innings were played without a decision, the final score being 1 to 1.

Eddie Collins Leads Regulars.

It was Collins vs. Collins, Edward being captain of one team and Jack of the other, so the teams were named the Eds and the Jacks. They lined up much like they will later on, for Eddie Collins had most of the regulars on his side except on the slab. He was given Murphy, Jackson, and Felsch for the outfield; McMullen, Weaver, Ness, and himself for the infield, and Lynn to catch. John Collins had Leibold, Mayer, and himself in the outfield; Moriarity, Fautsch, Terry, and Fournier on the infield, and Shook to catch.

Three veteran pitchers, Scott, Benz, and Russell, did the pitching for the Jacks, while three rookies did slab duty for the Eds. They were Galvin, Danforth, and Eller. The pitching proved so good and the batsmen so unaccustomed to looking at anything with stuff on it that no runs would have been scored but for boots in the defense.

Ed's Score in Second.

The Eds counted their tally in the second inning, when Felsch gained second on a high fly which Mayer in right lost in the combined run and high sky. Felsch scored while Weaver was being put out at first on a roller to the pitcher. Felsch went to third on the play, and when Fournier threw to Moriarty Oscar kept right on to the pan, beating George's relay.

The Jacks evened the count in the fourth, when Terry opened with a single, went to third on a wild chuck by Danforth to catch him napping, and scored on Fournier's fly to Felsch. Oscar tried to throw his arm away to get the ball to the plate ahead of the tally, but failed by half a foot, and may have to wear his arm in a sling tomorrow.

Russell Shows a Hook.

Scott worked three innings and Benz two against the Eds and both of them turned loose both hooks and fast ones to give the Regulars a chance to trim their batting lamps early. Russell pitched the last two rounds against the Eds, and, although he has been in spangles only three days, showed that he could hook them too. It was some time last spring before he could do that.

Galvin started for the Eds and worked three innings without allowing a hit. He used nothing but fast ones, but the Jacks could not get them safe. Danforth then gave the Jacks a chance to look over left handed pitching for three rounds. Three hits were made off him, but there would have been no runs but for his own wild throw at first base. Eller pitched the last round for the Eds and got three men in a row. Manager Rowland decided not to go any farther than seven rounds in spite of the draw. Score by rounds:

Batteries—Scott, Benz, Russell, and Shook; Galvin, Danforth, Eller, and Lynn.

SPRAY FROM THE WELLS.

Mineral Wells, Tex., March 16.—[Special.]—The White Sox had an hour and a half of work-out in the forenoon and spent an hour at the conventional stuff in the afternoon before starting the game.

With Ray Schalk as quarter back and captain, Walsh, Lapp, and Murphy kept the players and spectators in a roar of laughter by going through the motions of a football signal drill, using the medicine ball for a pigskin and imitating all the well known tricks of the gridiron.

Red Faber was expected on the forenoon train, which arrived about noon as usual, but did not put in an appearance.

CATHOLIC NINES ORGANIZE.

The National Catholic Athletic association arranged plans for the baseball season at its first meeting at the Windsor-Clifton hotel. The parish delegates present also discussed the introduction of other branches of sport—golf, tennis, pocket billiards, indoor, baseball and basketball—for the year 1916-'17. Managers of local parishes registered their teams for the league ball season.

Cub Regulars Land Second Victory Over Colts, 11 to 5

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Tampa, Fla., March 16.—[Special.]—There were no freakish Florida storms to interfere with the show at the Cubs' training camp today, and the ball game and motorcycle races went through as scheduled. Manager Tinker's regulars took another wallop at Little Alex Zwilling's Colts, by a score of 11 to 5, making two victories in favor of the first team in the battle for President Weeghman's prize of $100.

Heavy batting by the regulars did the business. They made a total of thirteen hits, but wouldn't have counted so often if the Colts hadn't erred many times.

There were about nine fielding errors charged against Zwilling's boys, Pete Allison and Bill Fischer being responsible for about a half dozen between them. Pete played the sun field and had an excuse for dropping fly balls, and Bill was at first base and had an excuse for dropping thrown balls, because he's a catcher.

Too Cold for Baseball.

It wasn't good baseball weather. It felt like a May day at Weeghman park, and many wore overcoats. The wind was from the north and smelled like snow, but if one could keep out of the wind and out of the shade he would realize that it was a Florida sun shining.

None of the motorcycles caught on fire today, so their part of the program was pretty tame. A guy named Creviston, who hails from Baltimore, copped the speed contest for five miles, and a fellow named Torres won the ten mile event. The Tampa motorcycle cop took part in the race, but was left behind. About 400 persons, most of whom had leftover tickets from yesterday's bloomer show, attended.

Cubs Are Heavy Hitters.

Judging from the results of the game, one feels safe in predicting that Tinker will have a heavy hitting team on the north side. The men of the first team were so boisterous in their hitting that they drove George Pierce off the slab in the first inning, before any one was out.

Three hits, a base on balls, and an error made things most distressing for Pierce, but if Capt. Zwilling had left him in there longer he might have equaled his record of the previous day, when they banged him five times in succession before the rainstorm came to his rescue. There was no sign of rain, so Zwilling intercepted and sent Bob Wright to take the job.

Regulars Solve Wright's Curves.

The rookie got out of the hole and went through the second round nicely, but the Tinks slammed him in the third for four runs, then added one in the fourth and two in the fifth. Errors had a lot to do with the bad results.

Wright lingered until five innings were over, then Mike Prendergast took the mound and stopped the first string fellows, but they got a tally in the eighth, because Pete Allison dropped one of those fly balls.

Gene Packard and Claude Hendrix hurled for the Regulars and showed some mid-season style, the Colts gathering only four hits in the whole game, two off each slab man. Hendrix was wild, and a couple of walks and a wild pitch were largely responsible for two of the three runs gathered in the sixth. A triple by Pete Allison was mainly responsible for the other run. One feature which should be mentioned was a home run drive by Packard in the last of the fifth, just before he left the game.

Zeider Will Report Today.

While the Colts are handicapped by the absence of Rollie Zeider, the regulars also are in bad shape because of the illness of Jim Archer. The latter was able to be up and around today and ate food in the dining room. A telegram from Zeider informed Tinker that he will arrive tomorrow morning.

Mike Doolan also is among the ailing ones of the Regulars, but his ailment is a sore arm. He left the game after five innings and Manager Tinker himself went to short.

Pitcher Bradley Hogg, who was to leave for Los Angeles last night, didn't get his transportation in time, but left tonight. If he could have waited another few days he might have had company. At least it looks as if the skids are being preparerd for another one or two of the Cubs.

CONFERENCE SWIM ENDS TRACK PRELIMS BILLED FOR TONIGHT

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

There will be plenty of activity today and tomorrow in Patten gymnasium, where the annual indoor swimming and track meets of the western conference will be staged. The swimming meet will be staged tonight, preliminary trials in the quarter and half mile runs this afternoon, and the final events tomorrow night.

Lewis Omer, director of athletics at Northwestern, has brought Sparrow Robinson all the way from New York to send the fields away in the various track events. Charley Dean, former president of the Central A. A. U., has been selected to start the swimming races.

Quarter and Half Trials Today.

Trials in the quarter and half mile runs will be held today, the quarter trials at 4 o'clock and the half mile an hour later. Six men will qualify in each event for tomorrow night. If necessary heats will be held to get the field down to six. This will depend upon the judgment of Dr. George K. Herman, who will act as referee.

With the exception of Indiana, every college in the Big Nine will send representatives to the swimming meet. The fight for premier honors appears among Northwestern, Illinois, and Chicago.

Maroons Track Team Favorite.

Chicago looks like the winner of the track and field events. With two good dash men, Agar and Pershing, Dimond in the quarter mile, Pershing in the hurdles, Clark in the half mile, Whiting in the running high jump, Fisher in the pole vault, and Windrow in the shotput, the Maroons should make a strong bid.

The swimming meet tonight will start at 8 o'clock. Four places will count in each event and the same number in tomorrow night's events—five for first, three for second, two for third, and one for fourth.

OPEN GYM AT ARMOUR PLANT

The new gymnasium built at the Armour & Co. plant for employés was opened yesterday. Director Stagg of the University of Chicago and Kallenberg of the Y. M. C. A. college were members of an inspection party which attended the housewarming. The gym is a three story structure with swimming pool and a gymnastic and basketball floor. Employés will get two periods a week for athletic work. Frank Miller will be in charge.

In the Wake of the News

A REJECTED IDEA.

We suggested that in honor of this day it would be quite a stunt to have the entire sporting sheet run on Turkish lines. Something like this:

BY SHAMUS CRUSINBERRY.

Tampa, Fla., March 17.—[Special.]—Patsy Tinker's Cub regulars yesterday defeated Mickey Zwilling's Colts, 4 to 2. Timely swatting by Duffy Zimmerman, Paddy Schulte, and Michael O'Flack gave the first team a commanding lead in the first three rounds.

After the game Manager Tinker was enthusiastic over the club's pennant prospects.

"Niver," he said, "niver have I seen the b'ys worruk so harrud. If they keep their prisint spirruts, winnin' the pinnint will be aisy."

Timothy McSchuettler, one of the Cub stockholders, left today for New Orleans, whence he will journey north.

BY I. E. O'SANBORN.

Mineral Wells, Tex., March 17.—[Speciay.—Manager Rowland early this morning made up his mind to release the following men: Felsch, Schalk, Benz, Fournier, Cicotte, and Ness.

Secretary O'Grabiner will soon return to Chicago to make preparations for the opening of the season.

"Sure, I'd love for to shtay where it's warrum," he said today. "But b'gorry there's worruk to be done and I can't lave it to nobody ilse."

There is a possibility that the Sox will be called on for border duty while the regular army invades Mexico in pursuit of Pat O'Villa.

BY SHANO ALCOCK.

Brian Niesen, boss of the Gunthers, has volunteered the use of his park, in the north of Ireland, for THE TRIBUNE's amateur trials.

Amateur players from all over the city will assemble at the Collinseum in the near future to participate in a banquet. The chairman of the committee on arrangements is Larry Gertenrich.

BY DENNIS ENGEL.

Faith and afore we knew it the County Cork high schools will be stagin' their track mates out o' doors. It's airly to be makin' predictions, but divil a bit would I be surprised if thim lads from La Grange make a clainin'. It's hard to bate thim lads from La Grange.

BY MARTIN ECKERSALL.

Ned O'Lewis, manager of Charley White, the Dublin Demon, believes there is a good chance of his boy's getting another crack at the lightweight title. Denver promoters are making an earnest effort to match the local Irishman with Freddie Welsh. White is daily working out under the watchful eye of Trainer Rorey Bernstein.

BY TIMOTHY PEARSÔN.

Chicago Irishmen are pulling hard for their countryman, Frank Moran, in his championship bout with Jess Willard. Moreover, they are backing their favorite with hard cash and are apparently confident that when the returns are in the title will once more be held by a battler from the ould sod.

"Frankie will murther him," said Larry Lichtenstein yesterday.

"The big b'y will wonder-r-r was he hit be a ton o' brick," said Matthew Thiry.

FULTON AND FLYNN BATTLE TONIGHT IN RING AT MILWAUKEE

BY RAY C. PEARSON.

Up where the suds flow, otherwise known as Milwaukee, there's going to be a mixup of fisticuffs tonight that promises the mussing up of one or both maps, for the encounter will bring together a pair of heavyweight maulers, Fred Fulton, the Minnesota giant, and Jim Flynn, the Pueblo fireman. The press agent from the Brewery City in his advance literature predicts a regular roughhouse mêlée, and unless the dope goes wrong, which is unlikely, this prediction will be fulfilled.

Slugging on Bill.

That there will be a lot of slugging no one doubts, for that is the kind of game the fireman plays. In fact, it is doubtful if he knows any other kind of milling. He has to get in close to his bigger opponents because he is outreached, and naturally he is forced to do his damaging work at close range. In the bout tonight Fulton will have it on his smaller foe in pretty nearly every point of physical makeup, so it behooves the Pueblo guy to make it a battle of action if he expects to cop the bacon.

Flynn is the heavyweight trial horse of the ring. He meets them all, regardless of size, and is a veritable demon for punishment. He showed that recently when he stacked up against Jack Dillon in a New York ring and took a terrific trimming from the littlest big man in the ring.

Fulton Favorite for Bout.

The generally accepted belief is that Fulton should beat Flynn, and this looks about right. If Flynn should be returned the winner it will be a severe setback for the Rochester giant. According to reports from Milwaukee, there has been little betting on the bout, but what little jack has changed hands has been wagered with Fulton the favorite at odds of 7 to 5.

OFFER RODEL $25 TO FLOOR CHAMP; FAILURE RESULTS

"Tribune" Decisions.

At Philadelphia—Young Diggins beat Bobby McCann.

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—"Knock Willard down and I'll hand you $25. I'll give you $25 for every time you clout him off his pins."

This is what Tom Jones, manager of the champion, told Boer Rodel, considered the class of the training corps, when Rodel started his three rounds of boxing with Willard at the Pioneer Sporting club this afternoon. Jones as well as Willard believes that a lot of rough work and real fighting are needed to fit the titleholder for his encounter with Frank Moran at Madison Square garden on March 25, and that's the reason the manager offered the extra inducements to Rodel. Willard even offered to double the bonus.

Boer Fails to Win Coin.

But the Boer didn't get away with any extra change. It was not because he didn't try that Rodel failed to cop the coin. He went so wholeheartedly in pursuit of the kale that Willard had occasion to realize his seriousness. Three or four times the Boer's hardest rights found Willard's chin to the great delight of the spectators. The only recompense for these, however, was a succeeding sound drubbing for the Boer.

Willard extended himself over nine rounds of fast boxing and finished fresh and strong despite a glowing perspiration. Not only did the champion cut loose with his own punches, but deliberately tried his wind and jaw against some of the best meant lefts and rights of his sparring partners—Hemple, Rodel, and Monahan. Whitey Allen, who is soon to meet Jack Dillon, was added to the champion's sparring corps.

Champion Ready for Fight.

Willard's behavior through the nine rounds satisfied the railbirds that the champion is quite prepared for a ten round tilt. He could do himself justice tonight, if necessary.

The wise counsel of Head Trainer Willie Lewis could not prevail upon Frank Moran to rest his hands this afternoon. The heavyweight challenger felt so well after a five mile turn cross country in the morning, that he insisted upon donning the mitts for light work during the afternoon. He used Bill McKinnon for two rounds and Frank Kendall and Bartley Madden for one round each.

ERTLE DEFEATS MANSFIELD.

Reading, Pa., March 16.—[Special.]—Johnny Ertle of St. Paul won the decision over Alf Mansfield, late of England, now of Reading, in six rounds. Mansfield carried the fight to Ertle in the first two rounds and held his man. After these two sessions Ertle cut loose.

To Pick Amateur Boxers.

Amateur bouts will be held tonight at the Arcade gymnasium, 33 South Clark street. A team of boxers will be selected from the winners tonight to meet a team of amateur boxers from Kenosha in a boxing tournament to be held the latter part of this month at Kenosha.

GETS 672 COUNT IN PIN TOURNEY

Toledo, O., March 16.—Leaders in the American bowling congress tournament were not disturbed today, ninth place in doubles and fifth in singles being the best negotiated in the minor events.

Christie Thies of Cleveland, rolling with the handicap of a new ball bought yesterday when Secretary Langtry ruled out his original sphere, cleaned up 672. The Cleveland man had a chance to oust Huesman and Shaw, twin leaders from Cincinnati and Chicago, right up to the ninth frame of the last game, but a 5-10 split stopped him. He struck out in the tenth. His games were 245, 215, and 212.

Secretary Langtry announced he would have the scores of several Cleveland players rejected on the ground that they had used dodos, a ball heavier on one side than on the other.

Mort Lindsey's New Haven team, champions two years ago and second place men at Peoria last year, rolled 2,666 on the early shift of five man teams, disappointing the largest crowd of the tournament, which turned out in the hope of seeing bowling history. The team failed to hit 800 in its first game and had sixteen errors in the series, many of them single pin blows. Baltaly's Rexalls of Massillon, O., was high on the shift with 2,724.

DERNBACH GETS BEST PIN SCORE

Willie Dernbach, rolling with Americus council team in the Knights of Columbus league, was the class of the night on the local bowling circuit, with an average of 229 1-3. His team whitewashed Bishop Ketteler council. The winners pounded out an average of 984 2-3.

"Uncle Abe" Peterson, rolling with the Legal Department in the Surface Lines league, turned up a 225 average, with games of 235, 228, and 212.

Reubens Quits Mat Match.

Springfield, Ill., March 16.—Ben Reubens of Chicago forfeited his match here tonight with Johnny Meyers of Sheboygan, Wis., after an hour and thirty-two minutes of wrestling. Reuben also was injured a week ago, and blamed a sprained ligament for his failure to continue with the match.

OUR WABASH AVENUE APPAREL SECTIONS PRESENT THEIR GREATEST SELLING EVENTS OF THE SPRING SEASON

Months Were Spent in Preparation for These Events. Purchases Were Made Before the Scarcity of Imported Dyestuffs and the Advance in the Cost of Fabrics. It Is Well to Anticipate All Spring and Summer Requirements at This Time.

2,000 Cotton Frocks, Exceptional at, Each, $5.00

Including Charming Garden Frocks and Smart Sports Dresses

It is well to consider all one's Summer requirements in selecting Dresses in this event. Many of the fabrics were purchased early last Autumn before the increase in cost and before the shortage of dyes had become serious; much of the making was done in our own sunlight "Priscilla" Factory, at cost, for this special event.

Included are many styles in all white, as well as floral and striped voiles—patterned in color; white piques, crashes and novelty weaves in sports Dresses. Choice should be made promptly.

500 Fine Silk Sweaters

Exceptional at $15 and $20

Every trade indication justifies our belief that such values as these cannot be duplicated this season. The dye situation, the shortage of fabrics, the unwillingness of manufacturers to accept any more orders except at a price advance—all argue the wisdom of purchasing for Summer needs now.

Presenting New Styles for Street and Afternoon Wear

Taffetas, crepe chiffons, foulards, crepe meteors, crepes de Chine and novelty silks are included—as exceptional in quality and style as are the cotton Frocks and Sweaters offered in this event.

The model sketched at the right is from the group at $15.00—made with hand-embroidered crepe chiffon bodice and yoked-skirt of crepe meteor. In every group you will find interesting models.

This purchase includes, in certain price groups, models especially designed in the extra sizes, to 50.

CHICAGO KEEPS CITIZENS CLEAN; AND IN EUROPE?

What City Offers in Free Baths as Compared with Facilities on Continent.

PURE WATER, AND LOTS OF IT.

This is the fourth article by Mr. Hyde in answer to the question, "Why be patriotic?"

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

To get down to the matter of every day living, what does the government do for its citizens? What, in particular, does Chicago do for the people who live within its gates?

One has heard so much about how advanced and how efficient the various cities of Europe are in the matter of making living pleasant for their citizens that one approaches the subject with fear and trembling. And yet—

Take for instance the somewhat fundamental matter of cleanliness. However intimate may be its relation to godliness, personal cleanliness, most people will admit, is a desirable and pleasant quality. The degree of cleanliness in any community depends to a considerable extent on the facilities which are available for getting at water.

Regarding Iced Water

Cosmopolitan critics of American crudeness have often sung the praises of the delicious vintages of Europe, and have pointed out how amused Europeans are by the vulgar American habit of using iced water as a beverage. They rarely if ever drink water.

In all fairness it needs to be said that Europeans are almost as economical in their consumption of water for other purposes. It would be untruthful to say that there are no bathtubs in Europe. I recall going to the finest hotel in Genoa and demanding a room with a bath, the matter of price being left for future debate. The bath room was a marvel. It contained a tub, a shower, needle and foot baths, and a variety of other apparatus. All it lacked was water. It took fifteen minutes to draw a quart of dirty brown liquid from the faucet. A small placard which hung at the entrance to the elevator in the lower hall of the hotel made the situation somewhat clear.

Solving the Mystery.

The elevator, it appears, was run by hydraulic water power. And the placard read as follows:

GUESTS WILL PLEASE
FOR ASCENSIONS ONLY,

Now Chicago, in its rude, provincial, stock yards way, was the first city in the world to provide free bathing facilities for its people. It may be an exaggeration to say that there are more free public shower baths in Chicago than there are shower baths of all kinds, public and private, in Europe. But there are, to be specific, more than 100 places in Chicago where any citizen may get a bath at the expense of the community. There are in these public bath houses and small park field houses more than 1,000 shower baths open to all comers, to say nothing of nearly as many more which are installed in the public schools for the benefit of the pupils.

Pools and Beaches.

In addition, Chicago provides about twenty-five free public swimming pools, and in the summer time there are a dozen great public bathing beaches along the lake, a single one of which will accommodate 8,000 swimmers at a time.

The poorest citizen of Chicago has a better chance of getting and keeping clean than anybody under the rank of a duke in Europe. The fact that last year on one side of the city alone more than 2,000,000 individual cakes of soap and towels were called for would seem to indicate that they are taking advantage of the opportunity.

In Chicago also, in spite of the incompetency and inefficiency of which almost everybody is always complaining, more is done by the community for the welfare of the children of its people than in any other city in the world. Here, for instance, a great city-wide system of small parks and playgrounds was first developed.

111 Playgrounds in City.

This spring there will be no less than 111 such places open for the use of children of all ages up to 90. In many of them there are field houses, with gymnasiums, baths, and assembly halls, where public meetings and community dances may be held. On Sunday afternoons and at regular intervals in the evenings, through the efforts of private citizens, concerts and folk dances and festivals are held.

This spring, for the further recreation of the people, the great municipal pier, extending two-thirds of a mile into the lake, at the foot of Illinois street, will be opened to the public. There will be two wide promenades over the water and the 300 feet of the structure which is farthest out in the lake will be given over to concerts, dances, and other entertainments.

Is there any city in Europe or elsewhere which has made such provision for the entertainment of its citizens?

Some of the public bath houses also [illegible] for babies, free nursery roof gardens, and infant welfare stations are maintained. Few cities anywhere are better supplied with big parks. When the new forest reserve or outer park belt is completed Chicago will have a larger area devoted to park space than any other city in the world. That the people appreciate the park opportunity is indicated that Lincoln park alone, with its big zoo and other attractions, often entertains 250,000 people in a single day, a record unequaled elsewhere.

In its public school system Chicago provides not only accommodations for more than 330,000 regular pupils, but it maintains evening schools at which any resident may study almost anything, from millinery to steam engineering, including two years of college work leading toward a degree in engineering. In the schools also the nurses and doctors keep track of the health of the children, and dentists see that their teeth are kept in order. During the long summer vacations enough schools are kept open to take care of all the people who want to spend part of the time in study.

Big Phthisis Hospitals.

As part of the effort to preserve the health of its people Chicago has established a great free municipal tuberculosis sanatorium, with an ultimate capacity of 1,200 beds, while Cook county supports another at Oak Forest with room for more than 600 patients. Another feature of the fight against tuberculosis is the maintenance of eight free clinics in various parts of the city, where thirty-five physicians examine and treat patients, while a corps of sixty-five special tuberculosis nurses visit and advise with them in their homes.

Many of the cultured critics who find wonderful things to admire in Europe are not at all acquainted with what is being done in their home city. But the people know and they know also that, on the whole, in spite of all the evident crudities and inefficiencies of Chicago, more is done for them here than in the land from which they came. They know, too, that they will each one have an equal say in deciding what additional steps shall be taken to make the government and its administration more efficient.

Gompers on Patriotism.

So why should they not be patriotic? That they are so is indicated, at least, by the statement of Samuel Gompers, who comes as near speaking for the workingmen as any one in America.

"You know, of course," he writes to Maj. Gen. Wood, "that while the organized labor movement of the country advocates peace, it advocates peace founded on justice and not peace at any price. Our experience with the practical affairs of life has taught us that we can secure justice and recognition for our necessary demands only when we are prepared to protect our demands and enforce our ideals of justice.

"The greatest protection against the dangers of militarism can be secured through making military training as general as possible."

NINE SALOONS CLOSED

Violations of Sunday Law and Women Habitues Cause Bars to Lose Licenses.

Nine saloons were closed yesterday by Mayor Thompson. Six of them were accused by the police of violating the Sunday closing law. N. Anais, 547 South Fifth avenue, lost his license on the report of the police that a woman habitue of the place was concerned in robbing a man of $160. Two saloons—3121 and 3161 South State street—both in the name of Hugh Hoskins, were closed on recommendation of Capt. Stephen K. Healy, who said Hoskins was using women as "snares." The other six whose licenses were rescinded were John Jamm, 2258 North Clark street; Charles Novotny, 3300 West Twenty-third street; Alex Geocaris, 3310 Milwaukee avenue; Laurance J. Ahearn, 4235 West Harrison street; George Pfeiffer, 1520 Wells street; and George B. Gardner, 3324 North Halsted street.

CHICAGO MEN GIVE GOTHAM GREAT AMUSEMENT CENTER.

Will Buy Whole Block in Heart of City and Build Huge Hall and Several Minor Structures.

New York, March 16.—[Special.]—An amusement and civic center greater than anything to be found in New York is planned for the block between Sixth and Seventh avenue, Fiftieth and Fifty-first streets. A syndicate of western business men and promoters, said to include Julius Rosenwald of Sears, Roebuck & Co., William Wrigley, chewing gum manufacturer, and L. E. Meyer, has offered to buy the block from the Interborough Rapid Transit company and the deal will be closed before the end of this week.

A price said to be $3,500,000 is to be paid. Another $3,000,000 is to be used in the improvement of the block. There will be a convention hall, theaters, roof garden, restaurant, concert halls, and offices. The convention hall will be larger than Madison Square garden, the capacity of which is about 15,000.

SUBPŒNAS OLD DOBBIN.

Judge Landis Wants Alonso Blue's Horse Brought Into Court Tomorrow as Witness.

Basing his opinion on personal experience as a dealer in horses and mules, Judge Landis does not believe that "a sound horse" should be sold for $15, especially if a wagon is thrown in with the horse. The judge wants to see a horse which has been held so cheap, and so yesterday he issued a subpœna "for Mr. Blue's horse" to appear in the United States District court tomorrow as a witness for Alonso Blue, charged with violating the Harrison anti-narcotic act.

KILLED BY SHAFT PLUNGE.

F. J. Schumacher, Head of Printing Company, Falls Four Stories in Loop.

Frederick J. Schumacher, president of the General Printing company of 305 South Fifth avenue, was killed last night in a fall down the elevator shaft from the fourth floor to the basement of the building. It is believed he stepped into the open shaft in the dark. Schumacher lived at 1125 South Richmond street.

MOVIE CENSOR CHIEF "JUMPED" OVER TWO WOMEN

FUNKHOUSER IS UNDER FIRE.

Even the vividness of moving pictures would fail to portray all the excitement that centered yesterday around the film censorship bureau in the city hall.

An irate mayor, an indignant chief of police, a tight lipped second deputy, and an agile "permit expert" for the manufacturers, who was the villain of the piece to some minds, all played their parts in the scenario.

Politics, conspiracies of the underworld, and schemes to slip objectionable pictures past the censors were woven into the plot. And for a corpus delicti there was at least an old oaken desk—not bucket—presented to a censor by a movie man.

Threats of violence came into the subtitles. The mayor and the chief predicted the chopping off of the second deputy's head if he confessed to the crime of having shown at a private exhibition some of the "cutouts" made by the censor.

Protest New Censor Chief.

They don't use a chorus in many movies, but if there was one needed it came from dozens of women's organizations which heard that the administration refused to appoint as chief censor the woman who has been acting in that capacity, although she was first on the eligible list.

The murmuring of the chorus has been heard for some time, but there was an audible crescendo when not only the first woman on the list but the second also was ignored and the promotion given to Wilbur F. Willis, 3110 North Sawyer avenue, the third person on the list "because he was a man," and for no other reason.

Willis Named Chief Censor.

The appointment of Willis as chief moving picture censor was announced by Chief Healey when reporters called at his office. The eligible list for this position showed the following at the top of the list:

Slavitsky, Eva L.	86.63
Kerr, Edith E.	84.00
Willis, Wilber F.	81.67

"Yes, he was the third on the list, but he was the first man," said Chief Healey.

"Is that why he was appointed—because he was a man?"

"Yes."

Mrs. Slavitsky has been on the board for two years and Willis has been a member for about eighteen months. The chief, it is understood, placed the subject of the appointment before Mayor Thompson at their morning conference. The chief, however, would not admit the mayor selected Willis.

Desk Gift Brought Out.

"But," said one of the reporters, "wasn't it this man Willis who was charged with accepting a desk from Harry Igel, the city hall man for the Universal, the Mutual, and the Triangle? It is said that Igel was the man who sent to Mayor Thompson's office the report that Maj. Funkhouser was disobeying orders by showing the cutouts, and he was active in the fight against censorship two years ago."

"I don't know anything about that," replied the chief. "I'll find out about it."

Willis was seen in the outer office, whither he had been summoned to receive notice of his appointment, and the chief was asked to call him in. He did so.

Admits He Got It.

"Mr. Willis," the chief said, "information has just come to me that you accepted a desk from a representative of the moving picture companies. Is that so?"

"Yes, that's so."

"What about it?"

"It was an old desk they were going to have the janitor throw out. They had it standing in the hall. It wasn't worth more than $1 or $1.50."

The chief told him the newspaper men wanted to ask him some questions.

"We are told that you and Harry Igel are good friends. Is that true?"

"I've known him about six years."

"How did you become acquainted with him?"

"Just in a casual way. At that time—I am a photographer—I was doing work of a scientific nature for the North Chicago hospital. Igel lives out there and I used to see him in the neighborhood. I wouldn't say now whether I met him in a cigar store or where it was."

Friendship Wouldn't Influence.

"Not at all. If you knew Igel you'd know he wouldn't ask anything of the sort. He isn't that kind of a man."

"Do you know anything about an offer of $2.50 to a clerk in the censorship bureau if he would steal some cutouts showing prize fighting that were wanted back?"

"I never heard anything about that."

Igel Denies Friendship with Willis

Mr. Igel denied that he had given the desk to Willis, but when told that Willis admitted it, said that other Universal employés had given it to him. He denied that he and Willis were friends. He denied that he had sought to bring about Willis' promotion or that the promotion would benefit him in any way.

The name of William Burkhart, deputy commissioner of public works, was brought into the discussion several times. Upon his appointment he turned over to his wife the Kenmore theater on Wilson avenue, and it is said he has taken a hand in censorship affairs a few times. He said he barely knew Igel, that he had not reported the forbidden exhibition to the mayor, and that he had not interceded on behalf of Willis.

Charges Against Funkhouser.

The action of the day started when reporters swarmed into Mayor Thompson's office to ask about a rumor that charges were to be preferred against Second Deputy Funkhouser over giving exhibitions of cutouts. They found Chief Healey, and both officials were asked about the report.

"The mayor gave me a verbal order some six weeks ago," said the chief, "to stop the exhibition of 'cutouts.' I at once repeated the order to Maj. Funkhouser. Recently I heard he was still giving such exhibitions, and when I asked him about it, he said he had given such an exhibition in the city hall. That constitutes flat disobedience of orders. Maj. Funkhouser's explanation was that he understood the order to apply only to exhibitions in connection with his speeches before clubs and lodges."

Mayor Defines His Position.

"Here's the principle on which we're operating," interposed the mayor. "The censors declare there are certain parts of films not fit to be shown in Chicago. If they are not fit to be shown publicly they are not fit to be shown at all."

Later the chief said it made no difference to him that the exhibition in question had been given for a small delegation from the Anti-Cruelty society led by Ald. Hugo Krause. But no charges as yet have been filed against Funkhouser.

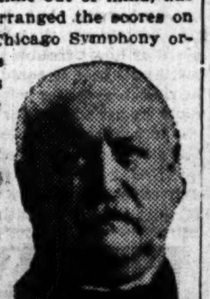
THEODORE F. M'NICOL, ORCHESTRA LIBRARIAN, DIES.

Never Missed a Concert of Chicago Symphony in Twenty-five Years Until Last Week.



Theodore F. McNicol

The man who, time out of mind, has stepped out and arranged the scores on the racks at the Chicago Symphony orchestra concerts will not be in his accustomed place this afternoon. Theodore F. McNicol, librarian of the orchestra since its organization, is dead at his home at 4509 North Western avenue.

"Mac," as he was familiarly known to every member of the orchestra, came to Chicago with Theodore Thomas in 1891. He had been associated with the foun[illegible] organization for eight years before that time.

During his twenty-five years in Chicago "Mac" never missed a concert until last week, when a bad cold kept him at his home. Pneumonia developed and his death followed.

"It almost broke his heart to give up the key to the library," said his widow yesterday.

EX-PATROLMAN REINSTATED AFTER CAUTIOUS HEARING.

He Was Fired Last September, Charged with Attacking a Woman Living in His Neighborhood.

Peter J. Cleary had been reinstated as a patrolman by order of the civil service commission. Cleary was ordered discharged last September after a trial on charges that he attacked Mrs. Henry F. Reilly in her home at 7431 Stewart avenue. Mrs. Reilly told the trial board that the patrolman, a neighbor, had come in to borrow a ruler and had seized and held her until she fought him off.

Without publicity of any sort Cleary was given a rehearing last week. Members of the civil service commission said several witnesses were heard, but their names had been forgotten.

The trial board apparently took a grain of salt with the charges of Mrs. Josephine Groh, an investigator, that Patrolman Frederick Schober called her "stingy" because she repulsed his advances in a South Chicago saloon. The board fined Schober only three days' pay.

DILLON SLAYING GUNMEN'S FEUD?

Murder of Kelly by Supposed Rivals Linked to New Crime.

Nineteen months ago an alleged "gunman," known to the police as "Jimmy" Kelly, but whose real name proved to be James Fletcher, was found murdered under mysterious circumstances in the hallway at 2300 Wabash avenue.

He had been a leader of what was known in police circles as the "stock yards gang," but with a number of followers had seceded and organized what the police dubbed the "Archer avenue gang."

Thomas J. Dillon remained loyal to the original band. Kelly had been drinking and visiting various dives with his former cronies. Kelly was "accidentally" picked up by his former followers, in their automobile. About 2 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 30, 1913, Mrs. Kelly was aroused by the automobile stopping in front of the door. An instant later she heard shots. She found her husband dying.

He Refuses to "Squeal."

The police were called. Lieut. Edward Grady, then commander of the Cottage Grove station, said to the dying man: "Jimmy, they've shot out your light. Get back at them."

Jimmy responded: "Do you think I'm a squealer? I'll get the right guy if I recover and if I don't others will attend to that business. You know better than to ask me to squeal."

A priest was summoned and he, too, pleaded with the dying man to reveal the name of his assailant, but Kelly remained obdurate.

Lieut. Grady became alarmed when he heard through a "stool" that Kelly's friends would pay $1,000 to the man who "got" Dillon.

Find Dillon Dead

At 2 o'clock yesterday morning Dillon, a waiter, was summoned from his room at 113 West Ontario street. He was preparing for bed. His wife, Florence, and Mrs. Fay Knox, who had been in another room, heard five shots in succession. Immediately afterward they found Dillon dead.

Capt. William F. Russell, one of Chief Healey's new appointees, took the two women in custody, and later, when Frank Knox, husband of the woman detained, surrendered, locked him up also. Capt. Russell gave out newspaper interviews in which he stated that he believed the murder was the result of "labor trouble."

Capt. Hunt, head of the detective bureau, assigned several men on the investigation, and at night expressed the opinion that Dillon's death was a sequel to Kelly's murder.

MY DEAR, IT WAS AWFUL; SHE ATE LITTLE ONES.

But Most of Mrs. X. Pulchra Fish's Offspring Were Saved for the Aquarium in Cups.

Old Doc Stork brought forty tiny Mexican-Americans into Chicago yesterday. They are the sons and daughters of Mrs. Xiphophorus Pulchra, whose native haunts are the lakes and rivers of Mexico. She is one of the three species of live-bearing fish at the Art institute exhibit.

The arrival of the young fish caused some consternation among the attendants, who found it difficult to capture the fish before their mother ate them. They were dipped out with cups, however, and probably will live to become a part of Chicago's proposed public aquarium. The newcomers are about one-thirty-second of an inch long.

MOVIE FOLK ARE DIVORCED.

Mrs. Harriet Van Buren, a movie film cutter, who was named as co-respondent in a divorce bill filed by Mrs. Henry C. Igles, wife of an exhibiting manager employed by the same movie firm, was granted a divorce and custody of her two sons yesterday by Judge Kersten.

WALL EYEHOLE PUZZLE IN SUIT

Dictagraph May Have Played Part in Alienation Action.

The purposes of "the peephole on the third floor front" furnish a deep mystery which may be solved at the hearing of a $25,000 alienation suit pending against Attorney Frank O. Campe of 4716 Magnolia avenue.

The declaration of the suit was filed yesterday by Attorney William L. Reed for Norman Y. Leslie of 1319 Sunnyside avenue, who charges Campe with alienating the affections of his wife, Mrs. Agnes Leslie.

Simultaneously with the filing of the bill came an anonymous phone call to THE TRIBUNE.

Strung Dictagraph Wires.

"You know that Leslie alienation suit?" inquired the voice. "Well, one man had an apartment next door to the Leslie flat. Somebody broke a hole in the wall and strung dictagraph wires. He was in there with another named White. He rented the flat from a family named Sosman on the Beacon street side."

Now, then, Mr. Leslie and his wife occupied the third floor flat on the Sunnyside avenue side of the apartment building. Arthur Sosman leases the third floor flat next door. The peep hole was found in the wall between the two flats. J. A. Weiss, the janitor of the building, was able to give some information.

Their Flat Subleased.

"The Sosmans subleased their flat furnished about five months ago to a man named White," said Weiss. "There was another man in the flat with him. They were in there about two months, and left about three months ago. When they left and Mrs. Sosman returned she complained there was a hole in the wall. I went up there, and on the Sosman side, about seven feet up in the front hall wall, was a hole six inches square. It was only about as big as your finger tip on the Leslie side—just big enough for a dictagraph wire."

"I can't tell you anything," said Mrs. Sosman.

Campe Not at Home.

Attorney Reed could not be reached. Mr. Campe was not at home and a woman who said she was the maid expressed the wish that persons calling up would please let her sleep.

Mrs. Leslie, it was said, was away for a time at some sanitarium or hospital, but was at home yesterday, and, according to Weiss, was at home at the time White and his partner occupied the Sosman flat.

Whether the peephole was used for dictagraph purposes, as a secret route of communication, or merely as an ordinary, everyday peephole, could not be verified. At any rate, the bill recites that the lawyer "carried on a clandestine and secret correspondence with the said Agnes, and then and there cajoled and flattered her and made her many promises of love, and held many clandestine meetings with her, and gave her various presents and things of value, and by various arts, schemes, and devices alienated her affections."

BACHELORS' NEST DOOMED.

Pullman Building to Oust Men Because Space Is Needed for Offices.

Bachelors are going to be routed out of the Pullman building. Not because of any "gay doings," but because the Pullman company wants the space for additional offices. The ousting takes effect May 1. Many bachelors have lived there for years. I. K. Pond, one of the designers of the building, who has lived there since it was completed, will have to find quarters elsewhere. Allen B. Pond, W. S. Keith, Joseph G. Snydacker, W. F. Lawson, and Walter L. Roloson are among the others.

OFF GO LOCKS AT THE AUDITORIUM

Maj. Gen. Cleofonte Campanini and Aide-de-Camp Julius Daiber arrived yesterday from New York and went at once to Fort Auditorium and left the doors open. Campanini talked—only about the grand operatic stars he has signed.

Gone were all the Pinkerton mercenaries, gone all locks and bolts. Only broad smiles were in evidence, and when asked to comment on the slight misunderstanding between himself and John C. Shaffer he said:

"Non! Nossing! Donaghey, he make ze gr-reat war. Bang! Boom! Now, say ze maestro, Donaghey mus' go to Mexico."

Nothing Worries Him.

Not even the fact that John C. Shaffer also has arrived in Chicago seemed to disturb him. Instead, he was bubbling over with the fact that he already has signed a galaxy of big stars and is negotiating for others.

Geraldine Farrar, Maria Kousnezoff, Alice Zeppili, and Olive Fremstad are a strong quartet whose names, he declares, already are attached to contracts, and he has strong hopes of signing Mary Garden and others.

Others well known to Chicagoans are Myrna Sharlow, Cyrene Van Gordon, Valerie Devries, and Myrtle Moses, all of whom have been signed.

Some Little Promiser.

"I, Campanini, pr-r-promise Chicago ze best season of gr-r-and opera ever here. Let me but get Garden, Matzenauer, and Raisi—ah! Ze best is nossing better—non, vat I mean—you cannot beat ze best, and zat I will have."

Regarding the men, he said he would have more to say later, when he has a real galaxy of stars to announce. He expressed deep regret at his inability to get Mario Sammarco.

"But wait. Soon I will tell of ze men I sign. Ha-ha-ha! Donaghey he make mooch war. Ha-ha-ha! Go to Mexico."

John C. Shaffer refused to make any comment regarding the grand opera controversy. Asked if he intends to take any definite quick action he said:

"I have made my statement, and that is all for the present."

GEO. E. COLE UNDER KNIFE.

George E. Cole, head of George E. Cole & Co., one of the largest blank book printing concerns in the central west, became suddenly ill at his office in the Conway building yesterday and was rushed to the Sheridan Park hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis. Mr. Cole, who has been a leader in practically every civic reform movement in Chicago and Illinois for the last twenty years, first became ill at his home in Wilmette Wednesday night.

Mr. Cole is 71 years old.

Illness of Albert Fink, counsel for the defense, resulted last night in an agreement by attorneys on both sides to continue the trial of William Lorimer until next Monday. Mr. Fink was taken ill Wednesday and was unable to attend court when Assistant State's Attorney William H. Holly completed his opening statement of the case for the prosecution. When court reconvenes Mr. Fink will make his opening statement of the case for the defense, and William C. Niblack, receiver for the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, then will be called to the stand as the first witness for the prosecution.

ARBITRATORS AT DEADLOCK.

With the appearance on the scene of members of the state board of arbitration and officials of the American Federation of Labor the situation in the little town about the works of the Corn Products Refining company took on a more serious aspect. A pitched battle between the 300 strikers and a like number of armed guards and deputy sheriffs at the plant is expected at almost any hour today.

Supt. F. J. Jeffries declared that 500 men who had been thrown out of work when the strike closed the plant were back at their machines. The strikers maintained that not more than a dozen men had returned and that the starting of the machinery was a bluff.

Hasn't Power to Arbitrate.

Leo J. Winiecki, a member of the arbitration board; Charles D. Preble, its secretary, and two representatives of the strikers went into the besieged plant in the afternoon and held a conference with Supt. Jeffries. The arbitrators offered their services, but the conference came to nothing.

"I haven't the power to arbitrate," said the superintendent. "I have been instructed that no raise in pay will be granted by the company and that I am not to listen to any talk."

"Don't go to work until you get what you are after," he told them. "If those guards try to drive you from the public streets and murder you with rifles, drive them back into the plant."

Flood said that the federation had "taken charge" of the strike and would give the workmen its full support. If necessary, he added, funds will be provided for carrying on a protracted fight.

Flood Charges Coercion.

"The Argo plant is trying to club these men back to work. There has been nothing worse since the Colorado strike. Never has Cook county been in such a ridiculous position as it is in today at Argo.

"One hundred men, acting as deputy sheriffs in the name of Cook county, armed with rifles, picks, and ax handles, are trying to browbeat and sandbag the workers in order to force them back into the plant on the company's terms. locked up.

"With our attorney, Daniel L. Cruice, I intend to visit Sheriff Traeger in the morning and ask him to make an investigation of the acts of violence here. As a citizen of the state and a member of the American Federation of Labor I shall ask him to come here and take personal charge of the situation to prevent the possibility of wholesale murder."

Guards Clear Streets.

At daybreak a crowd of 500, many of them armed, had gathered about the entrance to the plant. At 7 o'clock seventy-five guards and deputies, armed with rifles, shotguns, and axhandles, marched out and drove the strikers before them down the main street of Argo to the center of the town.

The strikers showed little resistance, but the guards came on menacingly, and one, Joe Breast, was seen to club a striker over the head with the butt of his gun.

Another of the workers, said to have been armed, was chased down the street, the guards firing a dozen shots after him as he ran. A store window was smashed, but no one was hit.

The man was captured and, with two others, was taken into the plant and locked up. Later the three were taken away somewhere, probably to Lyons.

A picturesque episode followed when Supt. Jeffries, flanked by armed guards, whirled out of the plant in an automobile, climbed on a table in the street, and addressed the men. "I've always been square with you," he said. "Be square with me. Come back and you'll be protected and dealt with fairly."

Fifteen of the strikers altogether were arrested during the day, but after the guards' early morning charge there was little violence.

Strike at Pullman Shops.

Four hundred unskilled laborers employed in the Pullman company shops walked out on strike in the morning, established pickets, and attempted to persuade others to leave their work. The strikers declare they took action because of the refusal of their demands for a pay increase of 4 cents an hour. Their present pay is 21 cents an hour.

"No formal demand for an increase in pay was made," said the superintendent of the plant, F. M. Dunn. "I didn't hear of any demands until after the workers had left their places."

Mr. Dunn declared he could not say whether the increase would be given the workers. He said none of the skilled workers at the plant quit.

Employe Shot in Leg.

A strike of 100 laborers at the Patent Vulcanite Roofing company's plant at Forty-ninth street and Oakley avenue led to the shooting of W. R. Winn, an employé. He was wounded in the leg.

Two hundred and seventy rivet heaters and apprentice machinists went back to work at the Western Steel Car and Foundry company's plant after a strike of a few hours.

BY KITTY KELLY.

ALACK! This seems to be a Jonah week in photoplayland. Every producer appears to have taken a certain time to slump back and go easy on productions, and the times appear to have coincided in now for us.

Of all the pictures holding loop screens this week the best is probably the new Fine Arts Triangle, "The Habit of Happiness," with that ingratiating Douglas Fairbanks heroing through it. It is a very funny picture, but it does have its limitations. For instance, it starts out blithely and it ends it up with something of a snap, but in between there is a sag not only of interest but of motivation. The trouble is not with Mr. Fairbanks, nor yet with the directing, but with the story. For such a very large part of the proceedings there just is no such thing.

Laughter is proven infectious, the audience responding with warm enthusiasm whenever given the chance, and there are a number of chances, but not so many as Mr. Fairbanks is capable of projecting in five reels. Never could this story be put through the sieve of plausibility, but one wouldn't mind that if it had more point and got there more consistently.

The types of men in the lodging house are wonderfully effective, but the laughing exercises are quite beyond the pale of possibility, and the little incident of the old man and his mortgage money proves it. The scenes in the gloom house are many of them excellent, and then they, too, are carried to the verge of absurdity. The climax might have been strengthened 50 per cent had Fairbanks participated in it in person.

O, well, the trouble is that the idea is great, but its projection in story form hung fire, and the pictured result is correspondingly limited. Even the subtitles, which no one does better than Fine Arts, fade away in their funniness.

George Fawcett, the glum old Jonathan Pepper, into whom Mr. Fairbanks tries hard to put some pep and smiles and who is hard at work on "The Crisis" at the Selig Chicago studios, spoke a few words last night. Chuckles greeted his reading of the following telegram from Douglas Fairbanks in Hollywood, Cal.:

"My Dear George: So glad picture is success, and when you step out on the stage if you find it as hard to make the audience laugh as I did trying to make you laugh you will have a hard job. Kindly pay my respects to the Chicago public and tell them I am hard at work on another picture. My only regret is that we are not together, George."

The other feature number of the program presents another masculine star, H. B. Warner, showing how he rose from junior clerkdom to the heights of finance, assisting the girl's father in the holding of them against the villain, who is trying to break him on the market. Here again is no wonderful story, and only ordinary pictorial relating of it.

Singular coincidence gives the same situation to both of these offerings on the same program—in both, an attempt is made to keep the capitalist father of the girl away from Wall street, while the villains manipulate the market in an attempt to make a killing.

'Round the Studios.

The Annette Kellermann picture, labeled by the Fox people "the million dollar production," which all winter has been being made down in Jamaica, will be completed along about the end of April. June is the nearest time for seeing it.

Why Not Be Graceful?

Antoinette Donnelly

GRACE is distinctly an element of charm. Therefore you can't afford to neglect your figure and allow yourself to get clumsy and heavy. You can't afford either to let yourself remain so thin that you look rawboned and awkward. The amount of flesh you have or you haven't got has everything to do with the grace of your figure.

It is a mistake to think that a plump figure must necessarily be ungraceful. Far from it. There is nothing prettier than the prettily rounded plumpness of youth. But there's the rub! You mustn't let yourself weigh a pound more than the prettily rounded plumpness of youth. With an occasional rare exception where the tendency to flesh is due to an abnormal condition of the pituitary and thyroid secretions, no woman need let herself weigh more than the standard weight prescribed for her height and age.

Don't wait until you have taken on twenty extra pounds before you begin to worry about losing your graceful lines. Find out today what your weight should be and begin at once to work to get down to that measurement. How? By diet and exercise.

Diet isn't the bugaboo you think it is at all. There are a certain number of food calories necessary for the day's work. You can at your first meal eat food containing calories enough for the whole day's eating. For instance, if your breakfast were to consist of, say, one-half grape fruit, oatmeal, or any other cereal with rich cream and sugar, bacon and eggs, three pieces of buttered toast, and a cup or two of coffee rich in cream and sugar, you will pretty nearly consume enough calories or food units necessary for the day. If for dinner at night you eat fat meat, potatoes in quantity, salad with rich oil dressing, and dessert made with milk, or pastry, again you have gone over the allotted food units.

It is your duty first, then, to learn for yourself what foods are fat producing and what are not. Foods can be nourishing without being fat producing. Then cut down on your fat producing diet and go in for regular daily exercise.

KEEP THE CORNERS OF YOUR UP

If your rawbonedness is responsible for your lack of grace, eat fat producing foods. Massage your face and neck with a good skin food. Give yourself plenty of rest. And exercise daily, too, so that an appetite for tissue building foods will be excited.

Fullness Hides Defect.

Dressmakers used to tell me that nothing but a bustle or a pad would conceal the unsightly hollow just below the small of my back. I objected to both of these for reasons of health and comfort.

Then I happened to have a dress made with gathers at the back, but with fullness so disposed that my too large hips were not magnified. Result, I now have my skirts made or altered so that gathers or plaits hide that hollow place and at the same time give fullness to the skirt without adding any apparent bulk.

I have also learned that an olive skinned person without color should beware of black or black and white combinations for daytime wear. My wardrobe being limited, I now choose almost nothing but browns and greens, which are both becoming and harmonizing. They wear well and look well and are more distinctive than the usual blue serge of a working woman. G. E. B.

Kept in Perfect Repair.

It is the little things in dress that count. Many a time I have worn a suit two and even three seasons, but I have always had them made by a first class tailor, and in a conservative way. My gloves, veils, shoes, handkerchiefs, and corsets have always been of excellent quality and kept in perfect repair. And I launder my dainty neckwear myself, so that it is always fresh and attractive. I have the reputation of being the best dressed woman in a large office, yet I don't spend as much on my wardrobe as many of my companions. Keep clothes repaired, thoroughly clean, press often, and avoid loud, faddy colors and styles if you wish to be well dressed. N. M. E.

Not for the Double Chin.

I found that high collars are not for one having a double chin or inclined to be stout, as it makes one's face look all the more plump. After I took to wearing low collars my friends asked me: "Aren't you getting thinner?" It was all on account of my changing the way of dressing my neck. —L.

The Amateur Gardener

IN the last two articles I have given an outline of plant culture in its most important phases. The reader must not get the impression that adherence to the advice given therein constitutes all that there is to do in order to achieve success. It is the "little things" that can be done that make success possible in the best sense of the term.

Fresh air should be admitted to the room in which plants are kept on every pleasant day, even in the middle of winter. Of course, it would never do to let cold air from out of doors blow directly on your plants, but by opening a door or window at some distance from them the fresh air coming in will mix with the warm air in the room before it reaches them, and thus it will be robbed of its tang.

Attention must be given on cold nights. If the thermometer threatens to go to zero or below, move your plants away from the window, or let down thick paper shades between them and the glass.

If your plants should get frost bitten, do not attempt to remedy matters by the use of heat. Remove them as soon as their condition is discovered to a cool—but frostproof—room, and shower them with cold water. Give them such a drenching that every part of them will be thoroughly saturated.

Then drop the shades at the windows, and shut the doors between the room they are in and adjoining rooms in which there is heat of any kind, and let the water you have applied do its work.

Unless the plants were severely frozen, cold water will extract the frost so gradually that but little harm will result. But if you find that their tops are killed, cut each plant back to within a few inches of the pot, and hope that there may be enough life left in the roots to develop new growth later on.

BRIGHT SAYINGS of the CHILDREN

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Write on one side of the paper only. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

Our little girl is fond of sympathetic people and showed a slight cut on her finger to her older sister, who said, "O, that will soon heal." The little miss said, "You are so unloving you haven't a bit of sorriness in you." R. M.

Richard, who had always been fond of salad, refused it one day, whereupon his mother asked why he had taken a dislike to it. "O, I've turned traitor on it," replied Richard. M. E. T.

A mother asked her little son why his chum, Donald, wasn't also in class A. He replied: "I'll tell you, mother. Donald when asked a question thinks, and thinks, and thinks, and then he says what it ain't." P. H. D.

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

by JANE EDDINGTON

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

Nature has perhaps pampered us by giving us generous changes of flavor as the seasons roll by, and science has seen in agreeable and varied flavors valuable digestive agents, although some dietitians think the desire for change of flavor a human weakness.

Gingered Rice Pudding.

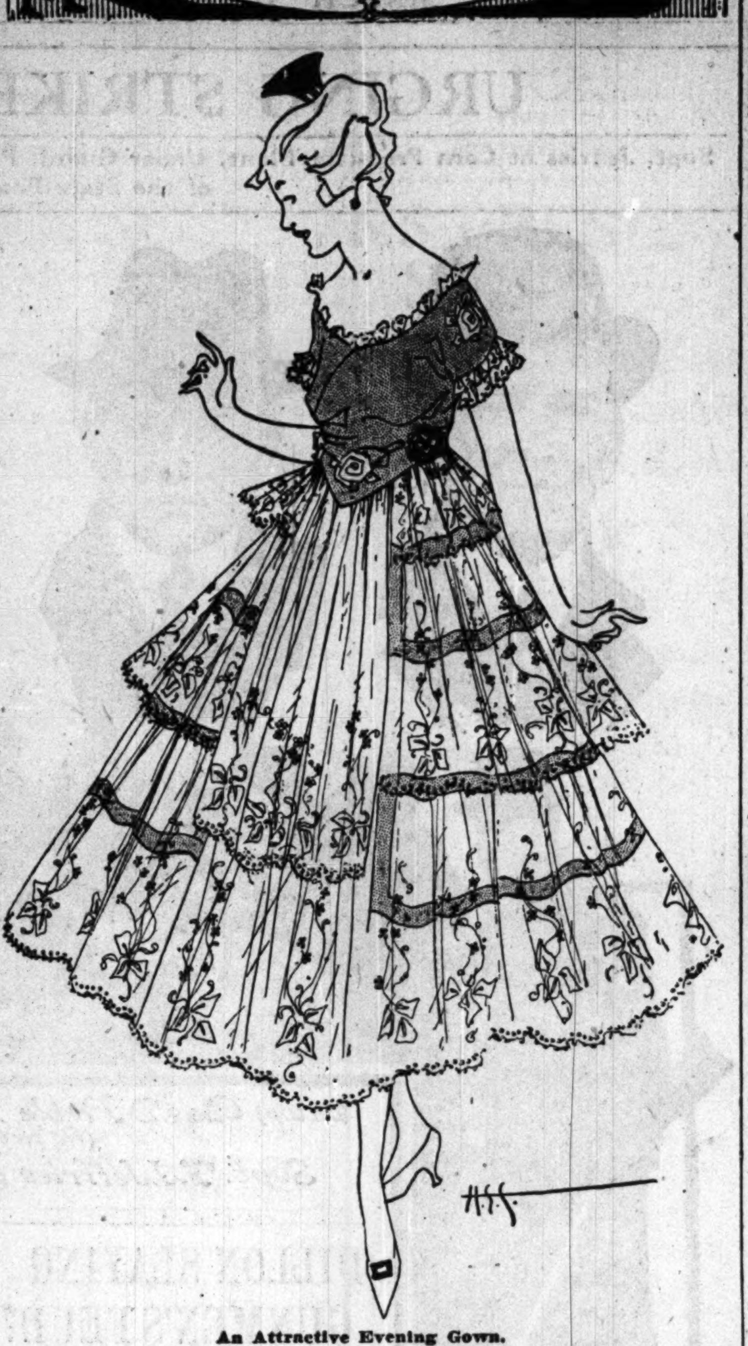
THERE is perhaps no other pudding equally great food value which is so inexpensive and palatable as the eggless rice pudding, or creamy rice pudding, as it is often called. It is but one of the several excellent ways of cooking rice with milk, but it does lend itself better to changes of flavor than any of the other ways, so may be used frequently without monotony.

Baked in individual dishes with rather gentle heat, and for at least an hour and a half, with several stirrings in of the crust which forms on the top, creamy rice pudding is an attractive dessert, made more so by baking it in glass and finally adding a meringue. It is about equally good whether hot or cold. More than this, a considerable number of variations can be made without once adding an acid fruit which makes it less digestible. The long baking makes it both more digestible and palatable, and it is dainty of flavor if just the stirred in top is all to give this.

The Recipe.

To each cup of milk allow one tablespoon of rice and one of sugar, or more if to taste, and one piece of candied ginger about an inch and a half long. Butter pudding dish, put into it the well washed rice and milk, with sugar and the ginger cut in bits, bake in moderate oven for one hour and a half, stirring in the top at least three times.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK



An Attractive Evening Gown.

BY ROSE WINDSOR.

YOUTH and happiness are surely expressed in the charming little frock that is depicted in the illustration. Gold thread lace, whereon appear delicately clustered blossoms with spreading leaves, is chosen for its fashioning. The corsage is developed in an exquisite shade of turquoise blue silk and much richness is achieved by the beautifully embroidered silver roses. The skirt with its apronlike front is gayly befrilled at the side and back, while a charming touch of color is revealed in the blue ribbon bands that are prettily veiled by the lace.

While many of the most attractive evening frocks are designed with the rather snug fitting bodice and billowy skirt that is decidedly hooplike in appearance, another silhouette equally interesting and well suited to a different type of figure reveals an absence of waist line or rather one that is much lower than normal. Such models are usually distinguished by the absence of fluffy trimmings, and where a dash of color is deemed necessary motifs in contrasting hue are delicately embroidered on the corsage, while tassels, varied in size, that naturally hang straight, are often used to accentuate the long lines of the gown.

Real Love Stories

Her First Patient—And Last.

AS a girl, my dreams were most ambitious ones. I had chosen the medical profession in which to climb the ladder to fame, and if hard work and whole heartedness of purpose were stepping stones to that height I was, indeed, on the way. I entered medical college the fall after graduation from the high school, and for four years I studied incessantly, finding no time for social life.

Our home had for some years been a center for the young people of our community, for my parents enjoyed making it such, and I was only one of a large family of young folks, and the only one to whom society did not appeal. Many an evening I closed my door to the sound of the piano and dancing, so as to be undisturbed in my preparation for the morrow's quiz. In fact, for several years young people came to our home whom I never met.

I heard my brother speak in particular of one young man, a newcomer to our city. He had asked to meet me, but I had always refused to come down when he called. One night shortly before my graduation, I was disturbed at my work by my brother walking into the room, followed by this young man, who from his appearance I could see was quite ill. He had not felt well all that day, but having promised to take a young lady cousin of ours, who was visiting us, to theater, he had tried to keep his engagement. My brother, having quickly seen that he was ill, had insisted on his seeing me, before they left for the theater. After a cursory examination I advised him to return to his hotel and call his physician. My kind hearted mother insisted on his staying at our home, which he was persuaded to do, but refused to have any other physician than myself. As I realized that the case was not serious I consented to take it.

In a few days my patient was ready to be discharged, but before leaving my care he told me that he had developed a peculiar heart trouble since he had known me, and knew it could only be cured by having his doctor with him always. It took many weeks for him to persuade me to accept this case. Finally I did so, for although I received my M. D. degree, my first patient has remained my last, and he has been fully worth the sacrifice of my girlhood ambition. B. D.

MUSIC AND THE MUSICIANS

Madrigal Club at Central Music Hall.

BY ERIC DE LAMARTER.

MADRIGAL, glee, and part song have sustained the Chicago Madrigal club, D. A. Clippinger conductor, for some fifteen years. If Mr. Clippinger would talk he might say some very interesting things concerning the changes in ideals of choral work since his first season as director; he might prove, from the succession of prize compositions submitted to him, the gradual disappearance of distinctions between madrigal and part song; he might trace a very recent development due to the printing in English of numbers from the Russian church liturgy, and forecast their influence. For a conductor enthusiastic in such a cause faces most interesting problems in an art whose literature dates from an epoch so far back in the mists of medieval history that the piano repertory seems an adolescent in comparison.

Makers of such programs find an embarrassment of riches. Mr. Clippinger, mindful always of his audience, mindful of the fact that not all are burrowers in the Newberry library day after day, wisely confines his choir's efforts to no one style of music. His program for the concert of last evening at Central Music hall was typical. It was begun with a Sanctus by Lotti, and continued with Glinka's six voiced cherubim song, an arrangement from the Gaelic by Robertson; Orlando de Lassus' madrigal, "I Know a Young Maiden"; Sanford's "The Fairies," a prize song by Evans, and Mr. Chadwick's "O Lady, Leave Thy Silken Thread." Notable in the second half were a Japanese serenade from the fourth dynastic period and several arrangements.

Mr. Clippinger's singers have developed an individual style of interpretation. It is not an elastic scheme, but it is a sound, serviceable scheme, fair to all periods and manners, and dependable. Smoothness of tone and good balance, a clean enunciation, and flexible shadings are its characteristics. The club has given many memorable performances, the most notable being that of the Lotti eight voiced "Crucifixus" two seasons ago.

The most expert singing we recall from this concert was done in Stanford's "The Fairies," in which the enunciation was a work of art, and in Mr. Chadwick's prize composition, commendable for its differentiation of moods. The weak point revealed on this occasion was the matter of timbre and range in the soprano contingent. So long as the part did not rise above the middle register or demand more than a mild forte the ensemble tone was charming, blending well, and balancing. But the phrase, "O take care," from De Lassus' "I Know a Young Maiden," for example, was a blemish, due directly to that soprano timbre. In respect to mechanical details of attack and shading the choir's work was commendable, despite one or two moments of inaccuracies of pitch.

Albert Borroff, the Chicago bass, was the assisting soloist. Handel's recitative and aria, "Co ragio placido," was interpreted with the ease and the clarity and the scholarly style characteristic of Mr. Borroff's work. Brahms' "Nightingale" and Liddle's "Now" delighted the audience, and Mr. Borroff was constrained to add a rollicking Scotch song for encore.

MARION HARLAND'S HELPING·HAND

by MARION HARLAND

Washing Fluid.

"I THINK this is the desired recipe for washing fluid. If not, it may do some one good. I find it excellent: One pound of potash, half ounce of muriate of ammonia, half ounce of salts of tartar. Dissolve in cold water and add a gallon of boiling water. "L."

You do not say who desired the recipe. We are glad to print it for her eyes and for those of housewives in general.

Boiling Clothes Before Washing.

"Will you be good enough to advise through your valuable Corner an opinion as to boiling clothes before washing them? Not that I am lazy, but I find this an easier and quicker method, and while I have heard from some people that they get good results from washing clothes in this way I do not always find my clothes clean enough. I have a washing machine. Any information on this subject will be gratefully received for which the writer will wait patiently. I hope to see an answer soon as I am anxious for my next washing (and all washings) to be scrupulously clean. A suggestion. Clean nickel and silver pieces with ammonia applied with a flannel cloth. I long for some good canning recipes for fruit. H. C."

I do not hesitate to enter my protest against boiling clothes before they are washed. Furthermore, I insist that soiled clothes be soaked overnight before they are washed.

Boiling "sets" the dirt and distributes it to cleaner garments. It is well always to select from the pile of articles brought to the laundry the table linen and put it to soak in a tub reserved for that purpose. Good taste revolts at huddling dainty napery into the water with body clothing and bed linen. Moreover, the color imparted by soiled articles makes the work of cleaning more delicate fabrics difficult. The canning season is so distant that we have plenty of time in which to collect the recipes for putting up fruit for which you ask. Will members heed and comply with the request?

Mix with Milk.

"Some one asked in your Corner how to keep horseradish white. Try mixing it with milk, and it will keep white for months. After the horseradish has been grated sprinkle a little salt over it, then a bit of sugar. I then mix a little white vinegar in water and add that; then, lastly, the milk—about a tablespoonful. You may also add in your Helping Hand, if you wish, that peach stains may be removed from silk or cotton by freezing it on the ice, then scrape off gently. L."

Flavoring Recipe Called For.

"Would you please print a recipe for vanilla flavoring, published some time ago, in the Corner, which I failed to save? It seemed a good one. L. C."

I am sorry, but we have no record of any recipe for vanilla flavoring. Should it have escaped my eye, the thrifty member who espied and preserved it will please let us have it, or any other formula for vanilla flavoring she can recommend conscientiously.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Immediate?—Yes! Certain!—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—Adv.

Miss Jane Vincent to Wed J. S. Barker.

MRS. WILLIAM A. VINCENT will arrive home from Annapolis, where she has been for some time visiting her son, John Vincent II., early next week. Her daughter, Miss Jane Vincent, who went east with her, has returned home and is staying with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vincent of 609 Rush street, until her mother's return.

Her wedding to Joseph Shumway Barker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Barker of 4633 Greenwood avenue will take place the last of April. The date is dependent on the time that Miss Vincent's brother will return from Annapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Glessner of 4630 Greenwood avenue, who have been spending several weeks in Florida, will return to Chicago on March 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Revell of 842 Lincoln parkway returned yesterday from Palm Beach, Fla.

The members of the Woman's auxiliary of St. James' Episcopal church have sent out invitations for a series of lectures, to be given on Tuesdays by the rector, the Rev. James S. Stone, during Lent. Mrs. Edward F. Lawrence of 1224 Lake Shore drive will be hostess next Tuesday, when "St. Augustine of Hippo" will be the subject of the address.

On March 28 Mrs. Malcolm Caruthers of 61 Banks street, will be hostess and Dr. Stone will speak on "The Canterbury Pilgrims." Mrs. Charles D. Dana of 1260 Astor street will be hostess on April 4, when "St. Francis of Assi" will be the subject of the talk; and on April 11 Mrs. Lucius Hoyt of 1406 North State parkway will open her home for the address on "Thomas Ken." The lectures will start at 11 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Muller of 4353 Oakenwald avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Irma Prause, to Edward Louis Merrell of Cleveland, O. The wedding will take place this spring.

Mrs. William D. Foreman of 5038 Winthrop avenue will entertain tomorrow at luncheon.

Mrs. George William Brady of 728 East Fifty-first street will give a St. Patrick's dinner-dance tomorrow evening for fifty guests.

The Palos Improvement club will give a St. Patrick's dinner and dance Saturday evening at the club house in Palos Park. The occasion will mark the opening of the new club rooms, which have recently been added to those already used by the club.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Bromley Allen have returned from a four weeks' trip in the south.

There will be a St. Patrick's tea this afternoon at the college club, at which Mrs. Clarence Hough, Mrs Carl S. Williams, Miss Mildred Frink, and Mrs. Ira Hoover will be hostesses. In the evening there will be an Irish frolic and cotillion, under the auspices of the Glee club.

OBITUARY.

CHARLES M HEWITT IS DEAD.

Charles M. Hewitt, president of the Hewitt company and the Magnus company, manufacturers of railway supplies, was found dead in bed yesterday in his hotel room in Palm Beach, Fla.

With Mrs. Hewitt he had given a dinner the night before at the Beach club and left late in the evening in the best of spirits. Apoplexy caused his death.

Mr. Hewitt had long been an invalid and had spent years at various European and American resorts. He was born in Detroit in 1857, entered the employ of the Pullman company after leaving school, and took up the manufacturing business in 1886.

GEORGE G. STANDART, president of George G. Standart & Co., hardware dealers at 136 West Lake street, died on Wednesday at New Orleans, La. He was 84 years old. His Chicago residence was 1449 East Fiftieth street.

CAPT. PERCIVAL J. WERLICH, retired officer in the United States navy, died yesterday at 961 Edgecomb place. He was 59 years old. Before the European war Capt. Werlich was stationed abroad. He was in the navy forty-three years.

SAMUEL E. TATE, 71, well known printer and prominent in Masonic and other fraternal organizations, died at Milwaukee yesterday.

THE marriage is announced of Miss Ruth Keefe, daughter of J. S. Keefe of Oak Park, to Frederick M. Darnell, which took place on Saturday at the family residence. The couple have gone east, and from New York will go to New Orleans. They will be at home after April 15 in Memphis, Tenn.

Finding Thrills in a Geographic Talk.

BY CINDERELLA.

WHEN one goes to a lecture on "Geographic and Economic Foundations of the Great War" one not unnaturally expects to swallow a few yawns, give a few loving thoughts to the spring wardrobe, and otherwise relax.

One does not expect to sit upon the edge of one's chair, crack one's gloves with applause, and go out saying "Thrilling, thrilling."

But that was precisely what happened Tuesday afternoon at the last of the Chicago Lectures association's meetings in the ballroom of the Fine Arts when Prof. John Paul Goode took the above weighty and terrifying topic and transformed it into a gleaming web of scientific facts, epigrams, historical facts, brilliant paradoxes, with skillful overtures of statistics.

The audience was utterly charmed, enthusiastic, even temperamental, over Prof. Goode, and lots of them said they could sit right down and hear the whole thing over again, statistics and all.

And where the lecturer was superclever he glorified his statistics by making them into lantern slides and in not drawing them out in billions and trillions.

He said the foundations of this war were laid æons of time ago by the geographic structure of the continents of Asia and Europe. Hordes of armed men for centuries had swept successfully westward over the Asiatic plain as they were sweeping now forward and back on the Prussian plain.

Crossing over with an English general, he asked him the value to England of the English channel. "One million armed men," was the reply.

Geography having caused the war, economic conditions would close it. Germany, the largest rye and potato country in the world, imported annually 225,000,000 bushels of rye for her population—where would they find its substitute now?

The wars of the future, said the professor, would be caused by the coal and iron of the world. One-fourth of the iron supply of the world is in South American soil; a larger quantity in the United States, and coal in trillions of tons. Those are most desirable, other nations are envious of them already, and yet men like Dr. David Starr Jordan say "A nation that is not loaded does not go off."

You trembled in your white spats when you heard all this, but one lady said when she returned home and told her husband how exciting this all was, he was sure to say tush.

The charm of Prof. Goode's talk is that it was objectively brilliant, not subjectively.

One girl in the audience said she was going to give a party, if possible, of the most frivolous persons she knew and have the above lecture presented to them by Prof. Goode in the missionary hope of making knowledge alluring.

The Chicago Lectures association winds up in a blaze of glory. The course has been highly successful, fashionably complete.

In New York the Berkeley lyceum goes much further than we do in lectures. They have lectures in every language and on every subject, every day in the week. New York women are great lecture goers.

And a very interesting thing about the New York women of the present day is that the personal note is so rarely struck at women's luncheons. Personalities and gossip do not exist in the fashionable world and conversation is, as it should be, on a plane of literary and political and scientific or public matters.

SHARP UPTURN IN WHEAT; DAMAGE REPORTS FACTOR

In spite of lower cables and bearish news from Europe, prices for wheat continued to advance yesterday, showing a net gain for the day of ¼c to 1@1⅛c. The May led in the upturn, although most of the buying was based on the crop news. The lower cables from Liverpool, spot wheat being unchanged to 2d lower, with the reports of liberal supplies and political news of a bearish character from Turkey, caused selling early with the lowest prices of the day right after the opening. Later commission houses absorbed the offerings on all setbacks.

Local shorts were forced to cover. Ware-Leland, Perry-Price, J. Rosenbaum, Cutten, and Raymond-Pynchon were good buyers. Bartlett-Frazier sold July on the rally. On the extreme advance there was considerable realizing.

Crop Advices Main Influence.

The crop news was by far the most potent influence of the day, damage claims coming from a much wider area. In Missouri the outlook is bad, according to most reports, and dry weather is causing concern in western Kansas. Most of the complaints so far are from the red wheat sections, and the claims from Illinois and Indiana are of a sensational character. Le Count continues to find excellent conditions in the southwest, and it is the opinion of many traders that it is still too early to judge whether there has been much damage or not.

Generally the weather is still cold in the northwest. Fear of delayed seeding is increasing, and it is admitted that conditions will have to be unusually good if the acreage this year is to be anywhere near as large as last. This is particularly true in Canada.

Political News Bearish.

Foreign markets reflected the political news, which indicated that Turkey soon would be forced to ask for a separate peace. Economy in consumption abroad is a big factor, and even in France supplies are increasing. In the United Kingdom a large percentage of the crop still is unsold. Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at 2,800,000 bu, against 5,124,000 bu a year ago. Weather conditions in both Australia and Argentina were favorable.

Receipts here were 166 cars, with primary arrivals of 1,180,000 bu, against 656,000 bu a year ago. Northwest receipts were 335 cars; last year, 177 cars. Winnipeg had 841 cars, compared to 123 cars a year ago. Clearances for the day were liberal at 1,865,000 bu. Minneapolis wheat stocks showed a decrease of 230,000 bu for five days.

Corn Meets Free Selling.

Offerings of corn were liberal for a small market all through the day, and the demand indicated little anxiety on the part of the shorts. Prices were ¼c to ⅜@½c lower. Cash prices were steady to ¼c lower, and the shipping demand was only fair, with sales of 125,000 bu. The country reports indicated a dwindling movement.

Cables were ¼@1d lower. Weather conditions were seasonable over the greater part of the belt. Receipts here were 209 cars, with primary receipts of 764,000 bu, against 422,000 bu a year ago. Clearances were small at 8,000 bu. Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at 850,000 bu, compared to 1,542,000 bu a year ago.

Armour Leads Oats Buying.

Armour and commission houses were buyers of oats and the market was firm during the gerater part of the day. Net gains for the day were ¼@⅜c for the May. The July was a shade lower. Cash houses took quite a few oats. On the advances commission houses were sellers. Cash prices were ¼@½c higher, and there were sales of 60,000 bu.

Baltimore was reported in the market. The seaboard reports, however, did not indicate much demand. Receipts were 97 cars and primary points had a total of 475,000 bu, compared to 615,000 bu a year ago. Clearances were 7,000 bu.

With the exception of lard prices provisions were a little lower yesterday, the advances running into considerable realizing. Early prices were affected by the easier tone at the yards, hogs being steady to 5c off, with receipts of 32,000 and the estimate for today was 20,000. Western receipts were 106,500, compared to 56,200 a year ago.

The cash demand was reported fair for domestic account and light for export. Meats at Liverpool were unchanged. Cash lard was 6d up. Receipts of products were 31 cars and shipments were 119 cars.

Rye Values Are Higher.

Rye was 1c higher, with No. 2 selling at 93c. Receipts were 3 cars.

Barley was quiet and easy. Malting was quoted at 71@78c, with sales at 72@77c; feed was quotable at 60@65c and sales at 63@64c; mixing was quoted at 65@68c, with sales at the same range, and screenings were quoted 50@62c and sold at 60@61c. Receipts were 29 cars.

Timothy seed was firm. March was quoted at $8.50 and cash lots at $4.50@7.80 nominally. Clover seed ruled firm, with cash lots $10.00@19.00 nominal.

Duluth flax closed 2¼c higher, with cash on track, May, and July at $2.29. Receipts were 3 cars. Minneapolis was 2¼c higher; cash on track, $2.29@2.32. Receipts, 21 cars. Winnipeg closed at 2¼@2¾c higher; May, $2.08½, and July, $2.10¼. Receipts, 18 cars.

HEARING IN SUIT TO FORCE SALE OF WESTERN PACIFIC.

San Francisco, Cal., March 16.—Arguments were begun today in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the action brought by the Equitable Trust company of New York to force Judge William C. Van Fleet of the United States District court to order a sale of the bankrupt Western Pacific railroad and to restrain him from naming as defendants in the foreclosure suit the Denver and Rio Grande railroad and the Missouri Pacific. The hearings will be continued tomorrow.

A charge that the Denver and Rio Grande railroad is behind the attempt to force an immediate sale of the road was made today by Garrett McEnerney, representing Judge Van Fleet, who was cited to show cause why his orders should not be annulled. On Feb. 21 he ordered the Denver and Rio Grande and the Missouri Pacific to become defendants in the foreclosure suit brought a year ago by the Equitable Trust company.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

An amendment to the rules will be submitted to a ballot vote of the association to determine whether the action of the direcors in passing a resoluion regulating the trading of members who are employés of other members will be incorporated into the rules or not. President J. P. Griffin issued the following statement: "Referring to the action of the directors on Tuesday, at which time they adopted a regulation defining the method under which employés of other members are privileged to make contracts for their own account: Owing the wide divergence of opinion among the membership as to the wisdom of this regulation, and especially in view of the fact that so many members are of the opinion that the regulation is an infringement of the rights of the membership, the officers of the board will at the next meeting prepare and submit for a ballot vote of the association an amendment to the rules, providing, in substance, for the same requirement as incorporated in the regulation. This action is taken by the officers of the board, firm in the belief that the regulation is in the best interests of this association."

Crop damage reports were numerous again yesterday. W. P. Anderson had a Kansas City message saying many bad reports were coming from the soft wheat sections of Kansas and Missouri. Some o. the Nebraska counties are beginning to send in damage reports. Perrine's report from Missouri and Illinois claimed damage of 40 to 60 per cent. There were also many bad reports from Indiana and Ohio. John Barrett had reports from the southwest, claiming the weather had been too dry in sections. Reports to Clement-Curtis show a loss of 23 per cent from winter killing in Ohio, Illinois, and Indiana. Thomson-McKinnon had a report from Kansas City saying southwest Missouri would have the worst crop failure in years. Advices to that firm from seven scattered points in Missouri showed an acreage reduction of 25 per cent. On the other hand, Le Count continues to send bearish advices from Kansas, wiring Barrell from Linsley, Kas., that wheat was as good as he had ever seen it at this time of the year.

One result of the discussion brought about by the passage of the resolution by the directors making it against the rules of the exchange for a member who is an employé of another member to trade with other members without the consent of his employer, was to encourage the movement to place all brokers on a brokerage basis. A petition was circulated yesterday asking that an amendment be posted for ballot putting brokers who filled orders in the pit all on a brokerage basis. There has been considerable talk of doing this for some time, but sentiment in favor of it was undoubtedly crystallized by the action of the directors.

Jules H. Zorn has been appointed floor manager for the Western Union on the board of trade.

Futures showed strength yesterday in the face of reports of a poor export demand. The offerings from the country were not heavy here, and it is understood the bulk of the wheat owned at Chicago as well as the biggest part of the grain in transit has already been sold. However, the seaboard wired that bids from the other side were few and out of line. On the other hand, local brokers said they could place all the wheat east they could get moved out. Local sales were only 15,000 bu, so far as reported.

Cash prices for corn were a little firmer relatively than the futures yesterday, but trade was generally slow. Louisville was reported buying No. 3 corn on quite a fair scale at some downtown points. The eastern demand was limited and the rail situation is still in bad shape. Cash prices were steady to ¼c offff, and oat prices were ¼@½c up. Cash sales were 125,000 bu corn and 60,000 bu oats.

◆

According to the report of the Frisco road, wheat outlook in western Oklahoma is good, but decidedly poor in the eastern part of the state. In northeast Oklahoma, southeast Kansas, and southwest Missouri late sown wheat suffered severely from ice covering over the fields. The report said the oat acreage would be materially smaller than a year ago.

◆

A cable from Rome stating that the Turkish government would be asking for peace inside of a month caused some early selling. It was said there was a great scarcity of food in Turkey and that the absence of an adequate supply would be the principal influence for peace.

◆

Local oat shippers are not agreed as to the amount sold for shipment from here. One dealer says that not more than 1,000,000 bu of the entire stock is sold and that he has oats now loaded that he cannot sell at a profit.

◆

Argentine shipments for the week were estimated at 2,800,000 bu wheat and 850,000 bu corn. Last year actual shipments were 5,128,000 bu wheat and 1,542,000 bu corn.

Receipts inspected yesterday: Wheat, 166 cars; corn, 209 cars; oats, 97 cars; rye, 3 cars, and barley, 29 cars. Hogs estimated for today, 20,000 head.

◆

Reports in regard to shipping conditions at the seaboard said freights were freely offered, but that the supply of boats was still limited.

◆

◆

Reports from the northern sections of the corn belt indicate a big decrease in the corn acreage on account of the high prices for seed corn.

Miner Thomas Ames has made application for membership on the board of trade.

With fresh receipts of 31,000 head and a generous leftover supply, the hog market at Chicago yesterday continued to slide downward and prices showed further losses of 5@10c from Wednesday's average. The trade was only moderately active at the decline and about 6,000 hogs were carried over unsold. Top sales were made at $9.80 and the bulk at $9.50@9.75. Shippers were credited with purchases of 7,000 head, while packers took 28,600, including some received direct from an outside point.

The cattle trade was quiet and prices showed little change. Receipts were posted at 5,500 head. These included a few loads of good fat steers, the best of which sold at $9.65 for full loads and $9.75 for a few assorted animals. Cows and heifers sold mostly 10c lower, while calves held steady.

Mutton Values Are Uneven.

The market for sheep and lambs was uneven. Buyers did not want to pay the prices and succeeded in filling orders for cheap stock at a decline, but there were no instances where concessions had to be made to dispose of prime fat, lightweight animals. Lambs topped at $11.40, while yearlings sold up to $10.35 and fancy fat ewes reached $8.50.

IN BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., March 16.—[Special.]—Opening prices of stocks were firm and Wall street buoyancy was reflected here. American Zinc, which has been a feature for several days, was in demand and ran up to $1 before noon. As trading progressed the coppers became irregular, and while some gained others sagged. Traders were active in the copper shares that were passed around the room. Best opinion is that strength of copper metal will mean higher prices for the stocks. Closing prices:

U.S. STEEL REPORT SHOWS BIG BOOM IN THE INDUSTRY

New York, March 16.—The annual report of the United States Steel corporation, covering operations for 1915, was issued today, and disclosed with much detail the remarkable recovery of the steel and iron industry from its low state of the preceding year and the first quarter of 1915 to the highest level of activity and prosperity ever known.

One of the most impressive features of the report is the item recording the corporation's total volume of business at $486,352,054, against $380,228,143 in 1914. This increase of $106,123,911 represents a gain of 27.9 per cent. Of the total amount gained, domestic business showed an increase of 15.9 per cent and export business 122.4 per cent.

Earnings of $140,250,066 show an increase of $58,503,548 over 1914, and balance of earnings, less interest on outstanding bonds and mortgages of subsidiary companies, is increased $53,[illegible]396.

Net income of $97,967,962 is a gain of $51,447,555, and the balance, after interest payments on all classes of outstanding bonds, is greater by $52,337,064. Surplus net income amounting to $44,260,374 replaces a deficit in the previous year of $16,971,984, an actual gain of $61,232,358.

Total undivided surplus on Dec. 31, 1915, exclusive of profits earned by subsidiary companies on intercompany sales, aggregated $180,025,320, against $135,204,171 in 1914. Ordinary maintenance, renewals, and extraordinary replacements amounted to $43,366,643, or about $2,000,000 less than in the preceding year.

Iron ore mined in 1915 totaled 23,809,[illegible] tons, an increase of 38.53 per cent; coke manufacture aggregated 11,173,[illegible] tons, an increase of 29.77 per cent; blast furnace production increased from 10,0[illegible] to 13,641,508 tons, and steel ingots from 11,826,476 to 16,376,492 tons.

Harrington Purged of Contempt.

John J. Harrington, an official of the Celtic-American Societies of Illinois, was purged of contempt by Judge Foell yesterday. The judge had cited Harrington to appear for violating an injunction obtained by the United Celtic-American Societies of Chicago restraining Harrington's organization from advertising a dance and reception to be given St. Patrick's day in the Coliseum annex.

YOU'RE BILIOUS! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS TONIGHT

Enjoy life! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive, and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced? You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and calomel. They act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a cathartic. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time—they act thoroughly and are harmless.—Advertisement.

HEALS SKIN DISEASES

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar skin troubles. A little zemo, obtained at any drug store for 25c, or extra large bottle at $1.00, will usually give instant relief from itching torture. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases. Zemo is a wonderful disappearing liquid and does not smart the most delicate skin. It is not greasy, is easily applied and costs little. Get it today and save all further distress.—Advertisement. Zemo, Cleveland.

TRACTION LINES' GROSS EARNINGS SHOW DECREASE

The City Railway out of its share of the profits did not earn the dividend of 8 per cent which it paid on the company's $18,136,122 capital stock. The earnings applicable to the issue were 7.79 per cent, and after all deductions the company had to resort to its surplus so that the deficit for the year was $47,496. The report of the Chicago Railways company will not be issued for several weeks.

Traffic on the lines, which are all under the Chicago Surface lines, amounted to 621,287,580 pay passengers, compared with 625,984,020 pay passengers in 1914. Traffic increased in the latter part of 1915, but the first six months of business was relatively poor.

President Busby's Remarks.

In the annual report of the Chicago surface lines, which also embraces the City Railway report, Leonard A. Busby, president of the City Railway, says:

"Gross earnings of the Chicago surface lines amounted to $31,690,761, expenses $21,041,356, or 66.4 per cent of the gross, leaving residue receipts of $10,649,405, divisible 59 per cent, or $6,283,149 to the Chicago Railways company, and 41 per cent, or $4,366,256, to the south side lines—namely: the Chicago City Railway company, the Southern Street Railway company, and the Calumet and South Chicago Railway company.

"The surface lines' operating expenditures were increased $1,152,080, due largely to the wage increase which became effective June 1, 1915, the balance covering heavier expenditures for maintenance of track, roadway, equipment, and increase in taxes.

"Your property has produced a net income of $1,413,539 after payment of all operating expenses and bond interest. Four quarterly dividends have been paid aggregating 8 per cent on the $18,000,000 capital stock of the company, leaving a surplus at the end of the year of $136,122. The reduction in dividend from 9 per cent last year is due to the wage increase above mentioned.

"Our gross receipts showed a heavy decline for the first eight months of the fiscal year and amounted to $695,752 by Sept. 30, 1915, including the loss in receipts from a two days' strike. Beginning with October, our gross receipts showed a slight increase, and for the remaining months of the year an increase of about 5 per cent, which resulted in closing the year with a decrease in gross of $275,286.

"During the year the company built 4.04 miles of single track and reconstructed 14.93 miles of single track—total mileage of the company 317.04 miles."

NEWS OF THE FINANCIAL WORLD

Davis Daly stock has shown a small advance, presumably in sympathy with the general market. These shares have a par value of $10 each, and were quoted yesterday at $2 bid and $2.50 asked. This compares with prices under $2 a few weeks ago. The property is a small one, with an issued capital of $6,700,000. The quarterly statement for Dec. 31, 1915, showed receipts of $73,092, and expenditures of $69,627, leaving net $3,465. The company has spent some money enlarging its mine, and purchased a new engine, to buy which $50,000 was borrowed. Since last August the company has borrowed no money and reports cash on hand of $5,000, and bills receivable of $20,000. But it was only last January that the managers of the property decided the mine could be made to pay.

Reappraisal of the properties of the Mexican Petroleum company, following the bringing in of the well whose production is variously estimated around 250,000 barrels a day, places the value of the company at $294,321,000. The estimate is made by I. C. White, state geologist of West Virginia, and is submitted in a report to the bankers who are financing the new $150,000,000 Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company, which organization will include, among other properties, the Mexican Petroleum.

Concerning the copper market, it was said that foreign stocks were showing decreases as of March 1 and that such decreases were larger than anticipated. Good domestic buying for July delivery is reported, and consumers are still contracting for copper to the end of 1916. Quotations of the leading producers are maintained at 28½@29 cents, nearby and spot, and 27½ cents for June and forward deliveries.

It is the impression in Wall street that the regular dividend of 1½ per cent will be declared by directors of the Westinghouse Electric company at the meeting next Wednesday. There has been talk of an extra disbursement on the common shares, but it is said that large payments on the company's Russian rifle contract are still to be made and not until later in the year will an extra dividend be considered.

New York and Chicago banking houses are reported to be organizing a syndicate to purchase a $75,000,000 government loan of the Dominion of Canada, subject to legislative approval by the Canadian government. The loan will be a serial one, running five, ten, and fifteen years, and bear 5 per cent interest.

It is announced the committee of refunding bondholders of the Rock Island will oppose the issue of receiver's certificates to pay the interest on their own bonds, on the grounds that the certificates will be placed ahead of the bonds. Such an attitude would suggest foreclosure proceedings.

Announcement is made that a duplicate contract, amounting to $10,000,000, for shells recently has been received, under which the Westinghouse Electric company will get $2,500,000 of the order, the American Locomotive company the same amount, and the New York Air Brake company $5,000,000.

The regular business of the Allis-Chalmers company is reported to be steadily improving in all branches and the outlook promising. The contract for machining shells for the Bethlehem Steel corporation runs well into next year, and additional business of this kind is not being sought by the company.

It is now thought that Kennecott Copper stocks will be placed on a $6 a share basis about the middle of the year. The company is reported to have on hand $30,000,000 cash and copper, including the concern's equity in Utah Copper. All the copper on hand has been sold.

Directors of the Lackawanna Steel company are scheduled to meet in April, and it is thought in Wall street that dividends will be inaugurated at the rate of at least 6 per cent. It may be 1 per cent higher. Current quotations for the stock indicate dividend action at an early date.

Stockholders of the Tidewater Oil company voted to increase the authorized capital from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000, and to give the directors authority to offer such portion of the increase as they may deem advisable, pro rata at par to stockholders.

Some improvement was reported in the spelter market at New York by leading dealers, who are generally quoting 16 cents a pound for prime western brands for late March delivery, compared with 16@16¼ cents on Tuesday.

Lee, Higginson & Co., and other members of the syndicate which took $25,786,000 bonds of the Midvale Steel and Ordnance company, announce that the securities purchased have all been sold and the syndicate closed.

Estimates of the United States Steel earnings for the second quarter, to end June 30, are running as high as $75,000,000. The corporation, it is declared, has little available capacity left for the remainder of the year.

A general advance of $5 per ton in tin plate has been made, bringing the price to $4.25 per box for domestic delivery.

U. S. TREASURY STATEMENT.

Assets Realization Reorganization.

The reorganization plan of the Assets Realization company calls for the formation of a new concern to be known as the Trading and Finance corporation, with a capitalization of $2,000,000 7 per cent preferred stock and $2,500,000 common stock. The shares have been underwritten by William Morris Imbrie & Co. Present Assets Realization shareholders will be given until March 25 to subscribe for the new stock.

The company reported a loss the last fiscal year of $1,383,038, making a total deficit of $4,238,079. The directorate has been reduced from fifteen to five members, and the following elected: Henry A. Johnston, Charles A. Marshall, Arthur Pforzheimer, John Story Jenks, and Christian C. Febiger.

Chicago Securities.

Chicago Pneumatic Tool rose from 70½, the previous day's close, to 79 and reacted to 77½, the final quotation. The buying was credited to eastern origin. It had some of the appearance of the resumption of pool activity.

American Shipbuilding common again sold off, declining to 46½. The last quotation was ¼ better. Peoples Gas, Commonwealth Edison, and Stewart-Warner common were steady.

Money and Exchange.

Money rates in Chicago steady at 3½@4 per cent on collateral, 3@4 per cent on commercial paper, and 4@4½ per cent over the counter. New York exchange sold at 15@20c discount. Chicago bank clearings were $65,025,575.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, March 16.—The stock market was quietly cheerful today. Most of the trading was in Russian securities, although Argentine rails received attention on favorable crop news. Kaffirs and rubber shares drooped, but gilt edged securities were steady. American securities were brighter, the strength in Wall street helping a moderate advance, but business remained quiet. Money was in better demand for investment in short dated treasury bills. The strength of Paris exchange on London is causing comment in the market, where it is strongly hinted that gold should be released to bring the rate down to a more normal level.

Bar silver, 27⅛d per ounce. Money, 4@4½ per cent. Discount rates, short bills, 5⅛ per cent; three months, 5⅛ per cent.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve decreased £758,000; circulation decreased £193,000; bullion decreased £95,634; other securities decreased £747,000; other deposits decreased £1,759,000; public deposits increased £229,000; notes reserve decreased £683,000. Government securities unchanged. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 27.53 per cent; last week it was 27.76 per cent. Rate of discount, 5 per cent.

PARIS, March 16.—Prices were firm on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 61fr 95c, ex-coupon. Exchange on London, 28fr, 48c.

The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes: Gold in hand increased 4,199,000 francs; silver in hand increased 1,487,000; notes in circulation increased 70,050,000; treasury deposits decreased 13,665,000; general deposits increased 12,458,000; bills discounted decreased 15,912,000; advances increased 185,000.

COFFEE AND SUGAR.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The market for coffee futures was much less active today and after some hesitation or irregularity prices broke rather sharply under realizing, which seemed to come chiefly from Wall street and cotton exchange sources. The market opened at an advance of one point and ruled about unchanged to 2 points higher during the earlier trading. The break carried July contracts off from 8.36c to 8.24c, and September from 8.41c to 8.29c, with the market closing at a net loss of 9@12 points. Sales, 17,250 bags; March, 8.04c; April, 8.09c; May, 8.14c; June, 8.18c; July, 8.23c; August, 8.26c; September, 8.29c; October, 8.32c; November, 8.35c; December, 8.39c; January, 8.38c; February, 8.47c. Spot coffee steady; Rio 7s, 9⅝c; Santos 4s, 10½c. Cost and freight offers were slow in coming in, but the quotations received here were about unchanged at 10.45@10.60c for Santos 4s, London credits. Rather a better demand was reported in jobbing circles. The official cables showed an advance of 1-32d in the rate of Rio exchange on London. The Rio market was 75 reis higher and Santos was unchanged. Receipts at the two Brazilian ports were 20,000 bags; Jundiahy receipts, 8,000 bags. SUGAR—Raw closed at 5.89c for centrifugal, 5.12c for molasses, and 4⅝c for Cubas, cost and freight, with holders asking 5c. Refined higher on the basis of 6.90c for fine granulated. Futures: May sold from 4.86@4.95c, closing 4.94c; July, 4.92@5.01c, closing 5.00c; September, 4.99@5.07c, closing 5.06c; October, 5.01@5.05c, closing 5.06c.

CHICAGO, March 16.—SUGAR—The following prices are quoted by wholesale dealers for 100 lbs: Cut loaf, H. & E., $8.25; powdered, standard, $7.10; standard cane granulated, $7.00; beet granulated, $6.90; extra C, $6.75; canary, $6.40.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Cotton goods markets were quiet today, advances having been made in some lines, [illegible] cloths, and cambrics. Japan grade of raw silk [illegible] of the week.

The twenty stocks are: Anaconda Copper, American Car and Foundry, American Smelting, American Telephone, Atchison, Baltimore and Ohio, Brooklyn Rapid Transit, Chesapeake and Ohio, Erie, Great Northern preferred, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Reading, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, St. Paul, American Sugar, Union Pacific, and United States Steel.

Total sales of stock, 965,000 shares.

MANIPULATION A FEATURE.

New York, March 16.—Manipulation was a more obvious feature of today's irregular market, various specialties being lashed into furious activity at times, while standard stocks were barely steady or backward. United States Steel led the erratic movement, advancing a point to 87¼, its best quotation for the present period, but receding later in common with other prominent issues.

Crucible Steel was second to United States Steel in point of activity, but extremely feverish, rising 6 to 99½, and falling back 3, closing at 96⅝. Other conspicuous features included American Can, Westinghouse, Kennecott, and Inspiration coppers, Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin Locomotive, American Smelting, and Reading, all showing gains at various times, but forfeiting much or all of their advantage in the uncertain and confused dealings in the final hour.

Rails Mostly Negligible.

Rails in general were a negligible factor, aside from Canadian Pacific, which fell 3 points to 165½ soon after announcement of the loan by our bankers to the dominion of Canada, but retrieving some of this later. Reading and Western Maryland were active and strong at the outset in connection with yesterday's rumors of Rockefeller buying of the first named shares, but failed to hold.

Motors, sugars, and Mexicans were in the forefront at intervals, all at substantial advances, but these for the most part felt the force of moderate pressure. Three new records were scored, American Zinc rising 3 to 91, South Porto Rico Sugar 3 to 188, and Inspiration 1 to 49¼. Bethlehem Steel, after making a small loss at the opening, ended with a net advance of 11½ to 529.

Bonds were irregular, speculative issues showing some heaviness. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Mercantile paper, 3@3½. Sterling, 60 day bills, 4.72½; demand, 4.76 5-16; cables, 4.77. Francs, demand, 596; cables, 595¼. Marks, demand, 72; cables, 72 1-16. Kronen, demand, 12⅜; cables, 13. American Steel Foundries.

R. L. J.—The American Steel Foundries company's plants are all running at full capacity on railroad orders, promising earnings in 1916 equal to the best previous year, or over $3,000,000. Last year its railway business was extremely poor till the last three months, but it had an $18,000,000 order for shrapnel, which began to yield profits before the end of the year. The annual report has not been issued yet, but it is expected to show a deficit. The report for the first nine months showed a deficit of $480,127 after charges and depreciation. The last quarter probably will show profits of over $300,000. There is $17,184,000 of stock, all of one class, and a bonded debt of $4,519,100. No dividends have been paid since December, 1914, nor is any distribution expected before midsummer at the earliest.

Diamond Match.

G. E. and R. R. G.—The Diamond Match company has outstanding $16,973,100 of capital stock on which 6 per cent a year is paid in quarterly installments of 1½ per cent each, and 1 per cent extra. The debentures formerly outstanding have all been retired or converted into stock. Earnings equaled 10⅝ per cent on stock in 1912, 8½ in 1913, 7.1 in 1914. The report for 1915 has not been issued, but it is certain to make a better showing than that of 1914. With $1,300 you could buy twelve shares at the present market price. It would yield $84 a year as long as the present dividend rate continues. The stock is not a conservative investment.

North Shore Gas.

R. C. J.—The North Shore Gas company supplies gas to a population of 47,000, extending from Winnetka to Waukegan. Its $3,000,000 of stock is all owned by the Chicago Suburban Gas and Electric company and it has outstanding $1,750,000 first mortgage bonds and $400,000 debentures, according to the last available report, that of June 30, 1914. Net earnings in the preceding year were $160,458, which was enough to cover fixed charges. Dividends amounting to $88,000 were paid, leaving a deficit for the year of $57,581. After that date dividends were stopped. Last fall earnings were said to be showing a good increase and there was talk of resuming dividends at some time this year. The report for 1915 will be available soon, according to officials of the company.

American Hide and Leather.

J. W. G., Quincy, Ill.—The American Hide and Leather company made the best earnings in its history in the last half of 1915. It showed a profit of $908,447, or at the rate of almost 14 per cent a year on its $13,000,000 of preferred stock. This compares with $468,692 for the corresponding period of 1914. The sinking fund is reducing the bonded debt steadily. On Dec. 31 $4,560,000 of bonds were outstanding out of the original issue of $10,000,000. These bonds mature in 1919 and the sinking fund will have reduced the total debt to a little over $3,000,000 at that time. There are 111¼ per cent of accumulated preferred dividends unpaid.

Brief Answers.

R. C. D.—Templeton, Kenly & Co. is a close corporation. It pays 8 per cent a year on its $25,000 of preferred stock, but does not plan to start dividends on common till the present surplus of $45,000 has been doubled. It manufactures principally track jacks and has recently been making jacks for use on automobiles.

W. L. J.—Interest has been paid to date on the timber bonds you ask about, but neither issue would be called a conservative investment at present.

J. V. FARWELL CO. REVIEW.

The John V. Farwell company weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade says:

"Wholesale dry goods and general merchandise orders, both for immediate and future delivery, continue to show substantial increases over previous seasons. The situation, however, from the standpoint of the manufacturers and foreign exporters, in many cases shows a seriously chaotic condition owing to shipping restrictions, labor difficulties, and inability to secure accessories necessary to the finishing of their products.

"Manufacturers of wool dress goods are sold up to September and October in many lines and taking only conditional orders for fall at value. Canadian buyers in the market stated that they would be obliged to look to American market for many lines formerly imported from Europe. Early sales of comfortables for fall delivery are far ahead of last two years. There is a noticeably increased demand for tan hosiery."

Bondholders' Protective Committee

Holders of the above security, upon which interest due January 1st, 1916, was deferred, are advised that the undersigned, each of whom is an owner of bonds, or a direct representative of large holdings thereof, have been requested by bondholders to act as a committee for the protection of the interests of the bondholders.

An Agreement has been prepared by the committee which provides for election of additional members in order that representative interests may be added, if and when desirable.

A substantial amount of the bonds have already been deposited with the Security Trust Company of Detroit, Michigan, Depositary, and in the interests of prompt action it is urged that bondholders forward their securities to the Depositary, who will issue a certificate of deposit therefor.

Copy of Protective Agreement may be obtained from the Secretary of the committee.

Western Pacific Railway Company
REORGANIZATION

To the Depositors under the Plan and Agreement for Reorganization of Western Pacific Railway Company, dated December 15, 1915, and the holders of undeposited First Mortgage Five Per Cent. Thirty-Year Gold Bonds of said Company.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Reorganization Committee constituted under said Plan and Agreement for Reorganization did on the 13th day of March, 1916, duly declare said Plan and Agreement operative.

NOTICE IS ALSO HEREBY GIVEN that said Reorganization Committee, with the consent of the Managers of the Underwriting Syndicate provided for in said Plan, have extended the time for the deposit under said Plan and Agreement of bonds of said issue, and for the filing of the agreements of subscription for New Bonds to be issued pursuant to said Plan, to and including APRIL 15, 1916. Such deposits should be made and Subscription Agreements filed with the Depositary of the Reorganization Committee, THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 37 Wall Street, New York City (or at its London Branch, 95 Gresham Street, E. C.), or with any one of its Agents, viz.: First Federal Trust Company, 1 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, Cal.; Old Colony Trust Company, 17 Court Street, Boston, Mass.; and Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, 223 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Ill., as the bondholder or depositor may prefer. Copies of the Plan and Agreement and of explanatory circulars referring thereto may be obtained from said Depositary or any one of its said Agents.

BY ORDER OF THE COMMITTEE.

LYMAN RHOADES, Secretary.
Dated March 14, 1916.
ALVIN W. KRECH, Chairman.

BRING IDEAS OR KICKS TO FRONT OFFICE—RIPLEY

The unorganized 60 per cent of railroad employés are having their day. There have already been some fat increases, the word is being passed around that more are coming. The railroads have been wallowing in prosperity again and, in consequence, office men, station agents, and track men, though they are unacquainted with collective bargaining, believe they are entering another period of general wage increases.

The Santa Fe has advanced the wages of 8,000 more employés 10 per cent. Altogether 12,000 employés have been benefited. Machinists, station men, and the section foremen are the latest employés to receive advances. Wages in the traffic and freight departments, it is said, might also be raised.

Ripley's Invitation.

Coincident with the announcement, a letter written by President Ripley in reply to an appeal from a clerk who complained that the unorganized men can get no more money for long service because the "job does not pay any more," or because the department head would get "sore" if a direct appeal was made to the president, was made public. President Ripley, who rose from the ranks himself, writes:

> It should be recognized that one of the principles of good government in a railway, as well as in any organization, is close coöperation and harmony between each member and the one directly over him.
>
> Every employé should, therefore, feel free to take up and discuss with his superior any ideas that may occur to him covering the betterment of the service. It is, however, known to the management that human nature is weak, and hence some officers resent suggestions or discussions with those under them.

Over the Signature.

> To meet such cases I am willing to give consideration to suggestions given by any employé over the signature. I should be sorry to think, however, that any officer would show hostile feeling in case of an appeal from a decision by himself. All employés should have the right of appeal.

Prepare Lecture by Capt. Reilly.

Capt. Henry J. Reilly, military critic of "The Tribune," will lecture on "Preparedness" before Maywood camp No. 74 of the United Spanish War Veterans on Monday evening, March 27, in the Maywood library hall.

To any and all persons, firms, [illegible] and corporations having any claim [illegible] of any kind or nature against International Typesetting Machine Company, or [illegible] the property owned by it, except [illegible] the first mortgage six per cent gold [illegible] of said company:

Please take notice that the following [illegible] copy of an order in the above entitled [illegible] duly signed, filed and entered in the [illegible] the Clerk of the United States District Court [illegible] the Southern District of New York on February 28, 1916.

Dated, New York, February 29, 1916.
Yours, &c.,
O'BRIEN, BOARDMAN & PLATT,
Solicitors for Erskine Hewitt, [illegible] of the International Typesetting [illegible]chine Company.

"Now, on this 28th day of February, [illegible] this cause coming on further to be heard [illegible] the petition of Erskine Hewitt, Esq., as Receiver of the property and assets of the International Typesetting Machine Company heretofore appointed in this cause, [illegible] that an order be entered respecting [illegible] claims against said company, and the International Typesetting Machine Company, [illegible]ant in said cause, said Guaranty Trust Company of New York as complainant in said consolidated cause, International [illegible] Corporation and Central Trust & Savings Company as complainants in one of the [illegible] consolidated under the above title, [illegible] Cooper and Livingston Platt, purchasers of the property of the defendant corporation, and said Erskine Hewitt, as Receiver, having appeared upon the hearing of said petition and application by their respective solicitors, and having consented thereto, and the Court being further advised in the premises, and deliberation having been had thereon, [illegible] motion of the solicitors for the said Receiver, it is "Ordered, adjudged and decreed that [illegible] all persons, firms, associations, and corporations, having any claim or claims of any kind or nature against said International Typesetting Machine Company or against the property owned by it, except holders of the First Mortgage Six Per Cent Gold Bonds, file statements of their respective claims with Harry B. Closson, Esq., who is hereby appointed Special Master in Chancery of this Court for the purposes of this order, and who was heretofore appointed Special Master of this Court for ascertaining and determining the principal and interest due upon said First Mortgage Six Per Cent. Bonds, at his office, No. [illegible] William street, New York City, on or before the 14th day of April, 1916, and on failing so to do all of said claimants not filing claims shall be forever barred from asserting any claim, right, title or interest in or to any of the property or assets of International Typesetting Machine Company in the possession of the Receiver appointed in this cause or in or to any other property or assets in the possession of the said receiver.

"It is further ordered that each claim so filed shall consist of a brief statement of all the items, nature and character of the claim, and that all statements of claim shall be verified by the oath of the person or by an officer of the corporation making such claim or by some person duly representing such claimant as to the justness and correctness of such claim.

"It is further ordered that said Erskine Hewitt, receiver herein, shall give notice hereof to all such claimants against said International Typesetting Machine Company by publication of a copy or summary of this order once in each week for three successive weeks in each of the following newspapers: New York Times, Chicago Tribune, New Orleans Times-Picayune and San Francisco Chronicle, and that he also give notice of this order by mailing a copy or summary thereof to the last known business address of each and every person, firm, association, and corporation appearing on the books of said company to have any claim against said Company or known to the said Receiver to make any claim of any sort against said Company or its property except the holders of its First Mortgage Six Per Cent Gold Bonds aforesaid.

"It is further ordered that said Special Master shall from time to time during the period herein fixed, file with this Court a full list of all claims filed to which no objections have been made, and also a list of any claims pending before said Master to which objections have been filed, together with the objections so filed.

"It is further ordered that said Special Master shall whenever any objections shall be filed to any claim so filed with the said Master, proceed, upon reasonable notice to the claimant and to the person or persons making such objections and to the solicitors of record in this cause, to take such evidence as may be offered in support of any such claims or may be offered in opposition thereto and to report such evidence with his conclusions of law and fact to this Court with reasonable dispatch.

"The Court reserves full power and jurisdiction as to any claimant who may not have received actual notice of the entry of this order or who may not have actual knowledge thereof prior to the expiration of such period, and who may show other good cause for an extension of time within which to file claims, and this Court further reserves jurisdiction to make any further order in the premises as may seem meet and proper.

Our famous "fourth floor" thronged this "spring opening week" with misses and their mothers enthusiastically appreciative of the modes of distinction and refinement that are here in such interesting profusion.

The suits at 27.50 are of copenhagen, tan or navy serge, or black-and-white checks, they are patterned after the smartest of late, imported models, and becoming alike to misses and to women petite of figure; one of two handsome models here illustrated.

Misses' afternoon silk frocks, $25

First Floor

"To do some things better than they were ever done before; to anticipate requirements; to develop resources"—being part of the creed of this organization, it was but natural that we should set ourselves to the task of producing "better Hats for Men." Our advantages in constructive merchandising have been employed to their fullest in the production of these Hats. They are the result of months of careful planning. No other Hats selling at these prices cost so much to produce.

$5.00, $6.00, $8.00, $10.00

$12,000 for Postage Alone

If you should send one letter to 600,000 prospects it would cost you $12,000 for postage alone, to say nothing of the cost of the letter itself.

And yet for just one dollar and eighty cents you can place your proposition, in the most favorable light and under the most advantageous conditions, before the people in over 600,000 homes—by means of a 5-line "Want Ad" in next Sunday's Tribune. There's never been so cheap a way in all the world to get before great masses of the people and tell them what you have to sell or what service you can give.

For $3.60 you can run a 10-line ad—for $10.80 you can run a 30-line ad—and you can USE A WHOLE COLUMN, containing eighteen hundred words, for less than a HUNDREDTH PART of what the POSTAGE ALONE WOULD COST ON A SINGLE LETTER.

Not only that, but The Sunday Tribune goes to people who want the things you have to offer. It goes to people who want your automobile, who want that vacant room, who want that empty flat, who want your store or business, who want your services. Thousands are making money through these "Want Ads" every week—why don't you? Here are some of the things a Tribune "Want Ad" can do for you:

Sell Your Household Goods
Sell Your Automobile
Rent Your Vacant Rooms
